

TURKEY KNOWS HIS TIME HAS NOT COME

Struts Haughtily at the Poultry Show When the Hour of the Ax Passes.

DOGS AND CATS THERE, TOO

There was a different atmosphere among the poultry at the poultry show on Turkey day. Conspicuously was this noticeable among the turkeys. Until 10:30 the turkeys were quite meek. At that hour the big gobble of L. P. Stone of Lexington began to strut. That was well past the hour when any turkey destined to be baked for Thanksgiving dinner must be killed. So this big black gobble felt sure of a lease of life for another year.

Pups at the Show. The tiniest and youngest pups in the pet stock department of the show are five handsome little Boston bulls with their mother "Queen," exhibited by Frank A. Wellman. The little fellows are a scant four weeks old and spend most of their time snoozing with their thick little noses buried in the soft sides of their mother. Every one has the same beautiful markings of the nose that characterize the mother, and everyone has a screw tail. They are attracting much attention, especially among the children who visit the show.

A big Russian wolfhound, white as snow, is exhibited by D. K. Smith of Muleshoe, Tex. This fellow stands as high as a 3-year-old boy and looks as though he could leap a mile. He is a quiet, solemn fellow full of potentialities.

Persian Cats. The Keystone Park Cattery of Benson has a fine exhibit of Persian cats. Mrs. H. B. Fleharty of Omaha is exhibiting some handsome Angora and Persian cats, and Mrs. Agnes Gover, 3517 Franklin street, Omaha, is exhibiting "Sultan," the Persian king.

Ralph Martin, 3412 Taylor street, and M. H. Kowling, 4213 Larimore avenue, are exhibiting fine lines of Belgian hares.

Out on the main floor among the poultry are several groups of pheasants. Billy Stevenson of Forty-first and Erskine streets is exhibiting two handsome pairs of these birds, which he raised by setting a common hen with pheasant eggs. L. G. Nichols of Benson and Adam Jamieson of 2319 North Twenty-fourth street are also exhibiting fine pheasants.

The show will continue until Saturday evening. It is open both days and evenings. Many visitors flocked in early this morning.

Champion Cock. The champion cock of all the poultry show is a Rose Combed Rhode Island Red, owned by R. A. Harrison of Stromsburg, Neb. Mr. Harrison gets the Commercial club cup for this honor.

Earl Jewell of DeWitt, Neb., wins the Hotel Loyal silver cup for the best female bird, a Barred Rock pullet.

Other special prizes besides the prizes announced the second day of the show are: Best pair of Wyandottes, J. F. Porter, Fremont, silver cup. Best display in English class, M. G. Scudder, Central City, silver cup. Best cock, cockerels, hen and pullet, M. G. Scudder, Central City. Best pen, M. G. Scudder, Central City. White Orpingtons, silver trophy. Three best cocks, Williams Poultry farm, Cedar Bluffs. Three best cockerels, W. W. Trent, Lewis, Ia. Three best hens, Harry Kinley, Omaha. Best pullet, E. C. Ebbels, Omaha. Best exhibit by anyone under 18 years of age, W. J. Williams, Cedar Bluffs, Neb. Best display by members of Omaha Poultry association, Arthur Gillies.

Frances Nash Wins Fame By Sincerity of Her Work

Frances Nash, the celebrated local pianist who plays here at the Metropolitan hall on December 10, has attained a most enviable position in the artistic world in one brief season because from her first appearance she so much more than satisfied the usual pianistic standard and expectation. A distinct honor accorded Frances Nash at the outset of her second season was her selection as soloist for a number of concerts with the Boston Symphony orchestra, and only slightly less conspicuous are her return engagements for one-third of the cities she visited last season.

At Miss Nash's concert December 10 she will present a program of exceeding interest and variety, including many of the numbers used at her recent recitals in New York and Boston.

Utah Eleven Defeated. Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 30.—Colorado college defeated the University of Utah today by a score of 21 to 4. Utah put up a game fight all the way, but the experience and weight of the visitors were too much. Military Rule Is Proclaimed by U. S. In Santo Domingo

Washington, Nov. 30.—Captain H. S. Knapp, commanding the American naval forces in Dominican waters, has by proclamation declared a military rule in the Dominican Republic to break the deadlock in the local government and carry out the treaty obligations of the United States to guarantee interest in the public debt and other obligations.

Since the election of the new president in Santo Domingo affairs have been in a deadlock because the local government refused to permit payment of obligations which the United States has pledged itself to see fulfilled. Affairs became so involved, it was said here, that Captain Knapp, acting under the full authority with which he has been clothed, decided to clear up the situation by putting the island under military rule temporarily to preserve order and carry out the local government's obligations.

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, Wednesday, Nov. 29.—An American military governor of Santo Domingo has been appointed.

Captain Knapp today notified Secretary Daniels of his action and it was approved. He said he expected to have affairs straightened out by December 2, and reported conditions quiet and the populace satisfied with his action. There was no military clash and no military governor was appointed, as was reported from Santo Domingo.

Heavy Demand for The Red Cross Seals

Never in the history of the Red Cross seal in Nebraska—and this is the ninth year of that history—has the demand for the Red Cross Christmas seals been so strong or come so early in the season.

Red Cloud, which has a standing committee on tuberculosis, of which Mrs. James Cather is chairman, wired an order Wednesday for 3,000 seals, while Central City, through Mrs. J. C. Naylor, president of the Woman's club and Red Cross seal sub-agent at that point, placed its initial 1,000 seals the day they were received and sent in a call for 2,000 additional at once. This condition is unprecedented and Mrs. K. R. J. Edholm, executive secretary, was wired in order to the American Red Cross at Washington for 100,000 more seals, as the supply of 500,000 now on hand will prove insufficient if the balance of the state follows the lead of Red Cloud and Central City.

Pauper Who Killed William Riley Gets Indeterminate Term

Dakota City, Neb., Nov. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—John Peysen, the aged inmate of the Dakota county poor farm, charged with the murder of William Riley, son of the farm's superintendent, yesterday entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault with intent to commit great bodily injury, before Guy T. Graves in the district court here.

Peysen was sentenced to serve an indeterminate sentence of from one to five years in the state penitentiary. The plea was taken in order to save the county the expense of conducting a new trial, a jury in the district court last week having failed to agree on a verdict.

It was charged that Peysen fired a load from a shotgun into one of Riley's legs on the afternoon of September 14, 1915, during a quarrel at the poor farm. Riley died of his injuries later in a Sioux City (Ia.) hospital.

At his trial Peysen admitted that he shot Riley, but asserted he shot in self defense. The jury, after deliberating twenty-five hours, reported a disagreement. Peysen is an old man.

GREAT BRITAIN TO TAKE OVER MINES

Government Proposes Drastic Step to Prevent Threatened Strike in South Wales.

MINERS ARE RETICENT

London, Nov. 30.—The government's decision to assume control of all the coal mines in South Wales on December 1, under the defence of the realm act was announced too late last night to enable commentators as yet to gauge its probable effect. The announcement was a surprise to both sides in the miners' controversy. Secretary Richards of the South Wales Miners' federation declared that the miners would oppose such a measure unless it were made applicable to the coal mining industry of the whole country. A majority of the South Wales leaders are now in London for a conference regarding the threatened strike. They will meet this morning to consider the situation.

Mine owners are reticent. A dispatch from Cardiff says the news came to the coal interests there as a bomb shock. The executive committee of the South Wales Miners' federation today adopted a resolution reiterating the demand of the federation for a 15 per cent increase in wages and demurring to government control of the collieries unless all the coal fields of Great Britain are brought under such control.

RUSSIANS ATTEMPT COUNTER OFFENSIVE

Effort to Create Diversion in Northern Roumania Practical Failure, Says Berlin.

TEUTONS TAKE TWO TOWNS

Berlin, Nov. 30.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—On the northern Roumanian frontier the Russians are continuing their new offensive movement. The war office announces they obtained no important results yesterday, although gaining small advantages at the cost of heavy losses. In western Roumania the troops which are defending the line before Bucharest were driven back further. The Austro-German forces have captured the Roumanian city of Campulung, opening the road through the Torzburg pass. More than 1,200 Roumanians were captured.

Near Ciolanesti more than 1,200 men and ten cannon were captured. Field Marshal von Mackensen's troops which crossed the Danube have captured nearly 2,500 Roumanians.

Text of Statement. The statement reads: "In the forest of the Carpathians and on the frontier mountains of Moldavia, the Russians continued their attacks without obtaining important results. They suffered heavy losses and had to be contented with small local advantages."

BART KANE WINS CROSS-CITY RUN

Makes the Course in About One Minute Above the Record of Last Year's Race.

ELLIOT MALICK IS SECOND

Bart Kane, 602 South Thirty-sixth street, unattached, had little difficulty in taking first honors in the Young Men's Christian association's fifth annual cross-city run yesterday. He made the three-mile course in twenty minutes and thirty-seven and two-fifths seconds. His time was about one minute above that of Dwight Williams, Iowa State runner who covered the course last year in 19:25.

Elliott Malick took second honors, his time being 21:29.37. Pete Pappis was a close third, dogging Malick's footsteps over the entire course. He finished in 22:01. Of the ten entrants only five finished, the other two being Abe Liebowitz of the Young Men's Hebrew association and J. W. Armstrong.
