For Booklovers

Fiction.
THE LAST DITCH. By Will Livingston. Comfort, New York. George H. Doran Co. $1.15

The author's most brilliant novel of love, peril and adventure. Two beautiful women, master portraits by a master painter, lend distinction to this last moving tale. All the mystery and gorgeous color of the east is here, the narrow, crooked, lamp-lit streets of a Chinese seaport, the hot, dusty flatness of the desert toward Tibet, the cool sharp air of the hill country at dusk.

MEN, WOMEN AND GUNS. By "Sapper". New York. George H. Doran Co. $1.25

Like a new star rising out of the smoky clouds of war has appeared this new literary genius who writes under the name of "Sapper." These remarkable tales are of men and women whose lives were twisted as suddenly, tangled as wildly, changed as utterly as the barbed wire of the trenches under the waking of the guns.

THE SNOW BURNER. By Henry Owen. New York. George H. Doran Co. $1.25

Reverie, the snow burner, is like no other character in fiction save possibly the grim figure of Jack London's "Sea Wolfe." The story of the fight with the young eastern college athlete is one of the most gripping scenes in recent fiction.

LOCAL COLOR. By Irvin S. Cobb. New York. George H. Doran Co. $1.25

Irvin S. Cobb is a master of the short story. In this new volume of tales—some humorous, some pathetic—every one dramatic, Cobb is at his best.

FIBBLE D. D. By Irvin S. Cobb. New York. George H. Doran Co. $1.25

Cobb has done it again! Fibble D. D. is as hilariously ridiculous—as soberly funny—as much of a scream—as "Speaking of Operations." It is all about a mincing, namby-pamby young curate who tries in vain to shepherd a boys' camp, chaperone a crowd of young ladies through Europe and teach giggling students of a young ladies' seminary.

A GILDED VANITY. By Richard Dehan. New York. George H. Doran Co. $1.40

Here is a surprise for all lovers of "The Dope Doctor"—that grim epic of the South African veldt. This is a novel of English society life—the Riviera—marriage à la mode. Deft, graceful, lightly handled—a triumph in a new vein.

THE LION'S SHARE. By Arnold Bennett. New York. George H. Doran Co. $1.40

Here is Arnold Bennett in his lighter vein—the Arnold Bennett who gave us "Buried Alive." This amusing story of Audrey Moze, who had an appetite for life and wanted the lion's share of it, is full of deft sketches of entertaining characters, surprising situations and interesting discussions of modern problems.

KINSMEN. By Percival J. Cooney. New York. George H. Doran Co. $1.40

This is a delightful historical novel of the year 1837 in Canada. Entirely new in its fictional treatment of the Scotch Highland chieftain, who comes to Canada with his loyal clansmen. This is a dramatic story, full of charm, with a surprisingly sweet and wholesome atmosphere, genuine suspense and strong love interest.

MY MAN. By C. E. L. New York. George H. Doran Co. 60 cents

During all the slow terrible months of agony, the woman at home has been pouring out her heart in sweet sympathy and cheer to her man at the front. The soul of England is in these simple touching exalted letters from an English wife and mother to her man "somewhere in France."

THE DARLING AND OTHER STORIES. By Edna St. Vincent Millay. New York. George H. Doran Co. $1.40

This volume which contains a number of noted stories in addition to The Darling, is prefaced by a criticism of Chekhov, written by his fellow-countryman, Tolstoy, and is provided with a general introduction by Edward Garnett.

GIFTS FROM THE DESSERT. By Fred B. Fisher. New York. The Abingdon Press. 40 cents

A beautiful Christmas story, interpreting the gifts of the wise men—gold, frankincense and myrrh. The setting and imagery are oriental, and the illustrations, harmonizing perfectly with the theme, add much to the charm of the book. The book carries a missionary message, and is genuinely spiritual in its suggestion and teaching.

MARY GUSTA. By Joseph C. Lincoln. New York. George H. Doran Co. $1.40

This story is told from Mary 'Gusta's point of view and you may be quite sure it is an original one. In the midst of the managing process a romance develops that holds the interest of every resident on the Cape—and makes a delightfully fitting climax to this delightfully humorous and human story.

ARABIAN NIGHTS ENTERTAINMENTS. With illustrations by Louis Read. New York. Harper & Brothers. $1.40

A book full of the interesting Arabian Nights narrative which has been so popular. This book is beautifully illustrated and decorated in fact, has over 100 illustrations.

UNCLE SAM'S OUTDOOR MAGIC. By Percy Keese Fitzhugh. New York. Harper & Brothers. $1.40

The romance and adventure of reclamation in desert and forest. Told in an extremely interesting way and illustrated.

THE SHINING ADVENTURE. By Dana Burnell. New York. Harper & Brothers. $1.40

This is indeed a beautiful story and told in a beautiful way that goes right to the heart. A little knight with his little tin sword and his expedition in search of a kingdom, how he braves the park for the gardener for a penny in order that the poor little children from Unintentional Street may share its beauties with him and all of his other adventures from a narrative which is exceptionally good.

THE VERMILION BOX. By E. V. Lucas. New York. George H. Doran Co. $1.40

This jolly little novel is ideally designed to cheer a world depressed by war. There is quaintness and typical Lucas flavor in these quiet, amusing letters from a young British volunteer, his mother, aunts and uncles, and the girl he "meets by mail."

MASTER SIMON'S GARDEN. By Cornelia Midge. New York. The MacMillan Co. $1.40

A panorama of American history set forth in a story of delicate fancy

Attacked by Hawk, Postal Clerk Seeks Refuge Under Desk

Somewhere Lawrence Proulx, assistant superintendent of mails, heard that if a person is attacked by a hawk that animal will loosen its hold only by having its feet burned. This information served him in good stead yesterday afternoon when in the course of his duty he examined a strange paper corrugated box from which muffled sounds were emanating. Closer examination disclosed a large, gray, angry hawk which became all the angrier when the assistant superintendent tried to soothe its ruffled feelings with a gentle stroke.

With a cry of triumph the feathered cannibal made straight for Lawrence, who managed to save himself by ducking under a desk. It was some fight and finally ended when the weakened bird flopped over in despair. Lawrence Proulx lost no time in putting the hawk back in its box.

The animal was sent from Friend, Neb., to the Northwestern School of Taxidermy to be mounted.

There is a ruling in the parcels post service which forbids the sending of live animals through the mails.

Sea Surgeons Watch And Wait for You

Would you like to have a minor operation performed free of charge by Uncle Sam's surgeons? If so, join the navy. A recent order to the local navy recruiting office permits the signing of men with minor defects who can be cured by minor operations. Applicants having bad teeth, tonsillitis or flat feet are now enlisted and cured at government expense. Willis D. Gould of Omaha was the first recruit to take advantage of the opportunity. He enlisted yesterday although having bad teeth.
