England has her Pankhurst, America has her Shaw, but Canada's brilliant, successful suffragist is Mrs. Nellie L. McClung. Tomorrow morning Mrs. McClung arrives in Omaha from her home in Manitoba, Canada, to speak at the new Blackstone hotel under the auspices of the Equal Franchise society. Her subject will be her latest book, "In Times Like These," a discussion of current questions and literary reviews.

Although her talk will be literary and not on suffrage Omaha suffragists are looking forward with great interest to hearing Mrs. McClung, because of her reputation as an eminent her home, the joy of living seemed gone. A part of her remarks will probably be directed to the effect of the war on Canada.

Reports from Boston, where Mrs. McClung spoke recently, say that her emotional power is so great that the large audience at times rocked with laughter and at other times shed tears. Those who have heard her vouch for her wit and her ability to be entertaining and instructive.

Admission to her lecture at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the ballroom of the Blackstone is not restricted to members of the Equal Franchise society. Everyone is welcome to attend the talk and meet the speaker at the tea which follows.

Tea will be served informally in the lounge room (and in the Louis XVI drawing room) following the lecture. Pouring tea will be Mesdames Z. T. Lindsey, John L. Kennedy, Charles T. Kountze and Leonard Everett.

The reception will be held in the Louis XIV drawing room, the lecture will be held in the ivory and rose ball room, and the tea will follow in the lounge, which adjoins. The tea table will be decorated with tiny marguerite chrysanthemums, and the special luncheon menu which has been arranged will carry out the same color scheme.

In the receiving line will be: Mesdames—Nellie L. McClung, E. M. Barkeley of Lincoln, Charles Johannes, E. C. Twamley, John L. Kennedy, E. M. Fairchild, John A. McShane, Joseph M. Omaha Markets Filled for The Thanksgiving Dinner

Thanksgiving good things are crowding the markets. And in view of the fact that everything in the way of things to live on has been rising, is rising and evidently means to continue to rise, the prices are moderate.

Turkeys, for instance, sell from 29 to 31 cents. They are of extra fine quality this year and in sizes just suitable for the average family; that is, eight to twelve pounds. The great big "Toms" can be bought cheaper, but are usually too big for the family.

Geese and ducks range around 20 and 21 cents a pound and are also fine birds, freshly killed and picked. Chickens are about 19 cents.

If you want sausage for stuffing it costs 12 1/2 cents a pound. Pork loins, hind quarters or fore quarters of spring lamb will form the meat course for some people. These cost, respectively, 14, 18 and 14 cents a pound.

Oysters are 45 cents a quart. For the pies you can get splendid home-made mince meat in bulk at 12 1/2 cents a pound. If you prefer pumpkin pie, pumpkins may be had at 10 cents each, or the canned pumpkin at 15 cents a can.

Cranberries are plentiful and fine at 10 cents a quart. Mixed nuts are 20 cents a pound. Naval oranges range from 20 to 40 cents a dozen.

Sweet potatoes are 5 cents a pound or three pounds for 10 cents. Bananas 15 cents a dozen; tomatoes, 7 1/2 cents a pound. Fresh vegetables from Louisiana, beets, carrots, turnips, shallot, radishes are on the market at 5 cents a bunch.

Apples are still a scarce article, but cooking apples may be had as low as 40 cents a peck and the fine grades that come from the west in boxes at $1.40 to $3.00 a box.

More Women Join Teams to Work for Brownell Hall Fund

Captains in the woman's division of the volunteer corps which is to raise the $250,000 building fund for Brownell Hall Monday reported additional names of workers enlisted for service in this ten-days' campaign.

Mrs. Louis S. Clarke's team was strengthened by the accession of Mrs. Charles C. Allison and Mrs. F. A. Nash. Those whose names were previously announced were Mrs. E. H. Sprague, Mrs. John T. Stewart II, and Mrs. Barton Millard.

Miss Alice Carter, Miss Catherine Thummel and Miss Mary Megeath have joined the squad of Miss Marion R. Towle. Miss Towle is president of the Brownell Hall Alumnae association and her team will consist principally of recent graduates of the school.

The name of Mrs. Charles M. Wilhelm was added to the team headed by Mrs. Frank W. Judson. Mrs. Judson's other associates in the work for Brownell will be Mrs. Joseph Barker, Mrs. Edward L. Burke, Mrs. Clement Chase, Mrs. Charles T. Kountze, Mrs. Edgar M. Morsman, Jr.; Mrs. Abraham L. Reed and Mrs. Waite H. Squier.

Omaha Art Lovers Buy Show Pieces

Omaha will keep some of the finest works of art now on exhibition at the Hotel Fontenelle under the auspices of the Omaha Society of Fine Arts. It is announced that the painting by Paul Dougherty, entitled "Midsummer," has been purchased by Mr. Charles T. Kountze. The small bronze called the "Blizzard," which is the work of Solon Borglum, will become the property of Mrs. Moshier G. Colpetzer. The seated figure of Lincoln, which is a replica of the original now in the east, will also become the pride of some Omaha art lover. It has been sold to one of two persons, the situation being that if one does not buy, the other will.

Frances Nash to Play In Omaha on December 10

Frances Nash will be heard at the Metropolitan club house on December 10. Miss Nash's story is not that of the artist who has risen in spite of poverty, but of the artist who has held herself to a sound purpose in spite of the many lures of riches.

Miss Nash says: "Everyone in this world should have some goal. I decided to enter the professional field because in no other way would I hold myself to the highest standard of accomplishment. When a musician knows he has to appear in public at stated intervals and give an accounting of his talents, in comparison with other performers it brings out his best efforts as nothing else will. Inspiration alone is not enough."
