

CLEARING HOUSE FOR WAR'S WIDOWS

General Booth of Salvation Army Fosters Scheme for Their Transportation.

DOMINIONS HELP MOVE

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.) London, Nov. 10.—A scheme which has been under consideration for some time by the Salvation Army is now complete for transferring British widows with their families to the overseas dominions and to increase facilities for the migration of other women desiring to go to dominions when the war is over, and the abnormal demand for female labor is exhausted.

In a recent issue of the War Cry General Booth intimates that a fund of $1,000,000 should be raised, and $360,000 has already been subscribed. The public trustee has agreed to act as treasurer of the fund, and the sum asked for should secure the settlement of 5,000 widows and 10,000 children. The work, which requires careful and gradual preparation on this side, as well as in the dominions, for the proper settlement of the families, would be conducted over a period of five years.

Close co-operation between the Salvation Army and the dominion governments is already assured, several of the states having already come forward with offers of active support, and special representatives are being dispatched to the colonies at once.

Aid Worthy Widows.

General Booth points out that under the scheme, worthy widows living in oppressive or unsatisfactory environments can be transferred, free of cost to themselves, to progressive overseas communities where there is more elbow room for the energetic and enterprising, and where she will be fortified while making her way, in the knowledge that she has the weight of the Salvation Army at her back.

He sums up the Army's undertaking on behalf of the women as follows:

"The Army will not advise anyone to migrate or become responsible for the migration of anyone who may not conform with the standards of suitability it has set up through its long experience with migration."

Jobs Ready for Them.

"The Army will provide for the reception and secure positions for all whom it may select for overseas settlement under this scheme."

"The Army undertakes the superintendence by its own officers or responsible persons of the families migrated for four years, or until such time as the progress of the new settlement indicates that such guardianship can be dispensed with."

"In the event of failure to succeed in her new environment after four years' trial, a contingency regarded as remote and exceptional, the Army will bring back the widow to this country."

General Booth claims that the responsibilities thus voluntarily under-

Infected Cattle in K. C. From Nebraska

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 25.—A carload of cattle infected with the foot and mouth disease has been received at Kansas City from Nebraska and is being held there, according to a report of Gov. Capper made tonight, by J. R. Koonz, general freight agent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway. Mr. Koonz stated his company had been notified not to make any shipment from the stock yards in either Kansas City or St. Joseph, Mo., to points in Kansas or Missouri by officials of the two states.

STATE HAS CHANCE TO HELP THE GUARD

Friends of State Soldiers Will Be Afforded Opportunity This Winter.

UP TO THE LEGISLATURE

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Friends of the National Guard of this state are wondering whether the coming session of the legislature will be as derelict in its duty toward the guard as was the session of two years ago where the house committee on finance sought to cripple the guard by cutting its appropriation fifty per cent from the appropriation of the previous session. Had it not been for the business judgment of the senate which held out for a long while, the guard would have been badly crippled, but by hard work and much compromising the upper body was able to hold the house to the former appropriation, and the bill went through.

What would have happened when the president made his call for troops last summer had the appropriation been cut in two as the house recommended, is hard to tell, for with the amount that was appropriated the Nebraska troops were sadly handicapped and forced to live after reaching the border under adverse circumstances because Nebraska soldiers were too economical to vote funds to properly equip the guard under a call such as came six months ago and were compelled to sleep in tents on the hard ground while other state troops were able to buy lumber to lay floors and cots for the boys to sleep upon.

Must Be Generous. With the new national defense act of June 3, 1916, the legislature of Nebraska will be compelled to be more generous with its military organization or the organization will have to go out of business. When the boys come marching home again, they will not be mustered out of the service as the case of the Spanish-American war, but will still be in the federal and state service, under the command of the governor, while within the borders of the state and if the requirements of the War department are met, the money appropriated under the reserve act will be given to the state, but if not the state will get nothing.

Pay of the Men. Under the new act officers and enlisted men will be paid by the government on the peace service plan. A captain will be paid $500 a year, and the same amount to other officers over the rank. First lieutenants will receive $240 a year and second lieutenants $200. Each enlisted man will receive 25 per cent of the amount now paid to soldiers of the regular army, but he must attend not less than forty-eight regular drills during the year.

This is one of the things the members of the guard have been contending for many years. Under the old system weather officers or enlisted men received any pay whatever, except for the time they were in camp at the annual state guard camp. In many instances the allowance made by the state for armory rental did not nearly pay for a building used for an armory, and for the storage of equipment, and the men were compelled to go down into their own pockets to make up the deficiency. Under such a system there was little incentive for these verger men to enter the guard or remain in it after learning of the handicap men were to have given some of their time to military training and service of the state.

May Help Out. With the war department of the government relieving this situation, thus enabling those who care to enter military service to do so without the former loss financially, the state can now take hold of the matter and put the guard of Nebraska on a footing and efficiency it has never known before by making an appropriation which will to some extent make up for the lack of appreciation shown in the years that have gone by.

ART AND INDUSTRY GO HAND IN HAND

Dr. Haney Talks Art to the Members of the Commercial Club.

GET DOWN TO BUSINESS

It is time to begin a serious study of art in this country, according to Dr. James P. Haney, director of art in the New York High schools, who spoke at the Commercial club at noon. He declares people in America have been merely playing with art.

"The idea that we are able in this country to develop our educational system by ourselves," he said, "and without reference to educational systems elsewhere is an error. How grave this error is in industrial education one can scarcely realize until one comes to study in detail the industrial preparedness of our foreign competitors. Art education in foreign schools is a matter of serious concern. It is regarded economically as one of the most important things that the state can be interested in, for on every hand it touches industry."

"Poverty in foreign industrial art schools is not allowed to veil genius. The boy of talent who cannot pay the school fees sees them cut in half. If he still cannot pay them, they are waived and he is accepted free. If even then he cannot remain and his work is full of promise, the school pays him to attend. We call such payments scholarships. Abroad they are called "stipendia." By either name they mean only one thing—that the school, or rather the state, which is behind the school, regards it as its interest to see that the student with special gift of art and ability to design beautiful fabrics or textiles, ceramics or jewelry is not allowed to leave without his talent being perfected. You see the question is an economic one in which the welfare of the state is seen to be best served by the training of each worker to the point of greatest efficiency.

One Man Fatally, Others Dangerously Hurt in Car Wreck

Butte, Neb., Nov. 25.—(Special Telegram.)—By the overturning of an automobile at Spencer Friday evening Bruno Boettcher was fatally injured and two others, August Ehrlich and John Kaczor, severely hurt. Boettcher was pinned under the steering wheel and crushed internally. Ehrlich had a collarbone broken and shoulder dislocated, while Kaczor escaped with bad bruises. The men were taken to the hospital, where the doctors pronounced Boettcher beyond help. It is said the automobile was going at high speed when the corner was turned.

Dr. Bradbury a Safe Dentist

in the United States have one or more decayed teeth. A famous physician has said that decayed teeth cause more harm to the human race than alcohol.

There are but one-sixth of all these people who give sufficient thought to their teeth or visit the dentist regularly. Therefore 75,000,000 people do nothing more than have a tooth extracted when it aches, consequently the mind and body of these people, through decayed teeth and diseased gums, are much more than 50% under par.
