WILLIAM BOTT GETS SAD NEWS FROM WAR

Learns that Many Relatives Have Been Killed in the European War.

THREE OF THEM PRISONERS

When the war broke out, William Bott of Omaha heard from his old home in Hanover, Germany, that seven of his nephews were engaged in the struggle in some of the Hanoverian corps.

Friday he learned that four of them have been killed, and three of them are prisoners. One of these is in a are prisoners. One of these is in a prison camp in France, and one of them has been sent to the wilds of Siberia, whence few prisoners return. Nothing has been heard of the one who was sent to Siberia and it is feared he, too, is dead by this time. One of the young men was killed in the first onslaught on Liege, and others wounded.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE. Spectacular Demand Outstripping Supply

Speciacular Demand Outstripping Supply Continues.

New York, Nev 17.—Dun's tomorrow will say:
The speciacular demand outstripping supply at the highest prices of modern times. Competitive bidding and increasing costs of production steadily accentuate the strength of the leading commedities, the strength of the leading commedities, and in the same of the sagersess of buyers. The rush to get forward orders on the books of producers in practically general and in some purchasings exceeded well into 1114, but the works nearly everywhere are so closely sold up and shead that each week the number of rejected contracts increases. Some manufacturers have virtually withdrawn from the markets, either through inability to engage themselves further, or because of the prespect that quotations will so still higher and buyers who previously held off now experience much difficulty in covering their requirements.
