

FLASHES FROM FILMLAND

Strand Promises a Bill Interesting to Everybody

Three unusually pleasing, as well as humanly interesting, stories hold forth at the Strand this week, commencing today, when the offering is the film debut of the actor, Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, in "Old Folks at Home." The program will also be enhanced by a comedy and Pathe weekly.

For election night William S. Hart is featured in "The Return of Draw Egan," while an extra performance will be given from 11 p. m. to 1 a. m. A direct Western Union wire will be run into the theater, so that Strand patrons will receive the reports first hand.

Friday and Saturday Bertha Kalich and Stuart Holmes are seen in a typical Fox visualization, "Love and Hate," interesting and entertaining all the way through.

Mary Pickford, of course, holds forth from November 14 to 18, in the greatest triumph of her career, "Less Than Dust."

Program of Variety Booked At the Princess Theater

At the Princess theater today is billed a railroad story, "For Love and Gold"; a drama, "Her Vanished Youth"; and comedy, "Sweedy, the Anitor," and a photoplay featuring Francis Ford and Grace Cunard. Monday a three-reel comedy, "Alice in Society," and a drama, "The Cry of Conscience." Tuesday, the thirteenth episode of "Liberty," also "Animated Weekly" and comedy. Wednesday, the ninth episode of "The Yellow Menace," "The Mantle of Deceit" and "Mutt and Jeff" cartoons. Thursday, "Gloriana," featuring the child actress, Zoe Rae. Friday, "The Heritage of Hate." Saturday the Christie comedies will be shown. The comedy this week is "His Wedding Night," "The Masked Woman" and "In Love With a Fireman" will be shown, too.

Muse Has Fine Bill Laid Out for Week

Beginning Sunday and on Monday the attraction at the Muse will be an adaptation of William J. Locke's novel, "Jeffery," starring C. Aubrey Smith and Eleanor Woodruff. A new reel and comedy will also be on the bill.

Sessue Hayakawa and Myrtle Stedman in "The Soul of Kur-San," which will be seen Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, with a combination of artists of different types in a thrilling Japanese-American drama. An International News reel showing the latest and a comic cartoon complete the bill.

Friday and Saturday Louise Huff and Jack Pickford in a picturization of Booth Tarkington's humorous masterpiece "Seventeen" will be the offering.

Boulevard Theater Presents "An International Marriage"

The Boulevard offers a feature picture, "An International Marriage." The Burton Holmes Travelog will be shown, too. "The Diamond Runners" which is shown Monday features Helen Holmes.
