

Nebraska STATE VETS FOLLOW UP STOCK DISEASE Cattle Owners Cautioned to Isolate Cases of Stomatitis in Nebraska. TO PREVENT ITS SPREAD

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Dr. Anderson, state veterinarian, after an investigation of the conditions which have prevailed relative to the foot-and-mouth disease among cattle, has issued the following statement: Owing to the fact that the stockmen of this state are confronted with a disease affecting horses and cattle, known as vesicular stomatitis, it is imperative that it be kept from spreading and as a result the state has received uncomplimentary advertising, and it is necessary to largely through the public stock yards, live barns and public drinking tanks, it is my duty to ask every person in this state who has in their possession any animals affected with this disease to isolate them and to treat them with some appropriate mouth wash or antiseptic until the animals have recovered; to hold under observation all exposed animals for at least eight days. The well animals should be kept from eating or drinking from troughs used by animals with sore mouths. The premises where infected animals have been kept should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected with a 5 per cent solution of carbolic acid or a 3 per cent solution of liquor cresolis compound, or their equivalent. With the hope that we can get a better co-operation of the stockmen who own animals that are affected with the disease in question, I deem it best to advise them to establish a general quarantine, although some states are quarantined against us on account of this disease and the prospects are that it will remain so for some time. If we could get the hearty co-operation of all persons who have stock in their charge or have a general quarantine where the disease is spread, it will then be possible to relieve the situation without establishing a general quarantine. Where we find it impossible to get the co-operation of some individuals, we will then establish a special quarantine to take care of these conditions, as in our estimation it will be advisable to conform with reasonable and sane sanitation.

Frontier School Boards And Teachers Meet Stockville, Neb., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—The second annual meeting of the school board of Frontier county and of the school teachers was held here Friday and Saturday. The teachers held their meeting in the Methodist church and the school boards in the Congregational church. The several sessions were addressed by A. O. Thomas, state superintendent, and A. V. Teed, state inspector of rural schools, and W. H. Campbell of Central City, president of the Farmers' Union, each of these speakers addressing both meetings. Resolutions were passed by the school boards favoring a distribution of the railroad school tax so that all districts might share in the same equitably.

One Man Is Killed As Grindstone Breaks Holdrege, Neb., Dec. 5.—(Special Telegram.)—Albert Lemke was instantly killed and William Crethers had both bones of his right leg broken below the knee Tuesday afternoon when a motor-driven grindstone in the back room of the Palace butcher shop flew to pieces. The men were preparing to sharpen some knives and the motor had been going but a couple of minutes when the grindstone broke, one piece striking Lemke over the left eye, crushing the skull and face, while another broke Crethers' right leg. Lemke leaves a wife and 1-year-old baby.

New Catholic Church At Aurora is Dedicated Aurora, Neb., Dec. 5.—(Special Telegram.)—The beautiful new Catholic church here was dedicated today by Bishop J. Henry Tilden of Lincoln, in the presence of a thousand people. He thanked both Catholics and non-Catholics for their generosity in building the church, declaring it shall be used in teaching practical and useful Christianity. The new church cost $18,000 and takes the place of the wooden structure which burned several months ago. Father Edgard Hagan is in charge.

No Trouble to Remove Superfluous Hair (Toilet Tips) It is an easy matter to rid the skin of objectionable hair or fuzz, if you proceed as follows: Mix a paste with some water and a little powdered delatone, apply to hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method of banishing hairy growth is painless and does not mar the skin, but avoid dispointment, be certain to get real delatone.—Advertisement.

Thomas to Get One More Chance at Normal Board (From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Dec. 3.—(Special.)—It is evident that there is an effort on foot to keep State Superintendent A. O. Thomas from meeting with the State Normal board before his retirement from office the first of the year, a letter having been received by State Treasurer Hall, a member of the board, written by A. L. Caviness, the secretary, wanting to know if there is any good reason why the regular meeting of the board should not be held December 11. Whether the old ring which has dominated the Normal School board does not want to give the state superintendent a chance to give his farewell address to his fellow members on the board is not known, but to those around the state house who have watched the fight made by Caviness and others against Thomas, it appears like an attempt to keep the state superintendent from meeting again with them. However, Treasurer Hall contends the coming meeting is an important one and should be held.

Governor Proclaims Vote on Amendments (From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Dec. 5.—(Special.)—In order that the people of Nebraska may be sure that the state went dry at the last election, Governor Morehead has issued a proclamation in which he assures the people that such is the case. He proclaims that the amendment polled 303,685 votes as a total, of which 146,574 were for the dry proposition and 117,132 were against it, making a majority of 29,442 for the amendment, which makes the amendment carry because the proposition received more than the required three-fifths vote in its favor. He also assures the people that the pure food amendment did not receive the required three-fifths vote in its favor and is therefore lost. The vote showed 302,685 votes cast for and against, of which 91,215 were for it and 105,993 against it, therefore not carried.

Two Counties Hold Out Against Insanity Fee (From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Dec. 5.—(Special.)—There is still $46,785.78 due the state on the old insane accounts, according to a report prepared by State Auditor Smith and given out today. At the time former State Auditor W. B. Howard made the attempt to collect these claims, some of the counties made objection and went into the courts to keep the state from collecting. The case was put up to a special referee, J. H. Broady of Lincoln and he reported in favor of the state. Gage and Stanton are now withholding payments and disputing the claim.

New Plan Adopted For Strengthening Walls (From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Dec. 5.—(Special.)—No telephone poles will be stuck up in representative hall to keep the roof from falling down on the innocent legislator this winter as proposed when the matter of strengthening the wall of the east wing was considered. Instead it has been arranged to lengthen the big timbers by grafting on additional timbers sufficient to reach the ceiling and the roof above. HYMENEAL. Nemetz-Kosick. Frank Kosick and Miss Barbara Nemetz were married by Rev. Charles W. Savidge at his study Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nemetz.

of the operation and transfusion was performed on the afternoon of November 29 by Dr. Edward Lindemann and Dr. George F. Brewer. Following the operation, Mr. Archbold showed increased strength and his physicians and members of his family appeared optimistic that the improvement would be permanent. His simple habits of life and rugged constitution buoyed up the hope that he would survive. Member of First Oil Trust. John D. Archbold was almost as closely identified with the history of the Standard Oil company as John D. Rockefeller himself. One of the first nine trustees of the "trust" formed in 1892, he alone remained in this capacity until its dissolution in 1911 at the order of the United States supreme court, and it was he who was named to engineer the dissolution, after which he became president and director of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. He was the most aggressive fighter in the oil combine and invariably represented the Standard Oil on the witness stand in numerous hearings in connection with the government's suit to dissolve it. This publicity was still further heightened by the publication of a score or more of letters from Mr. Archbold to Joseph B. Foraker, then senator from Ohio, Representative Joseph C. Sibley of Pennsylvania and other statesmen, showing that large sums of money had been distributed for the alleged purpose of influencing favorable legislation at Washington. Mr. Archbold considered them as attorney fees. The publication of these letters exposed Mr. Archbold to attack from every quarter. John Dustin Archbold was born at Leesburg, O., July 26, 1848, and was working in a country store at Salem, O., when he heard of the wonderful oil regions in western Pennsylvania, where men were becoming rich overnight. In 1864 he went to the oil fields and became a refiner and buyer at Titusville. He became the agent of a new company, the Acme company, which proved to be an offshoot of the Rockefeller interests, and from that time, in 1875, until his death, he was an associate of the Rockefellers. Worth Hundred Millions. It has been estimated that Mr. Archbold's fortune, made almost entirely in oil and its by-products, was nearly $100,000,000. He was one of the best informed men in the details of the oil business in all of its branches and, according to his own statement, held that all of the practices of the Standard Oil company were honorable and, he believed, in conformity to the law. "I stand unquestionably," he said in defending the trust idea, "for co-operation and evolution. I believe that the large corporations of the present day represent more nearly this co-operation than any system yet undertaken."

Senator Jones Enters a Denial In Damage Suit

Red Oak, Ia., Dec. 5.—(Special Telegram.)—Senator F. E. Jones of Villisca went on the stand today in defense of himself in the suit in which he is suing Detective Wilkerson for $50,000. He said that he knew where the slaughter house was located, near which Mrs. Vina Tompkins of Marshalltown testified that she overheard the alleged murder plot in the fall of 1911, previous to the murder of the Joe Moore family; that he saw it about twenty years ago, but not since that time until a few days ago, when he visited it in company with his attorney. He denied that he ever took part in a conversation near that slaughter house in which someone asked, "Where will we get the money?" as was brought out in the testimony of Mrs. Tompkins. In his testimony this afternoon Senator Jones told about his going in company with other persons to the Joe Moore home on the morning after the murder, and he stated that he did everything he could to assist in finding out who committed the crime. He denied that he was ever in a room over the postoffice building in Villisca with W. B. McCaull, with a bottle of beer between them, as was testified by E. M. Nelson of Villisca, and he denied also any knowledge of any conversation in the Jones implement shed on the night of May 26, 1916, which J. W. Noell of Villisca testified that he overheard. Noell testified that the conversation was between F. E. Jones, Albert Jones, W. B. McCaull and a man whom he did not know, and that it was relative to the murder. The cross-examination of Senator Jones was still in progress when adjournment was taken this evening. See Want Ads Produce Results.

Supreme Court of S. D. Enjoins Sioux City Express Rates

Pierre, S. D., Dec. 5.—The supreme court of South Dakota this afternoon announced the granting of a permanent injunction against express companies operating in the state from putting into effect the rates asked by Sioux City, Ia. The original action was brought by Sioux City jobbers, who declared the interstate rates from the Iowa city to points in South Dakota were excessive compared with South Dakota intrastate rates and thus discriminatory against Sioux City. The decision is a victory for the State Railway commission, which has sought to maintain the present intrastate rates in South Dakota lower than interstate rates from outside points.
