

GAINES AND BAUM BUY "SCOUT'S REST"

Buffalo Bill's Famous Ranch at North Platte is Purchased by Omaha Men.

CELEBRITIES VISITED 'IT'

"Scout's Rest," Colonel W. F. Cody's famous ranch at North Platte, Neb., has been purchased by Daniel W. Gaines, proprietor of the Merchants hotel, in conjunction with Dan A. Baum of this city. The consideration is approximately $150,000. This tract of 2,700 acres will be divided and placed on the market in about thirty days.

Colonel Cody owned this ranch for forty years. It was at this picturesque and interesting place he started his wild west show, which brought homage and fame of world-wide extent.

"Wild West" Barn.

The great barn of the ranch is typical of the west, with gun stocks carved in the rafters and other features to please the worshipper of forest, field and stream. A private lake is stocked with fish. Water and electric light and power plants serve the ranch in all of its departments.

Colonel Cody has entertained many of the famous men of the world on this preserve, his guests including royalty and noblemen, whose friendship he won while touring Europe with his wild west show.

More stories have been written of this ranch than of any similar place in the United States.

In days gone by the colonel kept his fine horses and dogs at the ranch, and when at home rarely lacked for congenial company with whom he would go on hunting trips.

Christmas Buffalo Weighs Over a Ton

Jake Rossif has a buffalo on his hands but at that he is not in much of a predicament, even though the giant does weigh 2,755 pounds. He comes all the way from Fort Pierre, S. D., where he was the king of the herd. Jake will exhibit his prize at the Public Market on Harney street and in the lobby of the Paxton hotel until Friday, when he will be taken to South Omaha to be cut up into fine steaks for Christmas feasts for those Omaha people who like buffalo meat or who have heard tales of the monarch of the plains and want a chance to taste it.

Husband Finds More Attractions in "The Other Woman," Alleges Wife

Mrs. D. E. Lovejoy Names Mrs. Grace Rogers as Woman Who is Breaking Up Her Home.

HAS SON 18 YEARS OF AGE

Naming Mrs. Grace Rogers, 911 Forest avenue, Apartment 2, as co-respondent and alleging that her husband, Delbert E. Lovejoy, a prominent draftsman and estimator, has signified his intention of giving up his family and sacrificing everything in order to be with "the other woman," Hattie Lovejoy has filed suit for separate maintenance with the clerk of the district court.

The Lovejoys live at 1920 Corby street and have an 18-year-old son, Ferold Lovejoy, who is prominent in dancing circles. They were married on September 21, 1897, being residents of Omaha for the last fifteen years.

Mrs. Lovejoy is 38 years old and her husband 39 years old. Mrs. Rogers, wife of J. A. Rogers, city superintendent of construction for the Otis Elevator company, is 36 years old.

According to Mrs. Lovejoy her husband has become so intimated with Grace Rogers that he absents himself from his business for hours at a time in order to be with her. Mr. Lovejoy talks to his affinity over the telephone daily, according to the wife's allegations.

Mrs. Lovejoy sets forth in her petition that both she and her son, Ferold, have pleaded to the husband and father to give up the other woman, but that he refused and showed a preference for Mrs. Rogers.

Asserting that this state of affairs has kept her in constant worry and in a highly nervous state of mind so as to make inroads upon her health, Mrs. Lovejoy asks for separate maintenance, temporary and permanent alimony and custody of the son.

Mrs. Lovejoy says that her husband receives a large salary and is the owner of stock in the concern for which he works.

Nina M. Murray, wife of William H. Murray, a grocer at 3225 California street, has filed suit for divorce with the clerk of the district court. She alleges cruelty.

BROWNELL HALL WILL BE BUILT

Campaign Nets Hundred Thousand Less Than Expected—Workers Optimistic.

TEAM MEMBERS DONATE

With an even $140,000 subscribed, the ten-day campaign for a fund to rebuild Brownell Hall in Fairacres came to a close at the luncheon at the Hotel Fontenelle.

Though the $250,000 mark originally set was not reached during the ten-day campaign, it was announced by Chairman Kennedy of the committee that Brownell Hall would be built. The trustees are confident of being able to obtain subscriptions to bring the sum up to at least $200,000 by spring, when the work on the building is expected to start.

When the $200,000 is raised the building work is to begin, for the ground was given conditional upon the expenditure of $200,000 for the buildings, and some of the larger subscriptions were made with that understanding.

Ten Days' Total. When the subscriptions for the day had been officially reported, the total for the ten days read, $138,993.

Team No. 16, captained by C. M. Wilhelm, announced that the team itself would make up the $7 necessary to make the total $139,000 even. This was an inspiration.

Mrs. Philip Potter announced that she would like to see another $1,000 subscribed to make an even $140,000, and that she would be one of ten to subscribe $100. John L. Kennedy replied that he would be the second, C. C. George volunteered the next $100, whereupon Team No. 16 volunteered to make up another $100. Then Teams No. 3, 2, 11, 14, 12 and 8, respectively, followed with their subscriptions of $100 each, so that the extra $1,000 to make even money was raised within the space of sixty seconds.

Only one personal subscription for the day mounted as high as $250. This amount was subscribed by H. C. Bostwick.

Campaign is Successful. Chairman Kennedy congratulated all the workers on the success of the campaign, for, he said, "You mustn't feel that you haven't succeeded. You have succeeded and Brownell Hall will be built."

Bishop A. L. Williams expressed his personal gratitude to all for the splendid way they had assisted in the work of raising the funds, and declared, "If anything more is necessary I will give my personal check for the balance upon the bank of faith, and I have never known that bank to fail."

As Miss Marion Towle captained the team bringing in the highest subscriptions for the day, the bouquet for the day went to her, and her father, John W. Towle, was appointed to carry it to her.

The C. M. Wilhelm team took first place among the men's teams for the day. A bevy of Brownell Hall girls to the number of a couple of hundred flocked into the balcony over the dining room and sang Christmas carols during the luncheon and the reporting of the committees.
