

STEWART CHOSEN AGAIN AS COACH

Oregon Man Re-Elected Head of Athletics at University of Nebraska.

SHAW ELECTED CAPTAIN

Lincoln, Dec. 4.—(Special Telegram)—Dr. E. J. Stewart was re-elected head coach of Nebraska athletics at a meeting of the University of Nebraska Athletic board here tonight and granted an increase in salary of $500 a year.

The head coach will receive $3,500 for his next year's services. Although some fire had been kicked up because of the loss of two games, the athletic board was solid in its support of Dr. Stewart.

Ed Shaw of Tecumseh, Neb., the big tackle on the Husker squad, was elected captain by the seventeen men granted letters by the board at its meeting. Four ballots were necessary for the choice of a captain, there being two other candidates. Shaw has played a wonderful game of football all season, especially in the Notre Dame and Iowa battles. He is 22 years of age and has played two years on the varsity. Shaw is regarded as one of the greatest tackles Nebraska ever had.

The athletic board did not directly discuss the question of a game in Omaha next year. Athletic Manager Guy E. Reed has put it up squarely to the Omaha alumni that he will stage one of the important battles there if the permission of the Missouri Valley conference is secured.

These men were granted letters: Captain Corey, Caley, Cameron, Doyle, Norris, Selzer, Dae, Kostitzky, Ridde, Shaw, Gardiner, Cook, Otopa, Moser, Dobson, Rhodes and Wilder.

Wyoming Hunters Ask Revision of State's Game Laws

Cody, Wyo., Dec. 4.—(Special)—The Park County Sportsmen's association has appointed a legislative committee and will recommend to the coming legislature changes in the present game laws embodying the following matters:

An absolutely closed season on moose for at least two years. Under the existing laws a hunter who pays a special license of $100 may kill one moose.

That the open season on big game be from September 15 to November 15, and that during this season each hunter be permitted to kill one elk, two deer, one male mountain sheep and two bears, without the use of traps or dogs.

The creation of preserves for bears.

A closed season on sage chickens for two years, an open season on grouse coinciding with the big game open season and conformity to the federal regulations in regard to the open season on ducks.

A fishing license of $2 for non-residents and of $1 for residents.

A bounty of $50 on mountain lions.

Reduction of the trapper's license from $5 to $1.

VAN DYKE FIRST DIPLOMAT TO QUIT

Resignation of Ambassadors Is Started Off by American Envoy to Holland.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The first resignations from the diplomatic corps which are expected to be the forerunners of others as a consequence of President Wilson's re-election and the coming of his first term were announced today.

CONCERNED OVER HEALTH

Dr. Henry Van Dyke, minister of the Netherlands, has resigned and probably will be succeeded by John W. Garrett of Baltimore, former minister to Argentina. Dr. Van Dyke, it was explained, has been concerned over his health and also desired to return to his literary work.

The resignation of T. A. Thomason, minister of Colombia, and William H. Hornbrook, minister of Siam, also were announced. Mr. Thomason was appointed to his post, his first in the diplomatic service in 1915. His home is in Austin, Tex., and he is a ranchman, planter and lawyer. Mr. Hornbrook was appointed in 1915. He lives in Albany, Ore., is a publisher and has been in Oregon politics.

Van Dyke Resigns.

The Hague, Netherlands (Via London), Dec. 4.—Dr. Henry Van Dyke allowed it to become known today that he had resigned as American minister to the Netherlands. His reasons are purely personal and because he desires to resume his literary work unhampered.

Dr. Van Dyke informed the Associated Press correspondent that his resignation was presented early in September, but President Wilson expressed reluctance to accept it and asked how long the minister would consent to remain at his post. Dr. Van Dyke replied that he desired to consult the president's convenience and that he was willing to stay until early in the fall and after his successor was chosen and confirmed.

Kept it Quiet.

Dr. Van Dyke added: "I purposely kept the matter of my resignation quiet during the recent campaign because I did not wish any political significance given to it. It has none. The main reason was my hope to return to my work as writer with full freedom to say what I think and feel."

Dr. Van Dyke leaves many personal friends here and his departure, the date of which is still undetermined, is generally regretted in diplomatic circles at The Hague. Mrs. Van Dyke and her daughter, already are at the Van Dyke home in Princeton.

Rheumatic Blood Is Whole Story

It Is Easily Relieved By Toning Up The Blood.

Yes, but how? A natural question. The answer is that you must cleanse your blood by stimulating it to healthy, vigorous action, so that it will throw off the germs and impurities that cause Rheumatism. The action of the wonderful blood purifier, S. S. S., is to practically renew the life blood, give it vigor, stimulate the flow making it throw out the germs and the poison impurities. The excruciating pains of Rheumatism, whether it

State Supreme Court Holds Brief Session

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Dec. 4.—(Special)—The state supreme court held a short session today to dispose of a matter which needed immediate attention.

Generally speaking, there will be no hearings of the court between now and when the changes take place after the first of the year, unless something comes up which has to be disposed of immediately.

At the conclusion of the sitting, the court had pictures taken for the benefit of Creighton college of Omaha.

JUDGE, BAILIFF AND JUROR SHOT

Man with Grudge Against Jurist Begins Shooting in Indiana Court Room.

BAILIFF IS FATALLY HURT

Hammond, Ind., Dec. 4.—Judge Charles E. Greenwald of the superior court here was shot in the right arm and side; Louis De Douw, his bailiff, was fatally wounded and George Robbins, a juror in a case before the judge, was shot in the head here today by Michael Innik, said to have harbored a grudge against the court for many years.

The bullet went through Judge Greenwald's arm and entered his side. It was located by surgeons, who said that the wound was not fatal. The bailiff was shot in the head and stomach and at the hospital it was said that he could not survive. Robbins was but slightly injured, as the bullet merely ripped open his scalp.

Innik was defeated in a damage suit against the Standard Oil company twenty years ago for an injury to his arm. He approached the judge as the latter, followed by the bailiff and the juror, was entering the court room. He asked the judge to help him renew his suit, but the judge hurried on. Innik, it is alleged, then opened fire. De Douw and Robbins were shot when they went to the rescue. Innik was arrested.

PLEAD GUILTY IN WILD HORSE CASE

J. C. Wharton and A. O. Perry Released on Bond and Sentence Is Deferred.

JURY IS IMPANELLED

J. C. Wharton of McCracken, Kan., and A. O. Perry, formerly of Atkinson, Neb., but now of Omaha, pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiracy to defraud by use of the mails in connection with the celebrated Arizona "wild horse" case, which began before Judge Joseph Woodruff of the United States district court yesterday afternoon. Both were released on bail and sentence deferred until final adjudication of the case. Nine more remain under indictment.

The afternoon was taken up in impaneling a jury. After a great deal of challenging by attorneys of both sides the following were selected: Francis F. Wittnuss, Fort Crook, farmer; George W. Vodicka, 2315 South Fourteenth street, Omaha, tailor; Ben Gallagher, Omaha, Paxton & Gallagher; Ed Hoar, Pender, farmer; Henry Lessman, Wakefield, farmer; Henry Thiesen, West Point, retired farmer; Roy P. Wetherell, Tekamah, banker; John Holub, Richland, merchant; C. M. Black, North Bend, retired farmer; Charles Voss, Benson, retired business man; Chris Dahmke, Millard, harness maker, and Rudolph C. Suhr, Pender, retired farmer.

Judge Woodruff declared that he thought it necessary to keep the jury

TOGETHER ONLY DURING THE TIME THAT THE TRIAL WENT ON.

He ordered that they refrain from reading newspapers or any other matter which might tend to influence them.

Over seventy-five witnesses from all parts of the country have already appeared to testify in the case and at least fifty more are expected by or before December 7, the time limit of their subpoenas.

Because of the large number of witnesses being marshaled by both sides and because of the expected length of the affair, the case promises to be one of the largest and costliest ever held in the Omaha federal building.

HAD TO CATCH HORSES.

It is alleged in the indictments that a concern operating for some time under the name of the United States Live Stock company sold contracts for wild horses in Arizona at sums ranging from $1,000 to $25,000. It is said contracts for 10,000 horses were sold.

It is further alleged the customer was obliged to go to Flagstaff, Ariz., to catch the horses and that although many went to catch the horses bearing the brands described in the contracts, none were ever shipped. It is related one outfit of fifty men spent three months and caught but twenty-three horses, only two of which carried the brand described in the contracts.

Persons, it is said, who investigated Coconino county insist there were never more than 100 wild horses on the range during the three years the alleged swindle is said to have operated.
