The Busy Bees

JUDSON FREEMAN, national boy scout organizer, disseminated a great deal of information on scouting in Omaha last week. He told the aims of scouting, requirements for organizing, what it expected from its members and what members gain in return.

A Scout Is Trustworthy—A Scout's honor is to be trusted. If he were to violate his honor by telling a lie, or by cheating, or by not doing exactly a given task, when trusted on his honor, he may be directed to hand over his Scout badge.

A Scout Is Loyal—He is loyal to all to whom loyalty is due; his Scout leader, his home and parents and country.

A Scout Is Helpful—He must be prepared at any time to save life, help injured persons, and share the home duties. He must do at least one good turn to somebody every day.

A Scout Is Courteous—He is polite to all, especially to women, children, old people and the weak and helpless. He must not take pay for being helpful or courteous.

A Scout Is Kind—He is a friend to animals. He will not kill nor hurt any living creature needlessly, but will strive to save and protect all harmless life.

A Scout Is Obedient—He obeys his parents, scout master, patrol leader, and all other duly constituted authorities.

A Scout Is Cheerful—He smiles whenever he can. His obedience to orders is prompt and cheery. He never shirks nor grumbles at hardships.

A Scout Is Thrifty—He does not wantonly destroy property. He works faithfully, wastes nothing, and makes the best use of his opportunities.

A Scout Is Clean—He keeps clean in body and thought, stands for clean speech, clean sport, clean habits and travels with a clean crowd.

A Scout Is Brave—He has the courage to face danger in spite of fear and has to stand up for the right against the coaxings of friends or the jeers or threats of enemies, and defeat does not down him.

A Scout Is Reverent—He is reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties and respects the conviction of others in matters of custom and religion.

that I ever wrote. I hope it will be printed. My folks do not take The Omaha Bee, but one of my neighbors does, and I sometimes read the stories in the paper. I thought I would write a story. I hope it isn't against the rules, because I would like to have my story printed.

Four Little Rabbits.

By Marguerite Geiser, Aged 11 Years, Columbus, Neb. Red Side. Once upon a time there were four little rabbits. Their names were Cottontail, Mopsy, Flopsy and their mother. Their mother said they should go and pick berries and not go in Mr. Macreger's garden.

Has No More Pets.

By Mildred Rolad, Aged 13 Years, Ainsworth, Neb. My birthday is on November 17, and I am in the seventh grade. I went to a country school for the first time this term. I live on a ranch, eleven miles from Ainsworth, Neb. This is my first letter to the Busy Bees.

Hallow'en Party.

By Leona Walter, Aged 11 Years, Wahoo, Neb. Blue Side. It is quite late to be telling about Hallow'en, but as I have nothing else to write just now I will tell you what a good time I had at a party. It was given by four girls. The home where it was given was decorated with many things, such as bats, cats, witches and pumpkins.

Unfortunate Accident.

By Ethel Kimble, Aged 13 Years, Box 86, Creighton, Neb. Blue Side. About three years ago I was standing near the stove. I went to jump down and I caught the bottom of my dress on the teakettle, which was full of boiling water. It fell on my leg, scalding it so bad that I began rubbing it. Of course, the skin was rubbed off, making it hurt all the worse.

A Trip to Elba.

By Bridget Pawloski, Age 9, Farwell, Neb. Blue Side. One day in summer we thought we would go and visit around, so we packed our clothes, then started out. We passed Warsaw and St. Paul. Then we had to cross a river. Papa said: "Shall I drive into the river?" but this made us scared and we were about crying. Then we went on until we reached Elba, in the evening. We played a while and then went to bed. On Sunday we had a good time. We caught chickens, geese, ducks, cats, dogs and put them into a pen and played we had a circus, and the fowls and animals were for wild animals.

How to Name the States

How many Busy Bees know the order in which the thirteen original states were settled? Judson P. Freeman of Chicago, representing the Boy Scouts of America, is here for a few weeks, working with the Rotary club in the interests of the Scout movement. At Castelar school community-center the other evening he asked the audience the question and then he told the following little story, which he said would serve as a memory jogger when trying to answer the question about the thirteen states: "A young lady by the name of Virginia went to visit friends at New York, where she bought a new jersey. The following morning she went to them was such a good rat dog as that one. I will close now, hoping to hear from some of the Busy Bees.

Rescued From Indians.

By Frances Tomjack, Aged 11 Years, Ewing, Neb. R. K. No. 2. Red Side. Harry was a little boy. One day he had an adventure. He was out playing, when all at once he heard a great noise. He looked up and saw a great bunch of Indians at the village about half a mile away. Smoke was coming up from every house and the people running for their lives. He thought the Indians were burning the village so he ran as fast as his little legs could carry him to the next village to his uncle's house and told him the Indians were coming. His uncle tried to hold him, but he ran on to all the houses and warned the people of the Indians.

Election at School.

By Lucile Borvych, Aged 12 Years, Farwell, Neb. Blue Side. We were playing that we were to elect on election day, too. In our room we all elected Wilson except Anna Olsen, who elected Hughes. The dry amendment vote was 26 and the wet amendment was 18. We had some fun. I voted for Wilson. I think he is a nice man. We take Current Events, that is why I know a little about him. I hope he will be elected.

By Edythe Somers, Aged 8 Years, Blue Side, Omaha. I would like to join the Busy Bees. This fall we took a trip in an auto. We were about 100 miles from the Texas state line. We had a fine time. Tell all the Busy Bees that I would be glad to have them write to me. I will answer them all.

Nuxated Iron to Make New Age of Beautiful Women and Vigorous Iron Men

Say Physicians—Quickly Puts Roses Into The Cheeks of Women and Most Astonishing Youthful Power Into the Veins of Men—It Often Increases the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Nervous, "Run-Down" Folks 200 Per Cent in Two Weeks' Time.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY WHICH PROMISES TO MARK A NEW ERA IN MEDICAL SCIENCE

New York, N. Y.—Since the remarkable discovery of organic iron, Nuxated Iron, or "Fer Nuxate," as the French call it, has taken the country by storm. It is conservatively estimated that over five million persons daily are taking it in this country alone. Most astonishing results are reported from its use by both physicians and laymen. So much so that doctors predict that we shall soon have a new age of far more beautiful, rosy-cheeked women and vigorous iron men. Dr. King, a New York physician and author, when interviewed on the subject, said: "There can be no vigorous iron men without iron. Pallor means anemia. Anemia means iron deficiency. The skin of anemic men and women is pale. The flesh flabby. The muscles lack tone; the brain frays and the memory fails and often they become weak, nervous, irritable, despondent and melancholy. When the iron goes from the blood of women, the roses go from their cheeks. "In the most common foods of America, the starches, sugars, table syrups, candies, polished rice, white bread, soda crackers, biscuits, macaroni, spaghetti, tapioca, sago, farina, degenerated cornmeal, no longer is iron to be found. Refining processes have removed the iron of Mother Earth from these impoverished foods and silly methods of home cookery, by throwing down the waste pipe the water in which our vegetables are and see how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while double their strength and endurance and entirely rid themselves of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate, or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. The iron demanded by Mother Nature for the red coloring matter in the blood of her children is, alas! not that kind of iron. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated, so do you it to yourself to make the following test:

See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary reduced iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.
