

HOW HOUSE OF HOPE SECURED ITS START

Rev. Charles W. Savidge Prays One Day and Gets Answer on the Next Day.

RESULT IS HOUSE OF HOPE

By A. R. GROH. The House of Hope, for which a financial campaign is now being carried on in Omaha, is the brick-and-stone proof of the power of prayer and faith.

Rev. Charles W. Savidge believes that God speaks directly to him, directs every move he makes, and has inspired the many contributions that have resulted in the $60,000 property as it stands today.

One day in 1906 Rev. Mr. Savidge stood in front of a dilapidated cottage at 1713 California street and, being impressed with the need of a home for old people, he said: "Lord, if You will send me $250 without my asking anyone for it, I will take it as a sign that You mean for me to buy this cottage and begin a home for old folks."

The next day some friends sent him $300 to be used in his work.

How Name Came. He called it the "House of Hope." The work grew marvelously. The funds came in miraculously in response to faith and prayer. Another cottage adjoining was added.

One June day in 1908 Mr. Savidge and his wife were out driving. They passed the Dexter L. Thomas mansion, 956 North Twenty-seventh avenue. Mr. Savidge got out and walked around the vacant house.

"There and then God spoke to me," he said. "He spoke plainly. I heard His voice. 'Buy this place and I'll help you.' I went back to the buggy and said to my wife, 'I'm going to buy this house.' She looked at me and said 'I was crazy. That's all right, ma, but you'll see.' I told her.

Not Very Crazy.

"I went to thirty men and asked each of them for $50. Every one of them gave it to me. With that $1,500 I made the first payment. I organized a board of trustees. Then I went home and spent three solid days in prayer. I didn't go outside of the house. I wrote a paper about God's sure promise to help those who believe in Him and seek to help humanity. I took that paper with me and went down to see George Hoagland. He heard me through and then explained, 'Why you're crazy.'

"Later he told me to get my trustees down to his office. When they were there he said, 'I'll give my check for $2,000, payable when you have raised the rest of the $20,000 that Brother Savidge needs.' Well, Tom Hamilton of Sarpy county gave $1,000. Dave Cole $250, Gould Dietz $250, Dr. Mercer $500. In ninety days the building was paid for and we had $1,000 over. God had lived up to His promise again.

Winning a Farm.

"When we were wondering where funds would come from for the big building of the House of Hope at Florence, Maria Williams of Bellwood, Butler county, died at my house. She owned thirty farms. After dinner, having prayed much for funds, I asked her to come up to my study. I said to her, 'Mrs. Williams, I want you to give me a farm for my new House of Hope.' 'I will do it,' she said, without hesitation. The deed was put in trust of Luther Kuntz. We sold the farm for $21,500. Mrs. Williams was 70 years of age then. She died two months later and left us an additional $1,000 in her will."

The splendid plant of the House of Hope in Florence will accommodate, when all the cottages are completed, about 135 old people. No cheap, pinchbeck institution is this, either. The building is beautiful and substantial. The furniture alone cost upward of $3,000.

Partner With God.

And this has been accomplished by a man who took God at His word, who sees nothing strange in an actual working partnership with the Deity.

He has had the assistance of some of our leading citizens as his board of trustees—G. H. Payne, J. DeForest Richards, N. B. Urdike, Gould Dietz, T. F. Stroud, R. J. Dinning, N. P. Dodge, Dr. J. P. Lord, Thomas Hamilton, Thomas Herd, Francis T. Parker. These men give freely of their time, abilities and means.

All but $12,000 of the new $50,000 building has been paid. The "town house," 956 North Twenty-seventh avenue, will continue to be operated as heretofore.

Six new "cottages" of twelve rooms each, costing $7,000 each, are to be built surrounding the main building. Money for these is also being raised in the campaign.

Fontenelle Social Center to Build a Fine Club House

The Fontenelle Social Center has decided to build a structure 28x44 feet on two lots purchased this week at the northwest corner of Bedford avenue and Fortieth street.

Samuel Laird and H. C. Timme signed the articles of incorporation and they state the building will cost $2,500. The main floor will be a general auditorium, while the basement will be equipped for smaller meetings or for social center activities not requiring the auditorium. Kitchen will be provided. Work will be started in the early spring.

DUNDEE GIRLS' CLUB WORKS FOR CHARITY—Polly Anna club helps free dental dispensary and will provide eight families with Christmas dinner.

The Polly Anna club of Dundee sent to Dr. F. F. Whitcomb, president of the Omaha free dental dispensary, $10 to be applied toward the work which an organization of public-spirited dentists will start the first of the new year. Two candy sales and a concert yielded the money which was contributed toward this movement for the betterment of children's teeth.

The officers of this club of girls are: Alice Leslie, president; Frances Hathaway, vice president; Dorothy Carmichael, secretary; Josephine Hamlin, treasurer. The ages of the members are from 9 to 12 years.

In addition to aiding the free dental dispensary, the club will provide eight families with Christmas dinners. They are making toys for the City mission's Christmas entertainment. One of the rules of the club is that financial aid shall not be accepted from any parent.

RINE SEEKS HOLE FOR THE SALOONS

City Attorney Advises Council that Licenses May Be Paid For One-Third of Year. DECISION MEANS BIG SUM. Admitting there is some doubt on the question, City Attorney Rine advised the city commissioners that he believes they would be acting within the intent of the law if they charged saloon keepers one-third of $1,000 for the one-third of a year period from January 1 to April 30, 1917.

Mr. Rine believes that when the people voted to permit the saloon men to operate one-third of the next year they likewise intended to amend the $1,000 license provision to provide for this emergency.

There is nearly $200,000 involved in the acceptance or rejection of Mr. Rine's opinion by the city council. If the one-third license is charged, all of the saloons will remain open until April 30. Should the $1,000 license be assessed, some may be closed December 31, it is stated; but the difference would still be considerable between the $1,000 license as provided by the state law and the one-third-year license as recommended by the city attorney.

Gives His Opinion. The opinion of the city attorney to the city commissioners follows:

"In response to request for an opinion as to the terms and conditions under which a liquor license can be granted after the first of the year, will state that as under the amendment to the constitution prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors it will be unlawful to engage in the general liquor business after May 1, 1917, it is my opinion that your honorable body has no authority to grant a license for the sale of intoxicating liquors, except druggists' permits, for any period after May 1, 1917.

"As to the amount to be charged for liquor license after the first of the year will say that the question is not free from doubt. I have pointed out that by the adoption of the prohibition amendment the liquor laws of the state have been amended so that no license can be granted for any period after May 1, 1917.

"The question then arises whether your honorable body is authorized to charge $1,000, the sum provided by law for a yearly license. You are advised that the courts of this state have held that where application is made for a liquor license and by reason of protest and appeal from the licensing board to the district court, the right to exercise the privilege of sale is suspended for a period, that the license is permitted to recover the pro rata part of his license money, and that where a license is revoked after the licensee has been granted a license through no fault of the licensee, such licensee can recover back the pro rata portion of the license money covering the period for which he was not authorized after revocation to exercise his privilege under the license. In this connection I might say that this rule as laid down by our supreme court differs from the rule established in many other jurisdictions. It is based upon the ground that equity would not require the licensee to pay for a portion of the license year for which he was unable to exercise a privilege where such condition arose through no fault of his own.

"Reasoning by analogy it would seem that the same rule should apply where, through no fault of his own, the applicant by reason of the constitutional amendment, is prohibited from exercising any privilege after May 1. Under the law covering the sale of liquor $1,000 is the minimum for which a license can be granted, but as the constitutional amendment on prohibition has amended the law so that the license cannot be granted for a full year, but only until May 1, 1917, it would seem the liquor law likewise had been amended as to the amount to be charged, especially in the light of the decisions in this state above referred to. As I have stated, the law is not clear upon this question, and we have no decisions to point the way, except those which I have made reference to. If the council determines to grant the license for a portion of the year 1917, for a sum which represents a like proportionate part of the $1,000, I believe that it will be acting within the intent and spirit of the liquor legislation as interpreted by our courts."

WANT CITY TO CUT H. C. L. IN OMAHA

Labor Leaders Ask Mayor to Turn Basement of Auditorium Into Muny Market.

TO SELL STAPLES AT COST

Harry M. Lux, John Gruhn, Michael Berry, Edward O'Hearn, William Chase, Gus Lawson and John Hansen, business agents for the plasterers, teamsters, laborers, sheet metal workers, engineers, electricians and painters, respectively, called on Mayor Dahlman to announce they will submit to the city council next week a proposition contemplating using the basement of the Auditorium for municipal market purposes.

The general plan is to ask the city officials to sell at cost coal and certain staple foods this winter. The mayor said he would look into the legal phase of the matter.

"I favor the proposition if we can legally take up such a project. The details, of course, would have to be carefully worked out," said the mayor.

This plan has been tried with success by mayors and city fathers of several towns. Indianapolis once tried out the scheme. The latest to make an effort to reduce the high cost of living for the community over which he held sway was the mayor of Terre Haute, Ind., who leased a coal mine, hired miners and 200 teams and sold coal in Terre Haute for $2.75, whereas the price before he took hold of the reins was $9 a ton.

Offers Tract to The City in Lieu Of Special Taxes

George T. Morton and C. N. Dietz have offered to transfer to the city a tract of land, comprising fifteen acres at Fifty-second and Center streets in lieu of the payment of approximately $15,000 special taxes assessed on account of the recent paving on West Center street. If the offer should be accepted the city would use the tract for park and playground purposes. The city commissioners are considering the matter.

Two Are Brought Back on Charges Of White Slavery

J. L. X. Harris and Harry Miller, arrested in Chicago for violating the Mann act, have been returned to Omaha. Both waived examination and were locked up in the county jail under bonds of $5,000 each.

The men are charged with transporting Irene Blum and Sarah Keane of Sacramento, Cal., to this city for immoral purposes. The women, both married and accompanied by three of their babes, were found deserted by well-to-do men and have been cared for by Father Flanagan at the Workmen's hotel.

Word was received from their husbands that they would take them back and have wired transportation to do so. They have been held here pending the arrest of the young men in order that they might testify against them. They will be permitted to leave for Sacramento this evening.

From letters found on the men it is thought that both have been connected with a number of similar cases. It is also thought that J. L. Harris is wanted by the detective agency of the National Bankers' association for passing a number of forged checks.

DECEMBER 1--$175 MORE

Your Last Chance to Save That on a HUDSON SUPER-SIX

All fine car makers confront the same conditions as the Hudson. High-grade materials have enormously advanced. All must use lesser materials, in our opinion, or advance the price, if their profit is now a fair one. Now is the time to decide your next year's car.

The Hudson Factory is just completing its current year's production. Some Hudson dealers have sold their year's allotment—some have not.

These are the last cars to be built from materials contracted a year ago. On Dec. 1, we start our new production. There will be no change in models. The only changes, if any, will be minor refinements.

The materials for these coming cars will cost us vastly more than the first cars cost us. That is due to market conditions. No quality maker can escape the higher material prices now prevailing. The Hudson price must advance $175.

If your dealer can supply you a Super-Six today, you will save $175 by getting any model, open, enclosed or all-season.

Fair Warning. We announce this in simple fairness. Any Hudson dealer who has unsold cars will be very glad to keep them. He can sell them next spring at the new prices.

But, as for ourselves, we won't advance the price until our cost advances. And that is on the new production, starting December 1. Until then, your Hudson dealer, if he has cars, should sell at present prices. Go and see.

1917 Costs Are Fixed. It is the custom in this line to contract materials for one year in advance. It is now essential, else car makers cannot get them.

So, whatever the coming year's conditions, the cost of fine cars will not drop. All must pay the current prices for quality materials. Eighteen have already announced price advances.

Not all cars will advance, perhaps. But all makers who use Hudson grade of materials must provide for this added cost. So the Hudson Super-Six, even at the advance, will undersell like-grade cars.

The Pinnacle Car But Not the Top Price. The Hudson Super-Six, in a hundred tests, has proved itself the greatest car built. It holds all the world's records which mean anything to owners.

It holds all the stock-car speed records. It holds the stock-motor speed record of 102.53 miles per hour. It holds the 24-hour record of 1819 miles. It holds the Pike's Peak hill-climbing record—the greatest event of its kind—against 20 famous competitors.

It has twice with one car, in one continuous trip, broken all transcontinental records. It ran from San Francisco to New York and back in 10 days and 21 hours. No other car ever before attempted the round trip against time. Only the endurance of the Super-Six is equal to that run of 6972 miles—twice across America.

These things prove supreme endurance, due to an almost frictionless motor, which is patented by Hudson. It cannot be imitated. And every Hudson detail—finish, luxury and quality—matches with that motor.

So the Hudson Super-Six must now be conceded the highest place in Motordom. Yet note how far it will undersell some cars, even with this advance.

But these are facts for later buyers. Today any Super-Six that is still unsold can be bought at the present price. And in the same models as next spring, save in possible small refinements. With such a saving one could well afford to even lay the car up for the winter.

See if your dealer has an unsold Super-Six.
