JEWISH CHURCH IN POLAND RECOGNIZED

Given Legal Status as Religious Organization by Teuton Order.

MANIFESTO'S PROVISIONS

Berlin, Nov. 18.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—General von Beseler, governor-general of Russian Poland, has issued an order at Warsaw in regard to the organization of a Jewish religious body in Poland, by which self-government is given to the Polish Jews.

"Under Russian rule the Jews in Poland, as in all Russia, lived almost without a religious organization," says the Overseas News agency, in describing the new order. The hostility of the Russian authorities against the Jews found expression in well-known laws and in uninterrupted persecutions and oppression of the Jewish community, as well as in the fact that a religious body to which 14 per cent of the population of Poland belongs was deprived of all uniform organizations. Only the formation of organizations of isolated parishes was allowed, and the union of parishes into a larger organization was forbidden, says the news agency.

The Present Order.

"By the present order of the governor-general, the members of the Jewish church are recognized as a religious body according to public right. Local Jewish communities in the counties, according to the new order, are united to county organizations. The heads of these county organizations are administrative councils, which are made up from the boards of the smaller communities and selected according to the principles of proportional representation.

"The administrative council will be composed of eleven members, of whom three must be rabbis. At the head of the Jewish religious body will be a supreme Jewish council, provisionally composed according to proportional representation. The supreme council, according to the order, has twenty-one members, of whom fourteen must be laymen and seven rabbis.

Managed by Board.

"The local communities will be administered through a board elected by the citizens of the Jewish parish under majority rule. This board will have four members in addition to the rabbis. For the largest local communities a special organization has been provided. This will be under the rule of an assembly of parish delegates, which will have parliamentary functions, and of an administrative council, which will have administrative functions. The election of parish delegates will be according to the proportional system and in two sections. Each section will elect the same number of delegates. Peoples without a school education, those who have attended a special trade or agricultural school, and Jewish citizens, who, on account of their knowledge of Jewish literature, have received the title of rabbi, will vote in the first section. All other classes will vote in the second section. The parish delegates also will have a part in the administrative council.

Allowed to Organize.

"The formation of associations for divine service will be allowed in every community. Thus a guarantee is given that no religious tendency can be suppressed by the majority. To the community will be given the right to the religious life and education of the young, charity and social work. The local communities, the county communities and the general religious body, as represented by the supreme council, will have the right to levy taxes and will possess the privileges of incorporated public corporations.

Task of Council.

"The task of the supreme council will be, above all, the reform of the institution of rabbi, through providing good conditions. Similar in intent also is the proposed promotion of other Jewish schools, especially by the construction of special schools in which the leading Jews of Poland can press on bravely toward a better future. The Russian plutocracy electoral system in certain communities is abolished and the electoral rights of large communities are recognized.

Chihuahua City to "Hunt Down" Villa

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 18.—Late this afternoon an official statement from Chihuahua City reached the border, conveying General Trevino's announcement that he himself was taking the field against Villa and the vanguard of his troops had gone to Santa Rosalia, which is to be the base of operations. General Gonzalez Cuellar will take charge in the Chihuahua capital it was announced.

General Trevino's announcement that he would take the field against Villa in person at the head of his division, caused much surprise and considerable alarm here among Americans and Mexicans who have interests in Chihuahua City. They say the announcement of General Trevino is taking his forces from Chihuahua City leaving only a small force to defend the city, is practically an evacuation of the state capital.

HUGHES REGAINS MINNESOTA LEAD

Wilson Creeps Up on Rival When Mistake Is Made, But Later Loses It.

NO CHANGE IN CALIFORNIA

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 18.—A mistake in the tabulation of the Minnesota votes in the presidential race early today, by which President Wilson was placed within less than a hundred votes of Mr. Hughes, was discovered this afternoon. The lead is changed again to Mr. Hughes' favor by 414 votes.

Wilson Gains in New Mexico.

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 18.—While Charles E. Hughes was gaining fifty-one votes today, on official returns from five counties in New Mexico, President Wilson was receiving an increase of 234, bringing his lead back to a point well above its mark Wednesday, when he lost 185 votes. He gained 138 yesterday. No precincts which had previously returned returns were represented in the reports today, fourteen still remaining to be heard from. The totals stand: Hughes, 29,951; Wilson, 32,077.

Little Change in California.

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 18.—Thirty-three California counties out of fifty-eight have filed their election returns today with Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, for final and official canvass. A staff of twenty-five experts are at work on the returns and have completed the count of six of the smaller counties. The work, according to law, must be finished on Monday, November 27. Plans announced early today for continuing the count night and day were abandoned temporarily tonight, when it was found impossible to secure enough skilled workers to handle the returns. No important discrepancies have been discovered in the counties thus far completed.

Indian Reservation in Alaska Is Now Forest Reserve

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 12.—The old Kasaan national monument, consisting of thirty-eight acres within the Tongass national forest, Alaska, has been created by presidential proclamation as a result of recommendations made by the secretary of agriculture. The tract embraces the abandoned Haida Indian village of Old Kasaan, situated on Prince of Wales island, in southeastern Alaska, about thirty miles west of Ketchikan. The village was abandoned by the Indians about ten years ago. Among the relics which remain there are about fifty Indian totem poles, five or six of which are classed as exceeding in good specimens. In the deserted village, there are also eight large square buildings which were originally constructed according to the peculiar plan of the Haida Indians, and which, it is stated by those best qualified to know, represent the best specimens of Haida architecture that now exist. The largest of these buildings is approximately forty by sixty feet in size and is made entirely of round and carved timbers. There also remain a number of Indian graves, with the typical small grave houses erected by the Alaskan Indians.

Since the village was abandoned by the Indians the buildings have been rapidly falling into a state of dilapidation and decay, and a certain amount of vandalism by tourists and souvenir hunters renders some form of protection essential. An examination of the area was made jointly by representatives of the forest service and of the Interior department, and reports strongly urging the establishment of a national monument were approved by the secretaries of both departments. The Smithsonian institution strongly endorsed the proposition for the establishment of a national monument to be protected and administered by the forest service, as is the case with all monuments located within the national forests.

Evade the Law by Putting Fish Into the Butter

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.) Berlin, Nov. 10.—The authorities have discovered a clever, though simple, method of getting around maximum prices for butter and the general prohibition of selling it in more than quarter pound lots. It consists of "battered herring," consisting of one very small, thin herring, encased in about a pound of butter, which has been selling on the Berlin market for some 9 marks a pound.

Before the authorities discovered the ruse dealers who had managed to get both fish and butter from Denmark and had succeeded in disposing of hundreds of pounds. Many customers bought in twenty, fifty and 100-pound lots, gladly paying the extraordinary price or any price for the chance to get butter again, even though most of them threw away the tiny fish, and with it lost some little of the butter that clung to its skinny sides.

Lee Axworthy Will Be Sent to Kentucky Farm

Lee Axworthy wound up his turf career by pulling a wagon with one of his owners, H. K. Devereaux, driving in 1924. The announcement of Devereaux, Frank Ellis, Coburn Haslam and P. W. Harvey that the track days of the champion were over was a surprise. Lee is only 5 years of age. His owners decided he had gained all the honors possible by trotting 24 1/2 seconds faster than any other stallion. Lee will go to Castleton farm, where The Harvester and Bingen made their homes while in Kentucky.

Council Bluffs ALDERMEN MEET THE LIGHT COMPANY MEN

Trying to Fine Cause of Delay in the Matter of Making New Contract.

THREE SYSTEMS PROPOSED

Chairman Williams of the fire and light committee of the city council, and Aldermen Olson and Clawson held a conference yesterday afternoon with Manager English and Charles Hansen of the Citizens' Gas and Electric Light company.

The conference was brought about by the comment being made upon the delay in making the new contract, which, since the elimination of the tax, is costing the city heavily for street lighting and preventing the private consumers getting the 25 per cent reduction provided for by the proposed new contract.

The delay is not attributable to the members of the council. A majority of them have favored the acceptance of the contract offered by Manager English, and the fire and light committee has been ready to unanimously recommend it. The delay has been due entirely to a desire to change the lighting system and substitute 400-candle power incandescents strung on pedestals 100 feet apart on both sides of the streets for the present 5,000-candle power flaming arcs in the business section of the city. This would cost nearly $5,000 more than the tax levy, now up to its limit, will bring in, and to make such a thing possible the council has been urged by the Chamber of Commerce committee to discontinue all of the flaming arcs on Broadway west of the Illinois Central railroad and put little 400-candle power incandescents in their place, thereby saving one-half the cost of the big arcs.

Installs Three Lights.

To show just what would be the result of this change, Manager English installed three of the 400-candle power lights on West Broadway without disturbing the flaming arcs. The lights were then alternately turned on and off.

The test was made Thursday night in the presence of members of the council and Chairman Wallace and members of his committee, while several hundred interested West Enders looked on. The contrast between the large and small lights was so great that all agreed the experiment could not be tried. The test was discussed at the committee meeting yesterday afternoon and the decision reached that the change would not be made.

It was the sentiment of the light committee that there should be no more delay in accepting the contract submitted by Manager English. It will save the city nearly $2,000 annually on the street lighting bill and save the small consumer 25 per cent of the amount of his monthly bill if the bill ranges even between 30 cents and $2 a month. This is the first contract ever offered the city where the greatest benefit reaches the small consumer.

The tax levy for the street lighting fund produces about $21,000 a year and expenditures cannot go beyond that without somebody getting in jail. Three propositions were submitted yesterday afternoon, the first continuing the present lighting system, increasing the number of lights, but still keeping the cost within the safe limit, the other two contemplating the pedestal two-light system, but forcing the cost away from the danger line. Following are the three:

Table with 2 columns: Description of lighting system and Estimated cost.

This will allow for three extra flaming arc lamps, and seventy-nine more 60 candle power lamps for residence districts, at a cost of $1,450.75, making a total cost of $20,993.50.

Second Proposed Lighting System. 72 one-light posts with one 400 c. p. lamp, at $30.00, $2,160.00. 92 two-light posts with two 400 c. p. lamps, at $25.00, $2,304.00. 46 flaming arc lamps, overhead system, at $7.25, 2,574.25. 400 c. p. lamps, present common area, at $1.00, 217.00. 899, 80 c. p. lamps, at $1.90, 14,384.00. Total, $24,949.25.

This does not allow any extra lamps for the residence districts, and is $3,948 more than the levy.

Third Proposed Lighting System. 72 one-light posts with one 400 c. p. lamp, at $30.00, $2,160.00. 92 two-light posts with two 400 c. p. lamps, at $25.00, $2,304.00. 46 flaming arc lamps, overhead system, at $7.25, 2,574.25. 400 c. p. lamps, present common area, at $1.00, 217.00. 899, 80 c. p. lamps, at $1.90, 14,384.00. Total, $24,949.25.

This does not allow any extra lamps for the residence districts, and is $3,018 more than the levy.

BELGIANS DEPORTED BY THE THOUSANDS

In Many Places All Males Over 17 Summoned to Appear Before Authorities.

WOMEN STORM THE TRAINS

The Hague (Via London), Nov. 18.—The number of Belgians deported by the Germans up to date, according to information given the Associated Press today from a reliable source, apparently is between 30,000 and 40,000, and they are being deported at the rate of about 2,000 daily.

Antwerp, it was said, has been commanded to furnish 27,000, which probably is not more than 10 per cent of its able-bodied population, but the commune of Lessines has lost more than 7,000, representing virtually every able-bodied man, excepting officials.

People Terrorized.

The entire Belgian population, the narrator said, is terrorized because the people realize they are entirely helpless. Crowds of hysterical women and children gather at the railway and recruiting stations, and many women at Jamappes threw themselves on the rails to prevent the departure of a train of emigrants and had to be forcibly removed by German soldiers. The men are frequently loaded into cattle cars and spend one or two days on the journey. They are strongly determined to refuse to work, believing that if they are not employed in military works, they will be compelled to replace Germans and be forced to work directly or indirectly against the Belgian army and its allies. The deported men, passing through Liege, are declared to have been heard singing the Marseillaise and other patriotic airs.

Tied to Posts.

The newspaper reports a case near Valenciennes of sixty Frenchmen, who, impressed by the Germans, refused to work and are declared to have been tied to posts for forty-eight hours until half of them fainted from hardships and hunger.

Many prominent Belgians are reported not to have hesitated to risk their liberty by the strongest of protests to the German authorities against the deportations. Various official bodies have drafted resolutions of protest and the senators and deputies of Antwerp and Hainault provinces have taken especially strong action in the premises and are said to be daily expecting deportation.

Neutrals in Belgium, especially the ministers, are receiving many appeals to try and induce their governments to intervene. The newspaper La Libre Belgique, which has maintained a wide circulation throughout Belgium for more than a year, despite the efforts of the Germans to discover its authors and suppress the sheet, has published a special number containing an appeal to the neutral nations.

Must Bring Books.

The officers deputed for the enrollment of the workmen are said to pay visits to various towns and order the assembly at the railway stations of virtually all males, under heavy penalties for refusal to comply. The wording of the notices varies in the different sections of Belgium and northern France. One notice posted in northern France gives assurances that the men will not be employed under continuous fire. The Antwerp order notifies students to bring their books and musicians their instruments. The authorities promise the men good wages and liberty to remit money from Germany to their families in Belgium. All of them are offered an opportunity to sign a voluntary agreement to work. They are informed, it was stated, that if they refuse to sign they will be treated worse, but virtually all refuse to do so.

Unfit Eliminated.

Wherever the males assembled for deportation doctors examine them and the physically unfit are eliminated, together with municipal and relief officials. Those without regular employment are the first selected for deportation.

The principal object of the deportations, it was said, appears to be to secure skilled workers. Men regularly employed have been enrolled from several communes. A large number was taken at Jamappes from factories which were running and were self-supporting, and bank employees were impressed at Mons.

Despite the statements credited to German officers that the deported men will be employed in military work, the Belgians are declared to fear the contrary, as it has been reported that large bodies of men have been taken to northern France and employed in cutting timbers for trenches and that others in northern Belgium have been forced to dig trenches.

Want 300,000.

London, Nov. 17.—Thirty thousand Belgians already have been deported to Germany, according to information received here through official channels. Reports from the same source say the Germans plan to take some 300,000, judged from the order issued in a number of cities for all males over 17 to report for inspection.

The municipal council of Tournai has formally declined to accede to the German demands, the reports say, protesting that hitherto it had acquiesced to all German orders. General Hopffer thereupon imposed a fine of 20,000 marks, it is added, for the refusal of the council to furnish a list of male inhabitants, with as long as the council refused to give the list.

All Over 17, Summoned.

A circumstantial report from the Mons district says that the entire male population over 17, was summoned to report at German headquarters at 8 o'clock on the morning of October 26. The priests, professors, teachers local officials, members of the food committee, and the physically defective were dismissed, but it is added, 1,200 men, composing 20 per cent of the eligible males, both employed and unemployed, were selected and immediately placed on cattle trucks and started for Germany. Being ignorant of the purpose of the summons, the men had assembled without clothing for traveling and without food, and relatives who hurried to the station with food and clothing were refused access to the men, the reports add.
