> Traffic Officials Say Business Never So Good as at the Present Time.

AND NEBRASKA IS THE BEST

"If you care to, you may say that usiness on the Missouri Pacific was never quite as good as at the present time and that if there is any one place where it is a little better than another, t is over the Nebraska division," asserted H. M. Adams, general traffic manager, St. Louis, who, with other officials of the road, is out on the annual fall visiting trip, getting ac-quainted with patrons of the property. In the Missouri Pacific party are the following: H. M. Adams, general traffic manager, St. Louis; C. E. Pertraffic manager, St. Louis; C. E. Perkins, freight traffic manager, St.

Louis; C. L. Stone, passenger traffic manager, St. Louis; A. T. Stewart, general freight agent, and R. T. G.

agent, Kansas City.

The Missouri Pacific officials are

Nebraska's Big Crop. General Traffic Manager Adams is delighted with the Nebraska crop situation, saying:

"I had heard that Nebraska had a "I had heard that Nebraska had a good crop, but I had an idea that the picture had been painted in a little too bright colors. However, I find that such is not the case, for from going through a good many of the feilds and talking with farmers and others, I am satisfied that the state has raised one of the greatest corn others, I am satisfied that the state has raised one of the greatest corn crops in its history. Looking over the southern portion of the state, I find that a large crop of winter wheat is out, considerable of which is up high enough so that it covers the ground with a carpet of green. "Nebraska farmers all along our lines are prosperous and have been making good money during the last year. They have had enormous quantities of farm produce to sell and have received high prices for everything sold.

CLOSED CAR SALON SUCCESS ASSURED

Keen Interest in the Display and Dealers Enthuse Over the Undertaking.

SHOW OPEN UNTIL 9 P. M.

Before the first annual Omaha Closed Car Salon opened at the Brandeis stores Wednesday, some of the motor car men felt just a little hit dubious about the success of the show. The closed car show was an nnovation and there was a feeling of misgiving. They weren't just aure that Omaha would take to the show. But when the first day of the ex-position was over shadows of doubt quickly vanished into thin air. For the Closed Car Salon was an unqualified success.

The attendance the first day was gratifyingly large. Of course it was impossible to keep any accurate ac-counting, but it is certain that several thousand persons attended the display.

"I was really agreeably surprised," declared Clarke Powell, secretary of the Omaha Automobile Show associathe Omana Automobile Show associa-tion, who heads the committee on ar-rangements of the Closed Car Salon too, "I didn't expect to see such a big day opening day, because it is generally true of such innovative events that the first day is a poor one. But the intense interest shown Wednesday upset the dope and proves that Chraba still balds its own as one that Omaha still holds its own as one of the leading automobile centers of Frank Dorazio and his son Vito, aged to years of Chicago started from that city to seek employment on a sheep ranch at Baker, Mont. Wednesday they stopped off at Council Bluffs and took a room at a Council Bluffs hotel. In the night Vito awoke to find his father gone, and since them no trace of the man has been found. The boy had less than a dollar on his person, and came to Omaha, entered the Woodmen of the World building and went upstairs with the intent on of sleeping in the lavatory.

He was discovered by a woman whose shrieks brought other occupants of the building and he was turned over to the police. He is being cared for at the station while the au-Frank Dorazio and his son Vito.

The prosperity of Omaha is even reflected through the Salvation Army, according to Captain Kline, who sal's that he cannot supply the demand for labor. "We have fifty per cent more calls each day than we can handle. Our greatest problem is to find men able to do much of the work offered," he said, "as many of the laborers are convalescing from operations."

Is John D. Mitchel a victim of amnesia? Is he wandering about the country mable to remember the past events of his life, his name and occupation? Or is the young watchman, who had been married only two years, at the bottom of the Missouri river?

It was only a suggestion which led the police to suspect that Mitchel met his death by drowning. Early Tuesday morning his hat was found on the Union Pacific bridge. Inquiry at his home, 1009 Pacific street, revealed that he had not returned from his work as watchman. The first conclusion was that he had dropped off the bridge into the river. But all efforts to locate further proof of his death in this manner have been futile. Heavy make its victims do. in this manner have been futile. Heavy
