Judgments

GRADUALLY the advantages of the shorter season are beginning to dawn upon the base ball magnates.

Ban Johnson is howling bloody murder because some of the American league players have been barnstorming.

John Tener, president of the National league, has declared war on Ban Johnson, president of the American league.

Followers of Nebraska foot ball are going to be able to get a pretty good line on the merits of Missouri Valley foot ball as compared to that of the east this year.

Ty Cobb is going to be the star in a six-reel movie. Ty is to play the part of a world-famed athlete who steals second, third and home.

A score of suggestions to remedy the world's series evil have been made by as many reformers since the Red Sox put the skids under the Robins.

It looks like a six-club league for the Western in 1917. Frank Isbell has given up all hope of reviving Wichita and Savage is getting ready to blow Topeka.

National leaguers are offering the twenty-one-player limit rule as an alibi for the manifest superiority of the American league.

Already 43,000 seats have been sold for the annual Army-Navy game, showing that the New York National league club didn't pull any business boner when it "bought" this event from Uncle Sam.

Will wonders never cease? Georgia Tech, the other day, ran up a score of 222 to 0 against Cumberland and Cumberland's lineup carried such names as Hennessie, Sullivan, Carney and Murphy, too.

ALL-STARS CLASH WITH NONPAREILS

Eleven Composed of Former Greats Will Tackle 1915 Champs at Luxus Park.

HAVELOCK COMING NEXT

By FRANK QUIGLEY. Despite the fact that all but one of the elevens in the field insist they are only class B, the local Sunday foot ball exponents seem to be getting away toward a good year.

Today is the day, Luxus park the place, and 3 p. m. the time, when the Nonpareils, champions of Omaha, will collide with a constellation of stars picked from various teams that used to make the competition keen among the class A gladiators.

Of course, the All-Stars will not be very handsomely gowned, because most of them had to borrow their raiment, but as they are post-graduates when it comes to producing pleasantries on the gridiron it is presumed that the fans will not pay much attention to the way they will be rigged out.

Spauldings Organize. Riverview park at 3:30 p. m. is where the Spauldings and the German Shamrocks will hook up this afternoon.

At 3:30 p. m. at Ducky Holmes' park the Nonpareil Reserves and the Ducky Holmes warriors will shake paws. Emity of the sour sort exists between these two bands, so a struggle sprinkled with thrills is looked for.

The Nourse Oil company squad at the fast Fontenelle Reserves will hook up at Fontenelle park at 3:30 p. m. These two teams are about evenly matched, so a warm argument is expected.

A good game is expected by the followers of the two contingents that will battle on the municipal lot at Thirty-second and Dewey avenue this afternoon.

The Mazdas and Dundee Woolen Mills will collide at Luxus park at about 1:30 p. m. this afternoon. These two teams are real live contenders for the class B championship.

Next Sunday a large gathering of foot ball enthusiasts will undoubtedly decorate the stands at Luxus park to witness the tussle between the Nonpareils, champions of Omaha, and the Boiler-makers from Havelock, Neb.

TITLE HINGES ON GAME WITH AMES

Victory for Cornhuskers Will Give Them Championship of Missouri Valley.

CALEY GOES IN AT CENTER

By JAMES E. LAWRENCE. Lincoln, Oct. 28.—(Special).—A Missouri Valley title hinges on the outcome of the battle next Saturday afternoon on Nebraska field between the Huskers and the Ames Aggies.

Dr. Stewart had no sooner bounced off the train from Portland before he instituted a radical shakeup in his lineup to plug the hole occasioned by injuries to Moser, the lanky center, in the Oregon Aggie game.

Caley, the lightest and one of the fleetest men on the squad, for two years quarterback and halfback, and in that capacity field general, was shifted to center. He will follow the new system of passing the ball directly to the runner, after calling signals from center, and will follow in the interference as a safety against fumbles.

Captain Corey's work at end was such in the Oregon game as to strongly recommend that he be left in a wing position. The Husker captain proved just as effective on offense as on defense, and was especially brilliant in forward passing.

The coming week will see the stiffest preparation of the season in anticipation of a smashing battle with the Ames warriors. Coach Mayser has apparently developed the strongest team representing the Aggies in the last six years.

For the first time this year the Huskers expect to face a team which has demonstrated its ability to play the open game. Owing to the constant changes and the new style of play the Huskers have been retarded in rounding into full speed, but by next Saturday Nebraska should be in shape to offer its full strength.

Omaha Girls New Tennis Champions

Playing clever tennis throughout, Elizabeth Ringwalt defeated Esther M. Smith in straight set, 7-5, 6-2, 6-2, and thereby won first rank in singles competition at Brownell Hall for the year.

Paired with Emily Burke in doubles, Miss Smith was more fortunate. Here she and her partner swept the boards and obtained the championship by defeating Virginia Pixley and Mary Morsman in the finals.

be to play against the Oregon Aggies. Athletic Manager Reed and Coach Stewart had an offer of a two-year contract with Coach Dobie's eleven at the University of Washington.

These girls won the right to enter the finals only after defeating a number of rival contestants. Each year the entry list at Brownell is a lengthy one, and the struggle for supremacy is keen.

Special interest to Omaha people attaches to the fact that all of the finalists this year, both in singles and doubles, are residents of the city. This is in spite of the fact that practically 50 per cent of the enrollment at Brownell consists of out-of-town girls.

Knockout Brown and Buck Cruise are going to fight. We don't look for any great amount of damage, but there'll be some sore knuckles after the scrap.

in straight sets, with the score 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Warren Ritchie, who will captain the Brandeis again this year, has signed another crack, who should add strength to the five. He is Paul Shields, former South High and University of Nebraska star.
