

STIRRING TIME AT LINCOLN EXPECTED

Changes in Primary and Election Laws Likely to Be Considered.

OTHER QUESTIONS ARISING

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Prospects are pretty good that the next session of the legislature will be one of the most interesting for years if rumors going about indicate anything.

Changes in the present primary law and also in the election law will be something which will engross the attention of the members. That the primary law needs revision so that at least a majority vote of any party will be necessary to nominate the party nominees, is the prevailing opinion.

Favored by Many. That there should be some method devised to get a quicker return on election results is also being discussed and the double election board appears to meet with favor by many.

The idea of those who favor the double election board is that it takes just about so long to count the ballots anyway and a second board was put on about 10 o'clock in the morning to take charge of the balloting, the first board could take charge of their ballot boxes and count what ballots had been cast.

Would Promote Accuracy. Friends of the plan insist that the double election board would assist materially in getting a more correct count, as with one board, as at the present time, workers are pretty well tired out when the polls close, having put in twelve hours of hard work with responsibility that is tiring, and then to have to keep on with a count is likely to result in probable errors which would not be made were the count to be made by men with plenty of time to do it.

Question of Capitol Wing. Another important proposition is the state house controversy, involving repairs of the present dilapidated east wing, or the building of an entirely new state house.

Unsafe For Any, So For All. Then again attention is called to the proposition that if the building is unsafe for the house to hold its sessions, how about the different departments of state, which are already occupying the east wing.

Indian Summer Day Helps Save Omaha Coal Bin

ers of the summer that was. Dead leaves crumbled beneath the press of feet in the parks and a lazy breeze here and there was lured from its winter quarters.

Saves Coal Bin. Householders gloated because they could put the soft pedal on the coal question. Motorists filled the air with fumes, of gasoline reverberations of honk-honk instruments.

It was a day of rest and gladness and sunshine and optimism. The man with a grouch was made to feel ashamed of himself. One male grouch was moved to smile when a street car conductor gave him nickles and dimes in charge for a $5 bill.

Behind the beautiful scene of yesterday was observed a grim-visaged figure whose name was Old Man Winter. He was champing at the bit and seemed eager to come in. Trying to push him in were several coal dealers, plumbers and makers of ear muffs and overshoes.

Yesterday passed like a dream of days and whether or not better or worse days ensue, it was a beautiful day while it lasted and Omaha was truly thankful for nature's beneficence.

Bachelors, Beaten By Hard Times, Will Submit to Marriage

Lincoln, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—The high cost of living which has been so hard on the average man of a family appears to have hit the unmarried man just as hard, and as a result five Lincoln bachelors, well known over the state, have had their pictures published in Lincoln papers, evidently willing to take a chance on matrimony, rather than to put up longer with boarding house grub and other things which come under the needs of the average bachelor.

Some of these, if not all, are well fixed. They could have taken on matrimonial duties long ago without any perceptible decrease in their bank accounts. Some of them have automobiles. Windows in stores where these pictures have been shown this week have been almost hidden from view by the admirers of the bunch which is headed by Thomas L. Hall, railway commissioner; Allen W. Field, jr., prominent attorney; Daniel McClanahan, former city attorney; Bruce Fullerton, police judge, and Arthur Beckmann, well known merchant.

FREEDOM FOR JEWS AMERICA'S DEMAND

German Privates Made Prisoners Can Be Trusted, However, Is Assertion.

WANT ONLY JUSTICE ALLEGED INSTANCES GIVEN

"Freedom for the Jews of the world, religious, political, economic freedom, as one result of the European war is what the Jews of America are hoping and working for." This is the statement of Colonel Harry Cutler of Providence, R. I., a member of the executive committee of the American Jewish committee, American Jewish Relief committee and other organizations which have raised nearly $6,000,000 this year for relief of the Jews in war-stricken countries, who has been in Omaha on business the last two days.

Brother vs. Brother in Trenches. "This is more important even than the material remedial measures which our committees have provided and will continue to provide. Today the Jews of all the warring countries are fighting. Many thousands have given their lives and lost their property. They have fought, brother against brother and father against son, because before the war families were scattered in various countries, and they have fought as bravely as the bravest.

"Now, when the war is over shall they not be rewarded for their patriotism by coming into their own? Shall they not gain in those countries all the equality and justice which they have in the United States and which makes the United States a nation to which the Jewish race will forever have the greatest gratitude?"

That Free-Loan Fund. This fund, as stated in Saturday's dispatches in your paper, will be probably the largest ever raised for such a purpose. It will be provided by Jewish philanthropists in this country to be administered on the order of free-loan funds found in all states and communities in this country.

Canadian Soldiers Say Captive Teuton Officers Are Treacherous

German Privates Made Prisoners Can Be Trusted, However, Is Assertion.

WANT ONLY JUSTICE ALLEGED INSTANCES GIVEN

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 19.—Canadian soldiers have learned to treat with good nature and trust the privates captured in the ranks of their German adversaries, but the Teuton officers "have gained a reputation for unspeakable treachery," according to an official communication issued here by the Canadian war records office, describing in detail the taking of the Regina trench by dominion troops at midnight of November 10, after forty-eight hours' artillery bombardment.

CLUB BUILDING COST TO BE SOME HIGHER

George Brandeis Announces Increased Cost of Materials May Bring it to $450,000.

Omaha's new Athletic club building will cost between $425,000 and $450,000, it was announced last night by George Brandeis, chairman of the finance committee.

Originally, it was intended to spend not more than $400,000 on the building, but the cost of materials has caused the amount to be raised in order to preserve the original plan of the building, which is to be the last word in athletic clubs.

Mr. Brandeis left last night for New York to do some work in connection with financing the building. Five different builders and banks have made propositions for buying the bonds of the club.

To Sell Bonds Soon. The finance committee expects to have the bonds sold within two weeks, and all financing of the work completed. While in the east, Mr. Brandeis probably will be joined by E. W. Judson, another director, who will inspect the Pittsburgh Athletic club building this week.

Those Who Went Over Lists. The five directors who met at this early hour and worked for two hours before going to their private business were: F. W. Judson, George Brandeis, George E. Haverstick, A. W. Jeffers and W. A. Schall. They were

Chew Slowly and Cut the High Cost of Living

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Leisurely mastication as a factor in reducing the cost of existence was one of the suggestions offered today before the citizens' committee to investigate the high cost of living. C. P. Kinney, who for thirty-six years has been feeding students at Valparaiso, Ind., made the suggestions.

Subjoined in his list of recommendations made to the committee, of which he is chairman: Eat slowly; you don't eat so much as when you eat rapidly. Buy in large quantities. Don't buy food put up in factory paper packages; you can't eat the paper. Don't consume potatoes when they cost more than $1 a bushel; eat rice and hominy.

Some called castor oil honey, and not a one could taste kerosene. Another called a piece of banana cold gravy and another called ground soap ground sulphur.

TESTIMONY BEGINS IN M'DANIELS CASE

Coroner Says He Was Requested by Defendant to Delay the Inquest.

HE LISTENS IN SILENCE

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 19.—Oscar D. McDaniel, prosecuting attorney of Buchanan county, was placed on trial in the criminal court here today on the charge of having murdered his wife. The testimony of the acting coroner when the crime was committed and the police surgeon was presented.

The coroner testified he had been asked by McDaniel to delay the inquest and then when he had determined upon it had been asked by McDaniel to declare that it had been requested by the prosecutor. The police surgeon testified that the blows which killed Mrs. McDaniel were left-handed and that she had been struck "three-quarters of an hour" before he responded to McDaniel's call for a police surgeon.

Did Not Oppose It. On cross-examination it was developed that the police surgeon was not certain whether the blow had been struck by a left-handed or a right-handed person.

Cross-examination of the coroner brought forth the reply that "McDaniels did not tell me not to hold the inquest" and did not oppose it.

The police surgeon told the jury that McDaniel's first statement when police entered the room in which his dead wife lay was: "See what they have done," and that the prosecutor apparently was "grief stricken." After he had bathed the wounded woman's face, the accused man fell beside the bed, the police surgeon testified, but did not faint.

Listens in Silence. Throughout the day both Mrs. Sarah Moss and Miss Aileen Moss, mother and sister of the slain woman, remained seated on the state's side of the attorneys' table. Mr. McDaniel listened silently to the proceedings, seldom speaking to his attorneys or to members of his family who were grouped about him.

Ord Senator Seeks Inspector Job in Federal Land Bank

Lincoln, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Inspector of lands for the federal land bank is a position which it is understood Senator J. A. Ollis, Ord., Neb., stockman, will seek, according to his friends who are interested in seeing him land a good position under the federal government.

The position will pay between $3,000 and $4,000. Location of the Nebraska bank, if this state gets one, will probably be in Omaha or Lincoln, but whether or not the bank comes to the state, Senator Ollis will be an applicant for the job.

The law provides that farmers in any community may form an association for the purpose of obtaining loans from the land bank upon their farms. Before any loan can be made an inspector must make an investigation of the land and report upon the matter.

Three New Captains For Teams to Help Brownell Hall Fund

To*the list of business men who will head teams of workers in the effort to raise $250,000 for the Brownell hall building fund, scheduled for the early part of December, four more names were added yesterday.

These accessions to the number of captains are: Arthur H. Fetters of the Union Pacific Railroad company, Millard M. Robertson, president of the Evans Model laundry; John C. Wharton, attorney and former postmaster, and Charles M. Wilhelm, of the Orchard & Wilhelm company. Those whose names were announced previously were: George Brandeis, Joseph J. Hodges, Thomas A. Fry, William E. Rhoads, J. DeForest Richards, Harry A. Tukey and Clarence H. Walrath.

Although the initial announcement of the money-raising movement was made barely two days ago, more than half of the twenty captains desired for teams of men have been secured. Eleven names now are on the roster, with but nine more squad leaders remaining to be selected.

Advertisement for Postum coffee. Text: IN OUR great-great-grandfathers' time many New England families had a cask of rum in the cellar. It was freely offered to guests (except children) and freely partaken of, even as coffee is today. This old-time custom gradually passed out of existence, for our forefathers recognized it was harmful. Another old-time custom—coffee drinking—is slowly passing in the same fashion and for the same reason. The abandonment of coffee drinking is made easy nowadays by the use of Instant Postum, the pure cereal beverage with the coffee-like taste. Unlike coffee, this purely American table drink contains no "caffeine" or other harmful substance. Postum is now used daily in tens of thousands of the best of American homes where reason rules and health is valued.
