Blouse Shop, Second Floor.

TOCKS are complete now in the Linen Store for the great Thanksgiving occasion.

Back of this sale is the wonderful buying power of this great store. Linens, as you undoubtedly know, have risen to prohibitive prices, owing to the difficulty of importing them from abroad and the scarcity of labor to produce them.

The business of this great Store is to help our customers over the difficult places, and in this instance, we are proud to say that our foresight will enable you to buy Linens here for this Thanksgiving season that will actually put back money into your pockets. The prices today and the prices we quote here are so radically different, that every woman will immediately appreciate the economy importance of this offering.
