Perseverance is the Cardinal Virtue in Advertising. Here is the proper way to begin and end a telephone conversation: The telephone bell rings, and the person answering says: "Morton & Company, Mr. Baker speaking."

The business is transacted. Mr. Wood says, "Good-bye, Mr. Baker," and he receives the reply, "Good-bye, Mr. Wood," and the conversation ends without the feeling that one or the other has been cut off abruptly.

Germany Does Not Forget Its Poet-Dramatist Coburg, Germany, Sept. 23.—In celebration of the one hundredth birthday of the famous German poet and author, Gustav Freytag, his drama, "Graf Woldemar," was presented at the court theater, with his son, Prof. Dr. Freytag, in the title role.

Did you ever say, after completing a telephone conversation, "I'll bet that man is a regular grouch," or, "I'll never buy another thing at that store." Why did you make such a remark? It was probably because the party on the other end of the telephone wire failed to use telephone courtesy.
