HUGHES PLEDGES ALL PROTECTION IF HE IS ELECTED

Would Not Want to Be President of People Who Would Not Give Their All for Country They Love.

AN AMERICAN EXECUTIVE

Will Maintain Rights of Life, Property and Trade on Land and Sea.

IS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Charles E. Hughes told an audience here tonight that if he were elected president he would protect American rights on land and sea.

Mr. Hughes was speaking before a large audience here. Earlier in the day he had asserted that he did not believe you can buy the labor vote in that way.

Must Have Driving Power.

"We want material advancement. We want to have the greatest prosperity we can achieve, but it is a mistake to suppose that with nations, as with men, great development and success can be attained if there are low and unworthy ideals which dominate action.

"If I am elected we shall have an American administration with no deflection to serve any ulterior interests, and with no deflection for the purpose of bending to the policy of any foreign power for the purpose of meeting any foreign machinations of any sort whatever.

Must Be Ready to Sacrifice.

"What we hope is to have an American administration, four squares to the world, maintaining American rights on land and sea, with respect to life, property and commerce. There must be with us as with our fathers, a willingness to sacrifice for the country that we love.

"There is no hope for a decadent people. You may pass laws as you please. You may have what party in power you please, but unless you have that love of country which preserved us in that awful struggle fifty years ago, unless you have that patriotism which will make you have some of the ideals of our institutions of the liberties which we have gained here, it is idle to talk about the future of the United States.

Preposterous Suggestion.

"I do not want to be president of a people that are not ready to give their all for their liberty, their land, their country that they have inherited.

"Now arises one to say that there have been those going through the land who have said a vote for me is a vote for war. I repudiate that statement as an unworthy and preposterous suggestion. I am devoted to the interests of peace.

"The manifestations of interest which have greeted me today show beyond any question as it seems to me, that we are marching steadily forward to a decisive victory on the 7th of November.

"We must take a view of the primary duty of the executive. What is it? The very words suggest the answer. He is primarily the executive. It is not his function to barter; it is not his function to grant or withhold privileges of citizenship. He is the executive of the people. He is entrusted with the business management of the great affairs of the nation.

"At the very outset of his administration there were called to the high positions of secretary of state and secretary of the navy—positions closely related to our interests—men of amiable qualities, men of excellent character, but men very clearly unequal to the high duties of those positions. We cannot attend to American business in that way. And recently we have found our secretary of war so busy explaining his unfortunate utterances that it seems he could hardly have time to attend to the necessary duties of his office.

Unequal Duties.

"My parishioners will always remember that I have preached to them the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ and while I have not been as active from a worldly point of view as some would like to have had me, yet I have endeavored in every way to be a true minister of the Christ.

Reasons for Action.

"My religious convictions will no longer permit me to remain in the Episcopal ministry and to serve my Master regarding salary or so-called social standing. To serve Christ means that one must fight for righteousness and the truth rather than to obey a man-made ecclesiastical fancy. The following are some of the reasons for my leaving the Episcopal and entering the ministry of the Christian church:

"1. The Episcopal church does not base its authority upon the holy scriptures, but upon dogma and ecclesiastical legislation. It has substituted sacerdotalism and tradition for the authority of God's word.

"2. Its claim to apostolic succession is unwarranted and cannot be sustained by New Testament interpretation.

"3. Although the rubric in its prayer book directs to dip, yet it does not practice the apostolic method of baptism, which is very plain to anyone who has been baptized.

Lest We Forget--But We Must Not Forget!

Lest we forget, let us jog our memories a little bit to recall the war taxes imposed by this democratic Wilson administration during time of peace to keep the wheels of government revolving, these war taxes having been repealed only a few months ago for fear of their deadly effect on democratic fortunes in the impending election.

Do you remember, Mr. Business Man, how for three democratic years you put a stamp on every note you made out or renewed at the bank?

Do you remember, Mr. Real Estate Man, how you had to affix a democratic revenue stamp on every deed and mortgage executed and recorded?

Do you remember, Mr. Investor, how you had to have a stamp, representing a democratic tax, on every certificate of stock and every bond to make it a legal security?

Do you remember, Mr. Grain Man and Mr. Commission Man and Mr. Everybody, who communicates customers over the wire, how you had to pay an excise tax on every telegram and every long distance telephone message?

Do you remember, Mr. Insurance Man, how you had to paste a revenue stamp on every policy you delivered in those democratic years?

Do you remember Mr. Shipper, how on every bill-of-lading you took out, under this democratic administration, you had to contribute to the treasury by the stamp tax route.

Do you remember, Mr. Druggist, how every bottle and package of proprietary medicine, tooth paste, perfume, etc., which you sold, cost you the amount of the revenue stamp representing the democratic war tax?

Do you remember, Mr. Confectioner, how every box of chewing gum you handled, made you fork over to the democratic tax collector?

Do you remember, Mr. Movie Man, that the federal license tax you are paying is part of this democratic peacetime war-revenue scheme and that President Wilson actually proposed, although he did not press to adoption, a percentage tax on your box office receipts?

All these taxes bore the stamp of a democratic administration and embody the democratic idea of revenue raising. If they again need the money, as they are pretty certain to do, won't a democratic administration put these taxes back, augmented and multiplied?

Lest we forget—but we must not forget.

FROM EPISCOPAL TO CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. Dr. Buxton, Rector of St. Paul's, Council Bluffs, Resigns Pastorate.

FINDS TOO MANY DOGMAS

Rev. A. G. A. Buxton yesterday morning not only preached his farewell sermon as rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Council Bluffs, but announced his final withdrawal from the church and its ministry, taking the course he left no means of retreat, asserting that he would hereafter devote himself as a clergyman to the work of the ministry of the Christian church and will assist Rev. Edgar Price for the next month or so, conducting a series of meetings in the First Christian church here.

The withdrawal of Rev. Mr. Buxton from the Episcopal ministry and conclusion of his work as rector of the church here was dramatic. The church was crowded. The rector took for his text Luke 4:17; "And he closed the book."

In an easy conversational tone Rev. Mr. Buxton recounted in what had taken place in the church during his ministry, its growth in membership and spirituality; his constant and earnest effort to proclaim the gospel as its truth appealed to him. He referred to the work accomplished, mentioning the establishment of All Saint's chapel and the erection of the building. He spoke of the warmth of the friendship formed and the spread of the influence of the church outside its ecclesiastical limits.

Makes the Announcement.

The announcement of the withdrawal from the ministry did not come until the farewell to the congregation had been concluded.

Rev. Mr. Buxton stood surveying the audience for a moment in silence and then said, in a clear and deliberate voice:

"You know the Christ said to His disciples, 'all of you shall be offended because of me this night.' If I had stood in an Episcopal pulpit in the sixteenth century and read what I am going to read to you now, I would have been burned at the stake before Saturday night. I am tired of creeds and dogmas. I have lost all interest in them, and as the Episcopal church is a maze of dogmas that I can no longer accept, I must leave you to secure the larger liberty my soul craves. Here are some of the reasons why I can no longer remain a priest of the church."

Reasons for Action.

"My parishioners will always remember that I have preached to them the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ and while I have not been as active from a worldly point of view as some would like to have had me, yet I have endeavored in every way to be a true minister of the Christ.

Colonel Harvey's Estimate of the Electoral Vote

New York, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Four years ago Colonel George Harvey guessed wrong as to only one state in his election forecast. In 1908 he was only seventeen electoral votes out of the way, and in 1904 only twenty-two. In April of the present year, before a single state had indicated a preference for the nominee, he closed an analysis of the political situation, under the heading, "Nobody for Hughes but the People," with the positive prediction that "Rightly or wrongly, wisely or not, the will of the people will prevail and Charles Evans Hughes will be the next republican candidate for president of the United States."

Electoral votes essential to a choice.

Table listing electoral votes for various states: California 13, Connecticut 7, Idaho 4, Illinois 29, Iowa 12, Kansas 6, Maine 4, Massachusetts 11, Michigan 15, Minnesota 12, New Hampshire 4, New Jersey 14, New Mexico 3, New York 33, North Dakota 3, Oregon 6, Pennsylvania 23, Rhode Island 4, South Dakota 3, Utah 4, Vermont 4, Washington 7, Wyoming 7.

We expect that Mr. Hughes will carry these:

Hughes surely wins. Probable majority for Hughes between 145 and 175.

Gurney Reports Fund Gathered by Republicans

The republican national committee donated $16,000 of the $19,250.07 raised for campaign purposes in the state, according to the report of the treasurer of the Nebraska committee, E. R. Gurney, filed with County Clerk John O'Connor, at Fremont yesterday. John L. Kennedy was the next highest contributor, with $500 and A. L. Sutton third with $350. The report does not show the amounts expended.

A. O. Thomas gave $200, as did Fred Beckman. Donations of $100 were made by H. P. Shumway, H. T. Clarke, R. W. Devore, W. H. Reynolds, George N. Seymour, George W. Norris, H. P. Shumway, C. H. Morrill and Addison Wait. R. E. Moore gave $50 and E. R. Gurney $50.

Jewish Citizens Urged to Vote For Their Own Welfare at Election

Enthusiasm and approval for the Republican Policies Mark Large Gathering of Omaha Jews.

WILSON POLICY ASSAILED

Unrestrained enthusiasm and full-voiced approval of the republican policies as outlined by prominent republican speakers marked the large gathering of Omaha Jews at the Swedish Auditorium yesterday afternoon.

As chairman of the meeting, Harry Wolf told of the Jews' ideals in politics and of their desire to bring to the highest plane the exercise of their right of franchise. He declared the Jew had no place in the Jewish standard, as it was their anxious wish at all times to become thoroughly Americanized and be first, last and all the time the very best of American citizens.

Tribute to Jews.

Benjamin S. Baker, republican candidate for congressman, in a brief talk paid glowing tribute to the Jewish race, averring that the Jews have two outstanding marks of distinction—their thrift, industry and honesty and their love and consideration of their families, attributes which he said are among the most important in the life of constructive, law-abiding citizens. That above all they must be true Americans and stand by their country was the further contention of Judge Baker, who promised that if elected he will oppose special favors to anyone, but will at all times look to the welfare of all Americans equally, regardless of race or class.

Duty to Citizens.

John L. Kennedy, republican candidate for the United States senate, declared two of the most important questions in the present campaign are the duty of the government to its citizens, and the place this country should hold in the council of nations. He discussed the nation's responsibility to its citizens, insisting that while the nation has a right to demand and receive undivided allegiance from every citizen, foreign born and native born, in return it should give absolute protection at all times.

"When any other nation blacklists our merchants, and this nation permits it, the nation is not meeting its obligations to its citizens," Mr. Kennedy told his listeners.

To get the right kind of loyalty from its own citizens Mr. Kennedy drove home the point that the nation must protect them in their rights.

"With Hughes in the White House, American citizens, regardless of race

MACKAY ANSWERS SEVERE CRITICISM

Reads to His Congregation 'Some of the "Hot" Letters He Has Received.

DEFIES HIS ASSAILANTS

Choosing, as his theme, "Christian Charity," Rev. T. J. Mackay, pastor of All Saints' church and the clergyman who publicly espoused the cause of the "wets" in the current prohibition fight, defied those prohibitionists who abuse him to show the error in his argument for the high-license regulation of the liquor traffic.

"Jesus Christ knew he was right when he expressed his opinions. I believe I am right and I am willing to stand by my beliefs until Judgment Day," said the pastor.

"My daughter answered a phone call in our home the other day and a fanatical woman at the other end of the wire asked her, without any preface, 'What kind of a drunk was your father on when he wrote that advertisement for the Prosperity League?' Think of my daughter being asked a question like that.

Poor, Poor, Clergyman.

"One woman writes to me to call me 'my poor, poor, poor, clergyman.' Another advises me to go into the liquor business with Tom Denison and suggests a business sign reading, 'Denison & Mackay, dealers in wines, liquorist and all kinds of vice.' A third woman's note says: 'Hell will be the richer for you and your friends the brewers.' A congregational clergyman hopes to see me driven in disgrace from the Christian ministry. A female writes to tell me, 'Metz paid for your daughter's education and your trip to Europe. That's why you are against prohibition.'"

"What do you think of the spirit that prompts these writers? It is not the spirit of Christianity. It is the spirit of churchianity, the same motive which fostered religious persecutions in the past and is even now, in this enlightened twentieth century, the basic element of all intolerance of other persons' opinions. We shudder at these things in the name of the meek and lowly Jesus. Truly we can say, Oh, Christianity, what crimes are committed in thy name.

A Citizen's Rights.

"I, as a citizen of the United States and as a clergyman, recently set forth in the public press my opinion of

WILSON MEETING TURNS INTO FROST

Scant 500 Turn Out to Hear Secretary of Department of Labor and Commerce.

MAYOR JIM SNEAKS AWAY

A scant 500 men and women came out to the Auditorium Sunday afternoon to hear Secretary W. B. Wilson of the Department of Commerce and Labor when he appeared to deliver a democratic speech.

About three-quarters of a dozen men were on the platform. Senator Hitchcock sat at the speaker's left. Mayor Dahlman sat on the platform through less than half the meeting, then quietly tip-toed to the side of the stage, collected his overcoat and hat and made away through a side exit.

Congressman C. O. Lobeck sat some distance to the right of the speaker and busied himself beckoning with his nimble hands to coax certain late-comers upon the platform, but they preferred to sit in the audience. C. L. Shamp, labor leader, and T. P. Reynolds, president of the Central Labor union, was on deck to preside at the meeting.

Defends President.

The speaker set out to praise all democratic legislation of the last four years and to explain why it was good. To begin with he spread his sails and put out into the sea of turmoil that the Adamson bill has created. He said: "If President Wilson had withdrawn from the controversy when a settlement could not be reached, who then would he have been surrendering to? Why, to the railroads and to Wall street. They didn't believe he had the courage to go before congress with the matter, but he did; and congress accepted his proposals and enacted them into law."

The speaker held up the fact that seventy republicans in congress had voted for the bill and said: "Every time Mr. Hughes criticizes the Adamson bill, it is a slap in the face of seventy congressmen of his own party."

He praised again the federal reserve banking act, reiterating the democratic slogan that this will prevent future financial panics; and credited the democrats with new legislation in the anti-trust laws which will make officers of the corporations answerable in court for violations of the law by their corporations, so that the officers may be fined by punishment or imprisonment just the same as any other criminal.

Out for Women's Vote.

Particular attention will be paid by the managers to the progressive and women's vote in this territory. Newspaper and billboard advertising campaigns will be conducted in every doubtful state and tons of democratic literature will be sent to every section for distribution.

The republican managers in the west, it is said, will pay particular attention to Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Kentucky, Colorado, Washington, Oregon, California and Montana in their final week's drive. Scores of speakers will be sent into every state and meetings will be held daily until the opening of the polls November 7.

Will Redouble Activity.

Large quantities of campaign literature will be sent into every state and advertising campaigns launched in every doubtful state. The republicans will pay particular attention to the vote of the progressive workmen and the women throughout the western territory.

October 31 Charles E. Hughes will begin a two-day tour of Indiana.

Charles W. Fairbanks, republican nominee for vice president, will tour Illinois October 30 and 31, visiting Rockford, Peoria and a number of smaller cities.

Famous German Aviator Is Killed In Air Collision

London, Oct. 29.—Captain Boetke, the famous aviator, during an air fight on Saturday came into collision with another aeroplane and was killed according to a Berlin dispatch received by Reuter's Telegram company by way of Amsterdam. His machine landed within the German lines.

On Friday Captain Boetke shot down his fortieth aeroplane.

Catholic Church at York Is Dedicated

York, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—The dedication of the reconstructed and enlarged Catholic church of York took place today, the ceremony being conducted by Right Rev. J. Henry Thien of Lincoln, assisted by Rev. Thomas-Cullen and Rev. J. T. Hayes, York. The spacious building was filled to capacity with members of the congregation and many Protestants of the city. The rite of confirmation was also conferred on a large class of boys and girls.

Bishop Thien preached a strong sermon, covering both the ceremony of dedication and confirmation. His advice and suggestions to the newly confirmed class were inspiring.

CARRERA TAKES CHARGE

Blames Troubles in Mexico Upon "Unneutral" Attitude at Washington.

STATEMENT A SURPRISE

Mexico City, Oct. 29.—That the Villista movement in Chihuahua has been able to continue because of facilities given the enemies of the constitutional government in the United States was the declaration of General Carranza in a statement he gave to the press today.

General Carranza added that his government would eventually suppress the rebel movement in Chihuahua. He also denied reports that the constitutionalist forces had been defeated by rebel bands in various sections of southern Mexico.

Carranza's Statement.

The statement, which was the first the constitutionalist leader had made to the press in three months, said in part:

"Various American newspapers have waged a campaign against Mexico, affirming that the situation was very grave and that rebel forces during the last few days had gained important victories against the government in Colima, Oaxaca and Chiapas. All of these reports are absolutely false.

"In the last few days the constitutionalists have defeated the followers of Felix Diaz, Diaz himself escaping across the border of Chiapas and taking refuge in Guatemala. All the Zapatistas have been forced to take to the mountains as all the cities and towns are in the control of the government.

Family Coming Back.

"My family is now on a trip to the United States, but will soon rejoin me, as I am indisposed to abandon this city because of the supposed machinations against me, which do not exist, or the threats of the Zapatistas. I will leave the capital only when the time arrives for the constitutionalist assembly to congregate at Queretaro."

Cabrera Makes Charge.

Washington, Oct. 28.—New complications with the Mexican de facto government threatened today as a result of a statement issued here through the Mexican information bureau and attributed to Luis Cabrera. It assails in sharp language American neutrality and the administration of immigration laws as regards Mexico.

Mr. Cabrera is minister of finance in Carranza's cabinet and president of the Mexico commission now participating in the joint conference over border difficulties, and there are indications that his criticisms will not be ignored at the State department.

While refusing to enter into any discussion of the statement at this time, administration officials characterized it as extraordinary. Secretary Lansing would make no comment. It is known, however, that steps to establish the authenticity of the document were taken under consideration immediately.

Will Not Be Seen.

Eliso Arredondo, Mexican ambassador-designate, denied himself to all callers. Although the Mexican information bureau has been understood to have at least semi-official relations with the embassy, its status has never been clearly defined. Embassy officials asserted emphatically that Mr. Arredondo had not been consulted before the statement was issued and had no knowledge that it was in contemplation, his first knowledge of it coming after the bureau had distributed it to the newspapers.

It was said at the bureau that the statement had been obtained from Mr. Cabrera directly and was made public with his approval. Mr. Cabrera's status with relation to this government is not the same as that of an accredited diplomatic or consular official. Whether the names of the commissioners nominated by each government were submitted for approval has never been divulged, but it is this was the procedure, the commissioners probably would have definite diplomatic status on which action could be based.
