PLATTE COUNTY IS GOING REPUBLICAN

Dissensions Among Democrats Have Given Opponents Fine Opening.

CLUBS COMING TO FRONT

Columbus, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—Numerous indications point to weaknesses of the democratic ring in Platte county this election. They have their backs to the wall. In their frantic endeavor to recover the lost democratic vote among the Germans, the bosses are staging their second speaker within a week. Mr. Gerber, who will use the German language.

Mr. Anselm was advertised similarly last week, but disregarded this expected phase with a few cursory and entirely unsatisfactory remarks. The German societies in their regular meetings and informally, are almost to a man opposed to Wilson and endorsing Hughes. When asked among a large element of the democratic party here the visit of W. J. Bryan is like throwing a red rag in their faces. He passed through here last night, but was given no reception and the report of his fullerton speech was condemned in no mild terms, focusing dissension.

On the other hand the dry element of the democratic party here complains because the ring is devoting too much of their time and the contributions to the wet cause and allowing the candidates for the most part to shift for themselves. The republicans and progressives, united with encouragement from hundreds of democrats, are working hard.

The Hughes-Fairbanks club headed by Mark Rathburn, a Roosevelt man, is putting in some good ticks. The refusal of the city council to permit them to string a large sign across the street at headquarters has helped them. Altogether while recognizing the cunning and resources of the democratic bosses in this, their strongest county in the state, republican leaders go so far as to admit an actual victory on November 7.

Reavis Answers Claims of Service Made by Hitchcock

Pawnee City, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—The largest and by far the most enthusiastic audience greeted Hon. C. F. Reavis, first district congressman, at the opera house Saturday night, that has gathered at any place in Pawnee county during this campaign.

Mr. Reavis dwelt at length upon the claims of Mr. Hitchcock that he, with the aid of the democratic congress, have succeeded in enacting into law more real beneficial legislation for the people than all the beneficial legislation passed in the previous twenty years.

The speaker explained the fact that Senator Norris of Nebraska introduced the bill into the senate providing for the income tax law, and that the votes of the republican congressmen successfully carried the measure through; and that it was the republican senatorial and congressional votes that placed the child labor law upon the statute books of the federal government.

The speaker in eloquent and touching words pictured the conditions of the warring powers as the basis upon which our present material prosperity is based, and asked his friends, "Are you exceedingly proud of this kind of prosperity?"

Mr. Reavis spoke of the fitness of J. L. Kennedy to represent the state in the senate and of Hon. McMullen to protect our interests in the state senate.

The eloquent congressman from the First Nebraska district clearly and unequivocally stated the issues and his position upon same in state and nation and very much of the satisfaction of his hearers.

Odd Arguments Used by Wilson In Rail Fight

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Statements made by Victor E. Wilson, democratic candidate for the State Railway commission in his recent address at Harvard and in addresses made frequently at other points, show that the democratic candidate is either wilfully misrepresenting facts in order to get votes or else is immensely ignorant of the conditions over which he would seek to have control if elected to the position of railway commissioner.

Mr. Wilson criticizes the railway commission alleging that it found a physical valuation of railway right-of-way of the roads of the state of $265 per acre, whereas the government census reports shows a physical valuation of $40, thus leaving the inference that the commission's valuation was excessive.

The valuation given by the commission included land of all kinds, both within city and town limits, as well as outside, while the government valuation was simply on land outside the cities and towns. That part of the physical valuation made by the state commission covers land in some instances along the right-of-way which is worth as high as $2,500 per acre.

Mr. Wilson used values obtained by an application of the multiple theory as used in Minnesota case, which has been adopted by the Nebraska commission. Outside of the towns and cities, the records of the railway commission show that the value of right-of-way outside of the towns and cities runs all the way from $6 per acre in Sioux county to an average of $158 per acre in Douglas county, and that the average would be just about what the government census reports, a record which Mr. Wilson could have easily secured if he had tried to gain the facts instead of continuing his campaign of misrepresentation against Mr. Clarke in an effort to land a job as railway commissioner.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.—Advertisement.

DAVID CITY LAWYER STRONG FOR HUGHES

Writes Answer to Chicago Attorney Who Invites Him Into Wilson Ranks.

GIVES REASON FOR STAND

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Attempts of the Wilson & Marshall Lawyer's club of the middle west to line up the lawyers for the democratic ticket is not meeting with favor by all the lawyers. One of these letters was sent to B. F. Butler, county attorney of Butler county, who responded as follows:

"W. S. Oppenheimer, secretary Wilson Lawyer's club, Chicago, Ill.: 'Dear Sir: I am today in receipt of your circular letter addressed to the lawyers of the central and middle western states, soliciting their support of Mr. Wilson's candidacy for re-election, and attacking Governor Hughes' candidacy because he was a supreme court justice when nominated at Chicago last June.

"Replying thereto I beg to inform you that the very great preponderance of sentiment among the lawyers of this part of Nebraska, as well as elsewhere, is for Mr. Hughes, irrespective of their former political beliefs or affiliations; and rightly so, for Mr. Hughes was drafted by the people of this country, who realized that a change in the conduct of affairs of state at Washington was imperative to preserve our nation's honor and dignity.

"None has greater regard and respect for the integrity and sacredness of our courts than I, but the fact that one who has been elevated to the honored place of United States supreme court justice has also been called by the great common people to direct the destiny of this nation does not impugn the courts but rather is a tribute that ought to be lauded, and your veiled insinuations against Mr. Hughes will not get you very far with the Bar, the members of which almost universally agree that the country needs Mr. Hughes in the White House, but are not using the means to place him there that you are using to prevent Mr. Wilson's defeat for re-election, but in this connection I will say that I believe Mr.

Prohibition Reduces Crime

Read What the Denver Post Says About Penitentiary Convicts

DENVER POST, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 25, '16.

PENITENTIARY TO CLOSE WING; BUSINESS BUM IN DRY STATE

Startling Decrease Shown in Crime in Colorado Since Prohibition

OLD TIMERS ARE LEAVING 37 Prisoners Will Go Out to Every Man Received and Terms Are Shorter.

Canon City, Colo., Oct. 25.—So marked has been the effect of prohibition upon crime in Colorado that by the first of the year, or soon after that, one whole large wing of the state penitentiary will be closed for lack of prisoners. Within one month the prison will have barely three-fourths of its former number of occupants, and, from December 1 onward, when the terms of many of the "old-timers" begin to expire, the institution will empty at an unheard-of rate.

If the number of prisoners sentenced to the penitentiary during the last six months—since prohibition got its full stride—continues at the same rate during the next six months, the prison here will discharge about thirty-seven men to every new prisoner taken in.

This morning the penitentiary had only 707 prisoners, counting both men and women. A year ago, before prohibition went into effect, its average number of inmates was well above 800—running nearer 900. During the rest of this month, nine more prisoners will leave the institution, either on parole or through having served out their full sentences. Next month twenty others will depart. That exodus, if no new arrivals were booked, would reduce the prison roster to 678.

Moreover, the greater number of prisoners received since prohibition went into effect are sent there for much shorter terms than formerly; the class of men is different, most of the "habitual criminals" having left the state with the shutting down of the saloons. The new "short-termers" are paroled much sooner than the former "long-termers," so the recent prisoners will not stay at the pen.

Man Nearly Dies While Officials Dispute About Pay

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Grand Island, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Harvey Cox, a stranger, aged 28, is in a serious condition at the St. Francis hospital in this city as the result of an attack of appendicitis. Cox came to the city Tuesday morning. He stated that he applied for assistance of the authorities, alleging sickness, but was given no aid. He appealed to a boarding house keeper and was given a cot. Becoming very ill, the landlady notified the city physician, who called and found it a case of well advanced appendicitis. His request to the chairman of the county board's committee to take the man to a hospital was denied, and when the city physician took the matter up with Mayor Ryan, the latter in turn held it to be a county case. The deadlock was on from Tuesday forenoon to Wednesday evening, when the mayor yielded on the presentation that the man must die if an operation were not provided. The operation was performed and the man has a chance for recovery, though the pus had already broken. The city physician, flanked by the medical association, desires a decision as a result of this case, as to responsibility, though alleging that the attorney general has already rendered an opinion that in such cases in incorporated cities, the latter must bear the expense.

Bryan's Coming Puts Democrats Into the Dumps

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Democrats of Lincoln are in the dumps. They seem to see the inevitable defeat which awaits their party on November 7.

It has been known for some time that they feared the visit of W. J. Bryan to Nebraska and its effect upon the congressional, state and legislative tickets. While some of them were anxious for Bryan to come, many of them questioned the wisdom of his coming, knowing that if he took a decided stand against the wet proposition it would hurt the state ticket and correspondingly have a like effect on the national ticket.

Others claim that the frantic appeal of the chairman of the democratic national finance committee for funds to carry on the campaign, and that $500,000 more would be necessary to insure the election of Wilson, has had a dampening effect on the enthusiasm of the democratic leaders, claiming that it shows, while they have been claiming all the country for the president, the appeal for funds to "insure" the election of the president is a simple admission that the president is in danger.

Liquidation Causes Big Drop in Cotton

New York, Oct. 30.—A renewal of heavy liquidation caused a further big decline in the cotton market here today. January contracts selling off to 18.38 before the end of the morning session, or fully $2.25 a bale below Saturday's closing figures. Reports of slackening demand and uneasiness over shipping conditions seemed hardly accountable for the break which carried prices more than $2 a bale under the high record of last Thursday.

AS REGULARLY as the COCK CROWS

If you have a tendency to constiveness, an ounce of Nujol at night will make your morning brighter.

Nujol promotes regular habits by helping to restore the normal action of the bowels. Ordinary laxatives and cathartics tend to destroy this normal action by over stimulating the intestinal nerve centers. Hence the "pill-habit" is a dangerous one.

Nujol is not a laxative or a pur-gative. It acts in effect as a mechanical lubricant, preventing the intestinal contents from becoming hard, and so encouraging natural evacuations.

All druggists carry Nujol which is manufactured only by the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Avoid substitutes. Write today for booklet "The Rational Treatment of Constipation."
