

WOMEN CITIZENS ASK RIGHT TO VOTE

Those With Privilege in Other States Make Same Demand in Iowa.

REFUSED AT REGISTRATION

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 4.—(Special Telegram.)—Five women citizens of Des Moines, who claim their residences in other states, went to registration booths here today and demanded the privilege of registering under the right of the constitution. They were accompanied by officers of the Political Equality club. Election judges denied them the right. Mrs. E. E. Higley, wife of the pastor of Grace Methodist church, who claims her residence as Colorado, made formal demand. Four other women with her claimed residence in Colorado also. Republican House Says Woods. Frank Woods of Estherville, congressman from the Tenth district, predicts that the house of representatives will be republican by a total of twenty-seven this next congress. Woods is chairman of the republican congressional committee. Last year he made a prediction as to the republican majority of the house, which came within one of it, hence his guess this year is thought to be accurate. Woods' information this year has come from the same sources as last and is, therefore, thought to be reliable.

Urges School Fairs.

Dr. G. C. Creelman, president of the Ontario Agricultural college, Guelph, Ontario, in an address here yesterday before the county superintendents attending the State Teachers' association, advocated the introduction of the school fall fair. He says these have produced good results in Canada. At these fairs the work of the boys during the summer in agriculture is judged, oratorical contests are held and other interesting features are a part of the program. "As 95 per cent of the people in the United States and Canada do all of their own housework, then it seems stupid that the people have not long since risen and demanded that the art and science of the household be made compulsory by every board of trustees in the country," said Dr. Creelman.

Joins French Army.

Almer C. Sanborn, former Des Moines newspaper man, has joined the French army and is driving an ambulance in the American ambulance corps. Sanborn went abroad last June with Conger Reynolds, instructor in journalism in the State university. Reynolds returned early in the fall.

Hughes to Carry Iowa.

Republicans are confident that Charles Evans Hughes will easily win in Iowa. Republican State Chairman C. A. Rawson, who has visited with other leaders in Chicago and elsewhere of late, is predicting that Hughes will win the election. He credits Hughes with carrying the New England states, New York, Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and an even chance of carrying Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and practically all of the western states.

Border Ballots O. K.

Secretary of State W. S. Allen has been keeping track of the express shipment of ballots to the Iowa National Guard at Brownsville and the big shipment has been going through on schedule time right along. Secretary Allen has received telegrams from the important division points telling of the safe arrival and forwarding of the ballots.

Fort Des Moines for Guard.

The War department at Washington has at last consented to the use of Fort Des Moines for mustering out the Iowa National Guard in case the troops are sent home before April 1. After that date they will use Camp Dodge. Adjutant General Logan, who has made a persistent effort to secure the use of the fort, but was twice turned down by the War department, received the official order today to the effect that Fort Des Moines might be used. In the meantime General Logan had made arrangements with the State Board of Agriculture for the use of some of the buildings on the fair grounds, in case the troops were brought home in the winter. The buildings would have been equipped with stoves and made comfortable for the soldiers. There is no hint in the War department order as to when the troops would be mustered out.

New Bank Chartered.

The state banking department has issued a charter to the Farmers' Savings bank of Colwell, Ia., capitalized at $10,000. George E. May of Charles City is president and A. T. Greenwood of Colwell is cashier.

Dr. Wiley for Hughes.

Dr. Harvey Wiley, pure food shark, who addressed the state teachers' convention here tonight, is for Hughes. "The administration was not in sympathy with my enforcement of the pure food laws, so I quit," said Wiley, referring to his resignation under Taft. "The man who has the job now follows a plan acceptable to the present administration. That of asking misbranders and adulterators of food to please quit it."

Yarn Told in Fun Costs Sixty Days

Chance Jewell, 319 South Twenty-sixth street, remarked in fun that he had sold a stolen auto to a local physician. Officer Pipkin heard of the remark and brought the "kiddie" to jail, where he was sentenced to remain in custody for sixty days on a charge of vagrancy. Also, it was learned that he had sold a motorcycle belonging to the Nebraska Auto school to an individual, and he will be forced to face trial on this charge after completing his vagrancy sentence.

HAPPENINGS IN THE MAGIC CITY

Hillsdale Baptist Church Will Stage Series of Concert and Reading Attractions.

FIVE ENTERTAINMENTS ON

A series of concert and reading attractions will be brought to the South Side under the auspices of the Hillsdale Baptist church at Forty-third and I streets, within the next four months. Five dates have been arranged, the first to be Saturday evening, November 11, when the York College orchestra, one of the best known five-piece musical combinations in the state comes here. M. O. McLaughlin, president of York college, who has spent twelve years in the ministry, will be here January 6, to lecture. His talk will be illustrated by motion pictures. On February 3, two musical artists, Miss Eda Rankin, master of the piano, and Charles H. Amador, bass-baritone singer, will appear. The fourth of the series will be staged when Ernest Raymond Miser comes to offer readings in David Copperfield, "A Christmas Carol," "The Shanghai," "The Fortune Hunter" and "David Garrick." Last of all the York college male quartet will give an entertainment, March 31. The Hillsdale Baptist is one of the striving churches of the city and is a pioneer in its territory. The cost is great considering the size of the church and the crowds that could be expected, so the people of the district are appealing to outside public.

Y. M. C. A. Athletics.

A Young Men's Christian association is being organized on the South Side and will start active work both in basket ball and gymnasium within the next week. The work of remodeling the auditorium on the A. O. U. W. temple, Twenty-fifth and M streets was started several days ago. The stage will be placed at the north and south ends and a gymnasium equipment will be installed. Industrial Secretary E. E. Herman is in charge and says that a young men's meeting will be called for Thursday for the organization of a church basket ball league. This league will be a branch of the Omaha Church league and is to include the R. E. Wheeler Memorial, Grace Methodist, Lefler Memorial, Baptist, St. Luke's Lutheran, Hillsdale, Baptist, and other South Side churches wishing to become members. The basket ball schedule will be in the hands of Neuman Comfort of the Omaha Y. M. C. A. The gym will be used every evening except Saturday, for practice by the churches. Grade school boys will have use of the floor Saturdays and afternoons during the week. Interscholastic indoor athletic meets will be conducted in connection with the regular gym work. The initial meet was held last evening when the R. E. Wheeler Memorial Presbyterian athletic team defeated the St. Luke's Lutheran team at volley ball, hop skip and jump, and broad jumping, each church having fourteen contestants. Score, 718 to 612, points being awarded according to the merits of each contest.

Enthusiasm for Murphy.

Five hundred voters rose in spontaneous response to a call for a meeting in honor of Henry Murphy, home candidate for county attorney, last evening at the Redman hall. Democrats as well as republicans mingled in the crowd with but one thought—to elect a South Side man to the office of county attorney. Mr. Murphy was not called in until after the men had gathered. It was necessary for him to smash his way through the jam at the entrance so great was the crowd. All through the meeting the men surged out across the sidewalk. Mr. Murphy spoke of the warm affection with which he held his many friends on the South Side. As in previous elections, when they had cast a majority for their leader, he predicted that they would not fail him in this election. Henry Beal, president of the Young Men's Hughes and Fairbanks club and close associate to Mr. Murphy, also spoke. The meeting was the most enthusiastic of the campaign thus far. Leave's Cash With Police.

Sol Goldstrom, a local merchant, is now playing the "safety first" game as the result of an attempted robbery of his wholesale and retail liquor house, Twenty-sixth and O streets. Yesterday morning a burglar was discovered trying to make his way into the building at the dark hour of 3:50, but by the time the "hurry-up" wagon arrived on the scene the would-be bad man had made his escape. In spite of the fact that no money was taken and that the building was not even entered, Sol played the safe game and left the contents of his cash drawer in the care of South Side police last evening.

William Sadalick, laborer, charged with disturbing the peace, was arrested last evening by Patrolmen Grace and Baughman at 8:15. Sadalick lives at 4919 South Twentieth street.

DEALERS FEAR IT OF COAL SHORTAGE

Few Cars Available, So that Mines Are Being Worked but Two Days a Week.

NO RELIEF IS IN SIGHT

The coal situation is giving the dealers considerable alarm, fearing that a cold spell may come at any time and find them with their stocks reduced to the lowest point in history, at this season of the year. During the last twenty-four hours coal dealers have besieged the railroad freight offices, clamoring for cars in which to ship in coal. In every instance they have been met with the information, "We are doing the best we can, but we are unable to get cars." The railroad freight men take the position that there is no immediate prospect of a letup in the coal shortage, asserting that it will continue so long as present high prices for all products continue and farmers have these products to sell. With all the roads entering Omaha there is a shortage of freight cars, especially those designed for coal carrying. What is true with the Omaha roads is asserted to be true with reference to roads elsewhere and as a result it is next to impossible to get cars. With the car shortage so acute, the mine owners are reported to have suffered great loss. For instance, all through the Illinois district, from whence comes a large portion of the soft coal of the country, it is asserted that instead of working full time, the mines are being worked but two days per week, only enough cars being available to handle this comparatively small output.

MR. HUGHES SPEAKS IN CITY OF NEW YORK

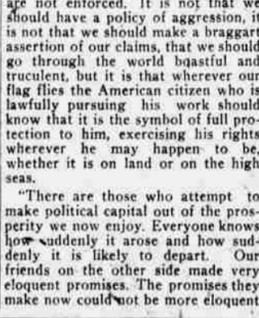

Republican Nominee Says that Rights Cease to Be Rights if Not Enforced.

DEMO PROMISES UNKEPT

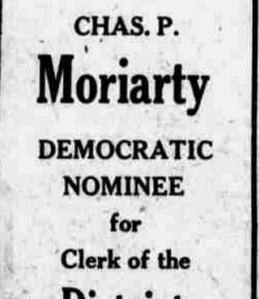

New York, Nov. 4.—Charles E. Hughes in the first of a series of five noonday campaign speeches here today declared that "rights cease to be rights if they are not enforced," and that "there will be no lasting peace if the nation's honor is not maintained." "There has been of late, it seems to me, a growing tide of sentiment in this country," he said. "The American people know very well what policies are essential to their welfare. They are not likely to be deceived by any delusive statements with respect to either peace or prosperity. "There will be no lasting peace if the nation's honor is not maintained. There is no lasting security unless American rights are fearlessly maintained throughout the world. Our peace depends on the confidence and esteem which we secure and hold by justice, firmness, by courtesy and by the manifestation of that courage and indomitable spirit which gave us our country and preserved the integrity of our country. Firmness is Not Aggression. "That is not the spirit of war; that is the way to maintain our self-respect. Rights cease to be rights if they are not enforced. It is not that we should have a policy of aggression, it is not that we should make a braggart assertion of our claims, that we should go through the world boastful and truculent, but it is that wherever our flag flies the American citizen who is lawfully pursuing his work should know that it is the symbol of full protection to him, exercising his rights wherever he may happen to be, whether it is on land or on the high seas. "There are those who attempt to make political capital out of the prosperity we now enjoy. Everyone knows how suddenly it arose and how suddenly it is likely to depart. Our friends on the other side made very eloquent promises. The promises they make now could not be more eloquent

"They told us they were going to accomplish extraordinary things. They were going to reduce the cost of living; they were going to increase the opportunities for labor; they were going to provide adequate revenue for the government through their new system; they were going to afford new opportunities to American enterprise. "They haven't touched the cost of living; that inseparable companion, that unwelcome guest, the high cost of living, is still with us, a little higher and a little stronger than ever before. Instead of reducing the cost of living, these opportunities for making a living were reduced. We have not forgotten the condition which obtained twenty-two months ago. What is the reason for the present prosperity? "The reason," Mr. Hughes said, "lies in the European war and the demands for American goods created by the war. "The nominee went into details as to conditions abroad, reiterating that the industrial plants of most of the belligerent nations "had not been touched" by the war and that Europe would be better organized and better disciplined after the war than ever before.
