DESPERATE DEMOS SCATTER CANARDS

Distorted Stories Being Scattered in Hope of Warding Off Defeat.

BEEBE IS MADE THE VICTIM

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Desperate conditions evidently demand desperate measures, if the action of the local democratic paper in spreading its pages with campaign canards tending to prejudice the mind of the voters on the eve of the election, may be taken as a judge of the way they look at the chances of election of their party candidates.

Evidently feeling that there was little chance that Senator Hitchcock could be elected, the local democratic sheet has begun a system of publicity which instead of harming the republican candidate is making him votes.

The great charge against John L. Kennedy, the opponent of Senator Hitchcock, is that he was born in Scotland and found it necessary when he came to Omaha to add to his name that of Lauderdale, because there were so many Kennedys in that city and others by the name of John, that in order to prevent confusion, Mr. Kennedy, who had no middle name was compelled to do what his parents had not done, make one. He selected Lauderdale, because it was a good old Scotch name and one with which he was familiar. Now the local democratic sheet attempts to besmirch the name of Mr. Kennedy, because he, born on foreign soil and not given a middle name, made one, just as he has made a name for himself in business—public and private life.

Attack Upon Beebe.

Not content with this attack, last night the same paper sought to besmirch H. C. Beebe, secretary of the republican state committee, by references to him as a former saloon-keeper. Mr. Beebe has never denied the fact that something like fourteen years ago he was a saloonkeeper in Shelby in Polk county. He quit the business of his own accord and went into a law business. His standing in his county was so high that he was elected county attorney and today no man is more popular in his community than Mr. Beebe. Then in desperation they have taken a shot at Senator J. H. Kemp of Fullerton, charging him with tying up with the stoon interests of Omaha when a candidate for the republican nomination for governor two years ago. They charged Beebe with pulling the strings to help out Kemp.

Thoroughly Separated Now.

In answer to the attack Mr. Beebe sends the following shot: "Yes, I have seen the Lincoln Star's reference to me as a 'former saloon keep.' This a matter which I have never denied. I was in the saloon business some fourteen years ago in Shelby. The only difference between the Star bunch and myself is that ten years ago I separated myself from the liquor interests of Nebraska forever, while they are still owned, controlled and dominated by the brewery and whiskey interests of this state.

"As to my personal habits on the liquor question and my daily life along that line, I can only say that I refer to any resident of my home county regardless of political affiliation. I am personally a strict temperance man. I use liquor at no time and of no kind, and have not for a great many years. The whiskey-owned and controlled 'Star' certainly is raising on their last legs as they see the defeat of their brewery candidate for United States senator, G. M. Hitchcock and the brewery-found candidate for governor, Keith Neville, badly slipping, they are resorting to means which no decent paper would resort to."

Oscocla Backs Him Up.

The citizens of Oscocla today expressed their resentment of what they term a "scurrilous attack" on Secretary Beebe, when Mr. J. P. Heald and others, sent the following telegram to him:

"In the November 2d issues of the Lincoln Star appears a scurrilous attack upon you. We the undersigned, take pleasure in stating that we have known Mr. Beebe for many years and know that the charges made in this article to-wit: that he was selected secretary of the republican state committee for the sole purpose of controlling the liquor vote is absolutely false. Mr. Beebe for many years has been openly against the licensed saloon and has voted against the licensing of the same in Oscocla, his home town. He has openly declared his intention of supporting the prohibitory amendment and has made speeches for the same. Mr. Beebe has the confidence of democrats, republicans and prohibitionists alike, and such unwarranted attacks will only have the effect of making votes for Judge Sutton in the communities where Mr. Beebe is best known."

Sandburr Lodged In Girls Throat

North Platte, Neb., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Unable to speak and suffering intense pain for four days, Louise, the 15-year-old daughter of D. Lovinburg, a farmer living near Madrid, is the victim of one of the most peculiar accidents to be called to the attention of physicians. A sandburr has been lodged in the girl's throat and it will be necessary to take her to an Omaha hospital before she can be relieved. The girl was brought to North Platte yesterday, but after several attempts to extract the sandburr had proved futile it was announced that she must be taken to Omaha, where a bronchoscope could be obtained.

While walking near her home Miss Lovinburg caught a sandburr on her glove. In attempting to remove it with her teeth she in some manner swallowed it. The sandburr lodged in her throat just below the vocal cords, making it impossible for her to speak. When every effort of members of the family to remove the sandburr failed the girl was brought to the office of a North Platte physician.

BEACH FEELS SURE OF WHOLE TICKET

Republican Chairman Says Every Candidate Will Win Easily.

BAN PUT ON ROORBACKS

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—"You may say," said Chairman E. D. Beach of the republican state committee today, "that we have them beat seven ways for breakfast and that there won't be a candidate on the republican ticket, who will have a majority of less than 10,000 votes. We are going to elect the whole republican state ticket; a republican legislature and carry the state for Hughes."

This was the feeling at headquarters today. Secretary Beebe said: "We feel it in the air. It is only necessary to look at the dejected faces of the democrats around Lincoln to know that they recognize they are starting defeat in the face and will be satisfied with even a few little political crumbs, which may come when they hear that Texas has gone democratic and South Carolina and Georgia have done likewise."

Dem Money Disappears.

Democratic money that two weeks ago was in evidence to bet on Wilson being elected, has now disappeared, though occasionally some wild eyed partisan who bets on his politics rather than his wisdom, wants to take a chance of half a dollar or two bits that Wilson carries Nebraska.

Chairman J. Reid Green of the Lancaster county republican committee, called his workers together today at the Lindell hotel and a conference was held. Reports coming in from all over the county caused the chairman to predict that Lancaster county would be back in line with its old-time republican majority.

Watch For Roorbacks.

Chairman Beach wants the voters and the republican workers to be watchful for roorbacks just before election day.

"We have been tipped off that they are being prepared and all we ask of the public is to take no stock in anything sprung at the last moment. The campaign has been on now for three months and there has been plenty of chance to look into the records of candidates. This committee does not believe in the just before election campaign story and will not tolerate it coming from any source controlled by the committee, but we cannot control canards put out by the democratic opposition."

Thornburg Says Men on the Border Are for Hughes

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—If the Nebraska soldier boys down on the border could cast their votes on president, ninety per cent of them would vote for Charles E. Hughes. This is the opinion of Captain Fred Thornburg, director of the Fifth regiment band, who is home on a furlough. Captain Thornburg did not desire to talk politics, but said that the boys did not like the quiet life. According to the captain, they either want to fight or return home. Inactivity is very tiresome to them and they would receive with delight any order that would send them across the border or one that would send them back home. Captain Thornburg will return to the border November 15.
