CABINET CHANGE AGREED ON; LLOYD GEORGE RESIGNS

Asquith Consents to Ask King for Reconstruction of the British Government.

HE AND PREMIER CONFER

Consultations and Meetings of Party Leaders at Chief's House.

CARSON TALKS TO UNIONIST

London, Dec. 3.—The political crisis has become acute. It is stated in well-informed circles that David Lloyd George, the war secretary, has tendered his resignation, which has not yet been accepted.

Leaves Town.

Premier Asquith left town yesterday but returned this morning, and throughout the day there have been consultations and meetings of party leaders at the premier's residence.

Mr. Lloyd George had a long consultation with the premier this afternoon. Other visitors were A. Bonar Law, secretary of the colonies, and the marquis of Crewe, lord president of the council.

Sir Edward Carson and Mr. Law appeared together and addressed a morning meeting of the unionist committee, while the earl of Derby, under-secretary for war, had a long interview with Mr. Lloyd George.

Will Ask King's Consent.

Premier Asquith has decided to advise the king to consent to the reconstruction of the government. This was officially announced tonight.

Automobile Hits Buggy and Causes Two Runaways

Edgar, Neb., Dec. 3.—(Special.)—A Mr. Bowman of Fairfield, driving an automobile, with four or five other people in it, about two miles east of Edgar Friday night ran into the rear end of a buggy, ripping the wheels from under it and throwing the occupants out. The team ran away and crashed into another buggy just ahead and caused the other team to run away.

Omaha Woman Will Take Chance Upon Lincoln Bachelors

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Dec. 3.—(Special.)—That it pays to advertise and also that publicity in the right kind always brings results has been demonstrated as a result of a story published in The Bee a week ago, announcing that five Lincoln bachelors, Thomas L. Hall, rail yard commissioner; Bruce Fullerton, police judge; Allen W. Field and Dan McClannahan, attorneys, and Arthur Beckmann, merchant, had tired of boarding house hash and had resolved to reform.

Since the publication of the story these men have received many letters from women. Many of the letters have come from Omaha showing that even there are people in Omaha who would like to live in Lincoln—under certain circumstances.

Nemesis Too Fast For This Joy Rider

Aurora, Neb., Dec. 3.—(Special.)—Walter Rumley, who has been working on a farm near Giltner for several years, was sentenced to forty days in jail by Judge Corcoran for a "joy riding" stunt at which Mrs. George Thompson's car was destroyed.

Accompanied by another man, he took the Thompson car and started for Grand Island. The car was upset and both men spilled out. In looking for their hats, they struck a match and the car took fire and burned. It is practically ruined.

GARRANZA FAVORS LAND DISTRIBUTION

Mexican Chieftain Also Outlines His Views of Other Reforms.

ADDRESSES THE CONGRESS

Queretaro, Friday, Dec. 1.—(Via Mexico City, Dec. 2.)—In his address before the constitutional congress tonight, General Carranza outlined the reforms he hoped to see embodied in the constitution. He said in part:

"The constitution of 1857 was the result of a great upheaval, but it proclaimed only the general principles of reform without putting them into practical form so that it is not possible to administer the government with this constitution. The history of the country gives ample data to demonstrate this.

"I promise to conserve the liberal spirit of the old constitution so that the new reforms will merely eliminate the dead wood and strike out articles put in by former governments and for personal advantage.

"Human liberty must be guaranteed to prevent the government from taking advantage of the excuse of maintaining peace in order to commit crimes. The old constitution was not strong enough to do this, as the liberty of the individual was at the mercy of executives. I hope the new constitution will provide severe penalties for wrong doing on the part of public officials.

"Judges heretofore, only the tools of governors, should have the power to investigate and punish wrongdoing of governors. Guarantees for prisoners accused of crimes heretofore have been worthless. Prisoners have been at the mercy of judges and third degree methods. They should be allowed bonds and a limit should be fixed to the time of trials. Good lawyers should be provided for the indigent and no arrests should be made without sufficient evidence to justify them.

Suggests Land Distribution.

"The old constitution provided for the right of the government to occupy property for public benefit without the consent of the owners, by paying an indemnity for the same. This is sufficient to allow the government to take large estates and distribute them among the small owners so that the only reform necessary in that part of the old law is to provide that condemnation may be only by executive authority and that judges may deal only with indemnity.

"I ask you to consider whether it is necessary to have every foreigner who obtains title to real property, resign treaty rights with respect to such property and conform to Mexican laws.

"I advocate a divorce law which will place the family on the basis of love, not pecuniary interests. The nationality of children born in Mexico to foreigners should be clearly defined.

"You must consider whether the vote should be given to all or limited by educational or property qualifications. I think the vote should go to all, but that it should be taken from those making wrong use of it or those who look with indifference on the affairs of the republic.

"Public instruction must receive attention because knowledge ensures against either anarchy or dictatorship. On the organization of the executive power will depend that the legislative branch shall not become an instrument of the executive. Free discussion without following instructions of the executive or of governors must be assured the legislators, but they must not be given sufficient power to curb the executive in proportion of his rights. A parliamentary regime in which the executive is a figurehead and the cabinet is selected by congress is not good for Latin-American nations. The people will need a strong government, which is not the same as a despotic government. Direct election of the president will give strength to the government and the nation and the president will not be at the mercy of the legislative power. The best power against a parliamentary regime is the object lesson furnished by the United States.

"I advocate the elimination of the office of vice president, providing that the succession to the presidency in the event of temporary or permanent absence shall be decided by congress.

"There should be absolute independence of the judicial power."

TURKISH CAPITAL AND THE STRAITS "GIVEN" TO

Trepoff, in an announcement, announces Agreement with Allies by Which Russia Gets "Right" to Constantinople.

DARDANELLES THROWN IN

Pact Signed Year Ago, Says Premier in Opening Imperial Legislature.

Petrograd, Saturday, Dec. 2 (Via London), Dec. 3.—The semi-official news agency says that in the Duma today, Premier Trepoff read a proclamation announcing officially that an agreement concluded by Russia, France and Great Britain in 1915 and later approved by Italy "establishes in definite manner the right of Russia to the straits and Constantinople."

Premier Trepoff's announcement is quoted as follows: "For more than 1,000 years Russia has been reaching southward toward a free outlet on the open sea. This dream now is ready for realization. From the beginning of the war, wishing to spare human lives and suffering, we and our allies did our utmost to restrain Turkey from participation in the hostilities.

Reserves Assurances.

"Turkey received formal assurances guaranteeing it, in exchange for neutrality, the integrity of its territory and independence and also conferring on it certain privileges and advantages. These efforts were vain. Turkey spitefully attacked us.

"We then concluded an agreement with our allies, which establishes the right of Russia to the straits and Constantinople. Russians should know for what they are shedding blood, and in accord with our allies, announcement of this agreement is made today from this tribune."

The anxiously awaited assembly of the Duma took place without any promise of a final settlement of a dispute between the government and representatives of people. The leaders of the Duma said they are uninformed as to the attitude adopted by the government and did not look for any immediate clearing of the political atmosphere here.

No Symptoms of Change.

Partial change in the ministry involving the appointment of Alexander Trepoff as minister, has relieved the situation, it is said, only temporarily. According to the liberal viewpoint, there are as yet no symptoms of an essential alteration in the character of the government, which is held responsible for the present internal disorganization and unrest.

It is evident that consultation between the government and the duma leaders have borne no immediate fruit. It has been reported several times that an agreement has been made concerning to Russia in the event of the victory of the entente allies, possession of Constantinople and the straits.

London, Dec. 3.—A dispatch from Petrograd says that when Premier Trepoff mounted the tribune in the duma to read the government's statement, the parties of the extreme left began a hostile demonstration. M. Trepoff thrice appeared on the tribune but each time left, owing to the turmoil.

The president of the duma thereupon proposed the expulsion from the tribune of twelve members of the socialist and labor parties, including the leaders, Tchaidze and Krenski. This proposal was adopted and the premier delivered his speech.

Trepoff Gratified.

M. Trepoff expressed satisfaction at the patriotic activities of the municipalities and said that the government would take all possible measures for the establishment of settled order behind the army. In the present time, the premier said, this lack of order had been felt in questions of supply, with the result that the population in many regions was experiencing difficulties as regards food. It might be necessary, he said, to re-nounce the system of restrictions.

The premier declared that transportation difficulties necessitated an examination into the railway construction. He declared that measures must be taken to increase the production of metals and fuel and that the construction of factories was imperative. He added that measures were being considered for the development of technical education.

H. C. L. Cuts Number Of Marriages in S. D.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Dec. 3.—(Special.)—The high cost of living is believed to have been responsible for a material falling off in the number of application for marriage licenses in the office of the clerk of courts in this city. The decrease over the corresponding period last year is nearly 50 per cent.

He had lost one leg years ago and had an operation on it about a year ago, when his health began failing. Talks on Spiritual Life In the Animal Kingdom

In a lecture given by Dr. Pribbenow before the Theosophical society, 701 Bee building, Sunday evening on the subject, "Spiritual Life in the Animal Kingdom," he spoke of the part played by the animal kingdom in the great evolutionary scheme. He showed how the rudiments of mind and those principles which shall later show out in perfection in the human, are evolved; that animals have a conscious and subconscious mind just as man, and that instinct in the animal is already the developing of the spiritual, that will show forth as intuition in the human. That instinct is the accumulated experience of the species, that is stored in the animal group-soul, and to which the separate animal forms are linked.

Carranza Forces Again in Control of Capital, Asserts Juarez Commander.

VILLA FLIES TO MOUNTAINS

Juarez, Mex., Dec. 3.—Carranza forces were again in control of Chihuahua City today and Villa had fled to the mountains to the west of the capital city, it was announced today by General Francisco Gonzales, commander of the Carranza brigade here. General Francisco Murguía, the Carranza commander who has been moving slowly northward from Torreón, was also reported to have entered the city today after having defeated the Villa column thirty miles south of Chihuahua City.

No Americans have been killed in Chihuahua City by Villa, according to a private message received here tonight from that city. The message said that the only foreigners to suffer were the Chinese, for whom the bandits showed no mercy. Generals Murguía and Trevino were both in Chihuahua City tonight, it was said.

Arabian Kingdom Starts Off With a Protest to America

Washington, Dec. 3.—The new kingdom of Arabia, organized a month ago, has begun its diplomatic career with a vigorous protest to the "civilized world," against alleged cruelties of "the band of unionists and affiliates" at Constantinople, who are declared to have treated prisoners brutally. A copy of the communication reached the State department today.

How the United States can respond is a problem as the department has not yet discovered how the new foreign office can be communicated with. The United States has no consular or diplomatic representatives in Arabia and has not been able to acknowledge announcement of the kingdom's organization. It is certain, however, that no definite action will be taken until the end of the war, since this country is following the theory that any changes in government made now may be overturned at the peace conference.

Will Henry Given Life Sentence

Fremont, Neb., Dec. 3.—(Special.)—Will Henry, convicted of shooting and killing John Witte of Scribner by a jury in district court, was sentenced to a life term in the state penitentiary by Judge F. W. Button, Saturday. When asked if he had anything to say, Henry asked the court to be as lenient as possible with him. Henry said he was left fatherless when a small boy and that his downfall was caused by his associates and environments. The motion of Henry's attorneys for a new trial was overruled by Judge Button.

Alleged Corn Thief Shot by Farmers

Atlantic, Iowa, Dec. 2.—(Special.)—H. Riley, farmer living east of the city, was shot Friday by several neighboring farmers, who had been on the watch for the man who had been stealing corn. He was thought dead for awhile, but is now on the road to recovery. Eighty shot were removed from his back at the hospital. Riley was recently employed as caretaker at the County club, but lost all his effects when the club house burned last spring. Before that he was a railroad man in Mexico, and lost both possessions and money when the Mexican trouble started. Papers have been filed against him by the farmers on the charge of stealing corn, and he will be prosecuted as soon as he recovers from his wounds.

Typhus Kills Turk Soldiers, 1,000 a Day

New York, Dec. 3.—Soldiers of the Turkish army in Syria are dying from typhus fever at the rate of 1,000 a day, according to a dispatch from that country forwarded through Port Said and given out today by the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief. In addition to the famine from which the people of Syria are long reported to have been suffering epidemics of both typhus fever and cholera are sweeping over the country. The doctors have not attempted to combat typhus, as there are no drugs or remedies in the country.

RUSSIANS HURL GERMANS BACK AT BUCHAREST

Danube Body of German Forces Already Menacing Fortresses Around City, Says Berlin.

Troops of Central Powers Also Gain Ground to Northwest of Goal.

RUSSIANS IN KIRLIBABA

Bulletin. Petrograd (Via London), Dec. 3.—Russian troops have arrived south of Bucharest and engaged in battle to save the Roumanian capital, the war office announces. The German and Bulgarian troops have been compelled to retire. The Russians and Roumanians have taken prisoners and booty. Further successes for the Russians on the Transylvanian front also are reported.

The series of engagements marking the advance of the Teutonic troops upon Bucharest are developing into a great battle. From Berlin comes the announcement that the First Roumanian army, which had offered battle on the Argechu river, southeast of Pitechi, northwest of the Roumanian capital, has been defeated after a tenacious struggle. Whether this indicates the turning of the right wing of the Roumanian armies is not clear. The capture of more than 6,000 Roumanian troops is announced.

Force Slight Retirement. The attacks upon the Roumanian troops on the roads from Pitechi to Bucharest compelled only a slight retirement of the defenders, according to the Roumanian announcement.

The Roumanian resistance south of Bucharest has stiffened and Trozmana and Gostinari have been recaptured from the invading forces. The Russians have regained possession of the western part of the Tchernavoda bridge across the Danube. A fierce battle continues in the wooded Carpathian frontiers. The attempt of the Russian and Roumanian forces to break through into Transylvania is nowhere diminished in violence. The Russians have gained a footing in Kirlibaba and street fighting is in progress, according to a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd.

Close in on Bucharest. London, Dec. 2.—Although the Roumanians apparently are offering desperate resistance west and south of Bucharest, the enemy forces are rapidly closing in on their capital and even the most optimistic military critics here now admit that the situation is extremely critical.

Advances from Berlin today report that the Danube army is already menacing fortresses around Bucharest, having reached the Argechu river, which is only five miles from the forts. The Germans and Bulgarians also have gained ground northwest of the capital by working through the passes southeast of Champung.

Still another enemy force is reported to have broken through and defeated the First Roumanian army southwest of Pitechi, enabling it to capture general staff officers. The Roumanian and Russian communications are silent regarding this last claim, although both admit that the Roumanians, under pressure, were compelled to retire slightly in this sector.

Further west in Wallachia, the Roumanians assert that adverse weather conditions are hampering their operations. It is generally believed that Russian pressure of Von Falkenhayn's army through Transylvania has come too late to offset the rapid gains of the Germans, or affect materially the German plans of encircling Bucharest. The Russians' latest success in capturing a series of heights south of Kirlibaba gives them an entering wedge into Transylvania and proves a most encouraging counter-move on the part of the allies.

That the Russian forces, in conjunction with Roumanians, are making progress in Dobrudja is indicated by the latest communications, which report that the allies have regained part of the Tchernavoda bridge, compelling the opposing forces to retire southward from several heights. A significant feature of the move from all points in this theater of war is the absence of claims that either side is taking large numbers of prisoners, which seems to indicate the desperate character of the encounters.
