CREIGHTON PLAYS DENVER SATURDAY

Strong Eleven From Prohibition City to Clash With the Local Favorites.

OMAHA HIGH BATTLES YORK

A stiff week of scrimmage, with three additional signal practices in the evening is the program Coach Tommy Mills had laid out for the Creighton warriors in preparation for the battle with Denver university on Creighton field next Saturday.

The Blue and White eleven returned from Dubuque none the worse for wear. None of the athletes were damaged in the combat and unless injuries occur during the weeks' practice, Mills will send his full strength against the prohibitionists. The Creighton warriors offer no alibi for the 6-to-6 tie with Dubuque; they admit they ran up against a stiffer proposition than they anticipated.

Some of the Creighton followers, however, believe the tie may prove a benefit, in that it will inspire the Blue and White athletes to greater deeds. While Denver has a strong team this year, and is coming to Omaha heralded as one of the best aggregations in the Rocky Mountain territory, the Creightonites are confident of victory. Denver walloped Colorado university last Saturday, which shows the class of the prohibs, but Mills' men have no fears and are determined to capture the scalp of the invaders.

Trolley Transfer Makes Trouble for Battling Nelson

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Oscar "Battling" Nelson, former pugilist, must appear in the Hyde Park court today. A street car conductor on the Cottage Grove avenue line last night said his transfer was worthless, according to charges lodged against Nelson. The pugilist said it wasn't, sat down and refused to get off the car.

Bellevue's Hospital Crew Getting in Shape

In an endeavor to get his team into shape for the game with Wayne at Wayne next Friday, Coach Benjamin of Bellevue tried several new combinations at practice yesterday afternoon. The combination of Shainholtz, Picotte and Racely in the backfield worked so well Friday that the three probably will be retained as the regular backs. Evans was tried out at quarter for practically the whole time last night and showed up well. When Johns is able to get out again he probably will go back to his old place at tackle, where Gustafson now is, Gus going to one of the guards.

Fifteen men were out last evening. Benjamin believes that his squad was on the road to victory when the game with Trinity was terminated by the fight and says that he believes Bellevue would have scored.

Crowd Threatens Man Whose Automobile Hit Little Girl

Quickness in making his getaway probably saved T. H. Tuma, salesman, living at 2222 North Nineteenth street, from rough handling by a crowd at Seventeenth and Howard streets last night, when his automobile struck 14-year-old Florence Stevens, 2458 South Nineteenth street. Witnesses declared that when the machine hit the little girl, an attempt was made to get away without picking her up.

In the car with Tuma was another man and a woman. Tuma was not driving the car, he said later, when arrested on a charge of reckless driving, but he was held nevertheless under a bond of $500.

He was released when bonds were forthcoming this morning.

VISITING PASTORS PREACH IN OMAHA

Ministers Attending Conventions Here Occupy Pulpits of Lutheran Churches.

JESUS' POWER IS DEFINED

Pulpits in English and Swedish Lutheran churches in Omaha were filled by ministers here in attendance on the conventions last week of the Lutheran Synod of Nebraska and the Association of English Churches in the Augustana Synod.

Rev. George Livers of Allen, Neb., preached at St. Mark's English Lutheran church, taking as his text the words of the Greeks who came up to Jerusalem and said to the apostles: "We would see Jesus."

"These Greeks," he said, "expected to see in Jesus merely a remarkable man. The Greeks of that day were a people of high culture and learning. They were far beyond the Jews."

Tells of Christ's Life. "The birth and life of the Savior are all the more remarkable because he was born of the humblest parentage, in a village scarcely known beyond its own borders. He was reared in a city that was intensely wicked. He lived his life in the midst of a vassal nation and his followers were men of the humblest origin. For many years it was considered a disgrace to be one of his followers and they were persecuted and hunted and killed.

"How different it is today! How the influence of the Christ has radiated upon all the earth and developed civilization!"

At Immanuel Church. At Immanuel church, Rev. J. W. Johnson of Rockford, Ill., preached in the morning and Rev. Daniel Fredeen of Fairport, Ia., in the evening.

At the First church in Benson, Rev. C. S. Powell of Oshkosh preached in the morning. Rev. Luther Kuhlman preached at Kountze Memorial church in the morning.

Andrews and Kenyon Will Talk in Platte

Columbus, Neb., Oct. 23.—(Special Telegram).—Ex-Congressman W. E. Andrews will address a political meeting in Orpheus hall here Wednesday night under the auspices of the republican committee. Arrangements have also been made for him to appear at Monroe Tuesday and an afternoon meeting at Platte Center Wednesday.

Senator W. S. Kenyon of Iowa will deliver an afternoon political address at Cresion Friday, October 27, and the same evening will speak at Humphrey. The latter place is one of Platte county's democratic strongholds, but indications are that a large crowd, anxious to hear both sides, will greet the orator.

Supreme Court Postpones Migratory Bird Law Case

Washington, Oct. 23.—Reargument of the case testing the constitutionality of the migratory bird law and the railway mail pay divisor case, investigating claims of 800 railroads against the government for mail transportation, was postponed today by the supreme court.

The supreme court announced no decisions today, but disposed of orders for review and other miscellaneous business.

The Department of Justice today asked the supreme court to temporarily postpone reargument of the disolution suit against the International Harvester corporation for next week. The motion was granted, but no time was reargument was set.

Hughes Wins in Poll Taken at Bartley Hotel

Bartley, Neb., Oct. 22.—The result of a pole vote taken just as the people came into the hotel in the little town of Bartley: Wilson, 5; Hughes, 8.

OMAHA BOY IS ONLY CORNHUSKER HURT

Ellsworth Moser Suffers Bad Bruise, but Rest of Eleven Escapes Game Uninjured.

TEAM STARTS HOME TRIP

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 23.—(Special Telegram).—With a genuine feeling of regret the University of Nebraska foot ball team and band left Portland Saturday night and continued their journey to the north. Seaside was the town to be honored by the presence of the Nebraskans, about four hours being spent in dipping in the ice-fringed waves and hunting for shells on the beach.

The route from Seaside led back through Portland and on to Tacoma, Seattle and Spokane. This routing of the return trip was made at the last moment in response to demands from Nebraskans in the state of Washington.

Another advantage in this routing is that it gives the members of the parties a chance to see the beautiful Cascades in daylight.

Ellsworth Moser, an Omaha boy, is the only member of the team who did not come through the Oregon Aggie game in excellent shape. Moser's injury is only a bad bruise and will heal easily in three or four days. The homeward trip will be made lively by the concerts of the band, which will be given at every stop of importance.

The entire party received the most courteous treatment possible in Portland. There was a feeling of fellowship at all times, which could not be killed by the rivalry which naturally sprang up, due to the game.

"WILD BILL" TO AGAIN MANAGE YANKEES.

BILL DONOVAN

William F. Donovan, also known to fandom as "Wild Bill" and "Smiling Bill," has signed to manage the Yankees of his third season, according to announcement made by Captain T. L. Hudson, half owner of the club. Evidently "Bill" made a lasting hit when he led the Yankees out of the second division recently. Captain Huston and Colonel Ruppert believe that had "Bill" been able to play his regular line-up all season his outfit would now be champions of the world.

Captain Huston said he thought the Yankee's string of hard luck is over, and added that he had very high hopes for 1917.

Captain Barklay To Make Addresses Over Nebraska

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Oct. 23.—(Special).—One of the interesting characters who is taking part in the campaign in Nebraska is Captain E. E. Barklay of Chicago, who, after making several speeches in the east, has been sent to Nebraska by the national committee. Captain Barklay is in a class by himself, and nothing pleases him better than to have a heckler get after him while speaking, for he generally turns the argument in such a way that the interruption is not again attempted.

Captain Barklay is a member of the officers' reserve corps of America and first saw service when a boy of 16. He served under Admiral Schley, was in the Zulu campaign in Africa, through the Brazilian campaign and saw the birth of the Argentine republic. He took part in exploring expeditions in China and Japan and rode the border with the Texas rangers. He was a captain in the Fourth infantry during the Spanish-American war and was a major of Illinois cavalry.

He has been through three presidential campaigns as a speaker, the first, as a democratic speaker, the second as a bullmoose, and is now speaking for Hughes. "I am convinced that Hughes is the man we want facing, as we do, a crisis in the affairs of the nation, which will need a firm hand, a cool head and a man of experience," said Captain Barklay today.

Married in Stella.

Stella, Neb., Oct. 23.—(Special).—John Lee Lewis and Miss Pearl Mae McClain were married Sunday noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McClain, Stella. The bride's sisters, Mrs. Frank Pugh, Miss Ella and Miss Zella McClain, assisted in serving a two-course dinner.

ner. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Gates in the presence of immediate relatives and near friends. Miss Zella McClain and Arthur Ruch were bridesmaid and best man. A surprise shower was given the bride at her home yesterday afternoon and she was remembered with many nice gifts. The bride is an active member of the Stella Methodist church. The groom is from Blair, Kan., but for the last two years has made his home at Nemaha, Neb. The young couple will go to housekeeping on a farm near Nemaha.

Baptists of York Call Rev. Mr. Morton

York, Neb., Oct. 23.—(Special).—The First Baptist church Sunday morning issued a call to Rev. H. Q. Morton, Pierre, S. D., but no member of the ministerial association of this state. Some six weeks ago a call was issued to Rev. Mr. Allen, Ashland, but his congregation entered a protest and the call was not accepted.

The following deaths have occurred here during the last week: Elizabeth Brobst, aged 78 years, near Benedict; Mrs. Christina Hagerman, aged 88 years, body taken to Stromsburg for burial; David Williams, aged 60 years; David J. Hymas, aged 78 years; Henry Kaspari, 75 years.

Thomas Will Go to Missouri This Week

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Oct. 23.—(Special).—State Superintendent Thomas will go to Cape Girardeau, Mo., the last of the week, where he has been invited to speak before the Southeast Missouri Teachers' association, on rural schools, on Friday. He will go to Edmond, Okla., December 10, where he has been invited to address the Rural Life congress on the same subject.

Protest Is Made Against Kinkaid On Populist Ticket

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Oct. 23.—(Special).—Protests have been received by Secretary of State Pool against the name of Moses P. Kinkaid, appearing upon the people's independent ticket as the candidate of that party for congress and also against the appearance of the name of William L. Bates as the democratic candidate for the legislature from the Seventy-sixth representative district.

The returns from the primary showed that Kinkaid received nine votes for the populist nomination and Bates six votes for the democratic nomination. The populist committee wants to endorse the democratic candidate for congress, Ed B. McDermott, while the democratic committee has endorsed John R. Wertz as their candidate for the legislature from the Seventy-sixth district. At the primary the democrats had no candidate.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.

GEORGE E. HALL, State Treasurer of Nebraska.

Mr. Hall, state treasurer of Nebraska, is a man who knows his own mind. Nobody who has watched things at the state capitol closely during the past year and a half will question that statement. It used to be said of some men who served as state treasurer at different times that they were "bossed from the outside." Nobody has ever accused Hall of any such thing.

The principal charge brought against Treasurer Hall by his critics, in fact, is just the reverse. It is that he "won't take advice." His friends put it differently. They say:

"When George Hall makes up his mind that a thing is right or wrong, he acts accordingly. He doesn't play politics in the way that many public officials do. He follows his convictions and doesn't stop to figure out what the political effect may be upon himself."

The state treasurer's office is a place where a man has to know his own mind if he is going to manage it with an eye single to the interests of the state and its people. He handles cash and securities amounting to $15,000,000 a year. He is responsible for a million or two of state funds deposited with banks.

Treasurer Hall's requirement for county treasurers and state departments to pay all state funds into the treasury monthly (which was never done before), has made it possible for the state board of assessments to reduce the state taxes during 1915 and 1916 $1,000,000 lower than they were for 1913 and 1914.

Treasurer Hall's wise and careful handling of state funds entitles him to re-election.
