

WILSON AND BRYAN MEET AND SHAKE

First Time They Have Seen Each Other in Months—Both Pass Through Pittsburgh.

SPEAK BUT A MOMENT

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 20.—President Wilson and W. J. Bryan, former secretary of state, met here today for the first time in months. The president stopped in Pittsburgh for an hour and a half on the way from Chicago to Long Branch, N. J., and Mr. Bryan came here on the way to speak at Johnstown, Pa.

As soon as the president arrived at the station the former secretary of state boarded Mr. Wilson's private car and the two men shook hands. A crowd outside the car witnessed the greeting. The men spoke together only a moment or two and then left the car.

The appearance of Mr. Bryan caused a five minutes' delay in an automobile tour of Pittsburgh arranged for the president's party were waiting outside the station and President and Mrs. Wilson entered one of them. Mr. Bryan and Secretary Tumulty rode in another.

President Wilson was returning to the summer capital at Long Branch, N. J., highly satisfied with the reception awarded him in Chicago yesterday and last night. He is due to arrive at Shadow Lawn at midnight.

On the ride the president lost his hat and the automobile was stopped while a secret service man recovered it. A man, apparently a workman, with a bag of tools jumped on the running board of the automobile, but was knocked off by secret service men. The man chased the president's conveyance for a block before he was arrested by local detectives.

The prisoner gave the name of Richard Cullon, aged 22, a machinist of this city. On his way to the police station he told the police that he was not at all satisfied with President Wilson's conduct of the union war. In the bag he carried was a knife with a blade five inches long and a bottle of liquid the police are endeavoring to analyze. Also in the bag were several wood chisels. The prisoner is held by the police for observation.

ble English had fought their way and permitted those who followed, other English, Australian, South African and Canadians, to come and deal their blows.

More on Map Than on Ground. "Of La Boisselle there is more upon the map than on the ground. A few shattered trunks, here and there, a splintered beam, perhaps a cornucopia or two, some cellars roofed with wreckage; otherwise only the upheaval of tortured earth, mine craters, heaps of rotting white sandbags, half-choked trenches and a dreary litter of old wire, cans and human rubbish remain.

"On the left is the twin city of desolation. On the right, and between the two the white road runs beyond and mounts to the level of Pozieres. Pozieres shares the fate of La Boisselle. No hand could trace the outlines of a single house or garden plot. There are no bricks or beams which could be used in restoration. As a village Pozieres has disappeared.

"Just beyond Pozieres, and still below the summit, rises the line of trenches first occupied by the Canadians. These are in the midst of the ground which has most suffered. Here is the acme of destruction. No grain of surface remains undisturbed. There is no room for a fresh shell hole. Nowhere is the power of modern artillery or the thoroughness of preparation better exemplified.

Blast Way Forward. "We have literally blasted our way forward. Ruin appears not only in the devastated earth and the crushed houses, but also in the sadder waste of human life. That is all ground sacred to the memory of our dead. Also, in the scarcely defined trenches of the enemy, the German corpses lie thickly.

In regard to the situation in the air, the communicant says: "In this respect the British and French domination is almost absolute. Here all day long we watch our pilots circling above our heads. Closely they come and go with the speed and alertness of birds; far off they seem to hang suspended in the sky. Occasionally a flight of five or more planes, intent upon some special mission, go over high up and disappear into the distant mist. So rarely do the German machines appear that some men who have been here daily for a month have not seen a single one."

ECZEMA ITCHED AND BURNED CONSTANTLY

Used Resinol—Soon Entirely Cured

Mar. 10.—I had itching eczema for almost four years. My shoulders, neck, arms and just below the knees were affected. It was simply a constant itching, burning, smarting sensation. The part below my knees was frightful. It would itch so, and with the least scratching become so sore, I could hardly stand it to bend them. I could not possibly sit down because I would naturally have to bend my knees, and that I could not do. I could hardly do my housework. I had tried different soaps, ointments, salves, liniments, etc., all too numerous to mention—all to no avail. At last I learned of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and used them according to directions. That night was the first time in many that I slept in peace, and in a short time I was entirely cured." (Signed) Mrs. G. C. Silsby, Box 80, Rockville, N. Y.

All eczemas will Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. For samples, free, write to Dept. 5-6, Resinol, Baltimore.

Holds Agricultural Schools Do Not Produce Farmers

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 20.—"Agricultural colleges tend to make scientists instead of farmers and housewives," E. G. Peterson, president of the Utah Agricultural college at Logan, Utah, told the International Dry Farming congress here today.

"Agricultural colleges teach too much about chemistry and not enough about child rearing," President Peterson said. "We are making farming more scientific than practical. We have enmeshed the people in a web of educational plan and theory which must be loosened quickly or the people will arise and destroy what we have and build anew," the Utah educator added.

President Peterson told the congress of the course in mothercraft being taught at the Utah Agricultural college. He said the girls go out into the homes and care for babies under the supervision of the mothers and the mothers take their babies to the college, where each girl is given a baby to care for, feed, clothe and instruct.

The congress will close tomorrow evening with the election of officers, selection of the next convention city and appointment of committees.

Atkinson Cheered By Beatrice Voters

Beatrice, Neb., Oct. 20.—(Special Telegram.)—Before an enthusiastic crowd here today, Dent Atkinson talked to the employees of the Dempster factory. He flayed the democrats for their inane policies and urged the voters to line up for Hughes and Fairbanks, the ticket whose success means the restoration of American prestige abroad and the assurance of permanent prosperity here.

The speaker addressed a large crowd at republican headquarters, and predicted a decisive victory for the party in the state and nation.

Miss Martin Flays Demos Who Roughly Handled Hecklers

Reno, Nev., Oct. 20.—In a statement issued here today Miss Anna H. Martin, national chairman of the woman's party, condemned the action of the crowd in roughly handling women at Chicago last night while President Wilson was speaking.

"We are accused of being militant," said Miss Martin, "but our work for national political freedom has been carried on everywhere by peaceful, dignified and constitutional methods. The only militants are the democratic men who do not hesitate to malign us, attack us, to knock women down if need be, and to destroy our property in their efforts to oppose justice to women and our purpose to hold the democratic party responsible for its hostility to national suffrage for women."

"The recent attack upon the woman's party in Chicago emphasizes the necessity of speedily placing all the women of the country under the protection of the national constitution."

Lutheran Church Wants New Hymnal

Nels Lungreen of St. Paul, statistician of the Association of English Churches in the Augustana Synod, presented a report on the "children of non-members being counted as members." The decision was that, although baptized, they should not be counted. The report of the literature committee was read by Rev. C. A. Wendell of Minneapolis. He said that as 1917 marked the 400th anniversary of the beginning of the Lutheran reformation, the life of Luther should be widely read. "All heresies are spread through books and pamphlets, so why not use the same means to spread our own gospel," said the speaker.

Rev. Ephraim Cedar, called by the Pan-Lutheran Missionary board to start the work in Buenos Ayres, spoke on the inauguration of Lutheran activities in South America. He said that now is the time to advance the Christian religion, as all the South American republics have amended their constitutions repealing acts of intolerance, which have been in effect, prohibiting Protestant churches from carrying on their activities. Dissatisfaction was also expressed over the hymnal now in use. A resolution presented by Rev. C. A. Wendell was adopted in favor of publishing a new church book as soon as possible.

Army Colonels Made Brigadier Generals

Washington, Oct. 20.—Five brigadier generals, including those recently promoted from colonel, were assigned new commands today by direction of President Wilson.

French is given the command of the Eagle Pass district, Texas; General Eben Swift goes to Fort Leavenworth, as head of the service school there; General Frederick S. Two Hundred Gather at Lincoln Demo Meeting

Lincoln, Oct. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—The democrats of Lancaster county held their second big rally of the campaign tonight, when Judge Norton of Missouri spoke to less than 200 men and women. The meeting brought out a crowd of 100, with Congressman Hardy of Texas as the attraction two weeks ago. Judge Norton was introduced by Judge Arthur Wray of York, a progressive, who, like the judge when he found himself without a party, went over to the democrats.

Doing the Right Thing
Doing the right thing by others always pays. Rendering an honest service to the public brings back profits. And this is only another way of saying that "profits" are but by-products.

No store can create the by-product of profits unless it treats its customers right.

This business has been built on the solid foundation of giving customers what they want, when they want it, and at prices that will prompt them to want more.

And this is what we mean by saying, "Doing the right thing always pays."

There can be no permanence to any enterprise founded on falsehood. There can be no advantage in advertising anything that is not so. Whatever you read here is the truth, the whole, and nothing but real facts.

We employ this space to point out to you the very best offerings we have, and by encouraging you to buy these offerings, we cement a closer relation. It would be irrational to introduce anything in our advertising not acceptable to you—not the truth.

Over-description, over-advertising is a mistake. What we have to offer you is with the one commercial idea in view—of making you a permanent customer.
