HUSKERS MATCHED WITH SYRACUSE

Game Scheduled for Thanksgiving Day at Lincoln—Five-Year Contract Hangs Fire.

NOTRE DAME IS EASIER

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—Announcement was made this morning by Dr. E. J. Stewart, head coach of the University of Nebraska, that Syracuse university would play the Huskers next Thanksgiving day in Lincoln.

Syracuse university has tendered Nebraska a five-year contract, which would bring the strong eastern team to Lincoln for five consecutive years for a turkey day battle. Syracuse is one of the leaders in eastern football and the Nebraska management feels that the intersectional battle is one which would appeal strongly to all lovers of football.

The Husker management has not acted upon the suggestion of the five-year contract, although negotiations have been completed for the game next Thanksgiving day. An October date between Nebraska and Notre Dame on Nebraska field has already been decided upon. Jess Harper's eleven is very popular in Nebraska and there is no disposition on the part of Nebraska to overlook this game.

With Kansas, Missouri and Iowa games already booked, the Huskers will face the stiffest schedule in their history. One or two more games are yet to be arranged before the football schedule is complete.

Ritchie Mitchell Bests Joe Welling

Racine, Wis., Dec. 18.—Ritchie Mitchell of Milwaukee last night won a newspaper decision over Joe Welling of Chicago in ten rounds of fast fighting. He knocked Welling down twice.

The fight had progressed about one minute when the Milwaukee boy crossed his right to Welling's jaw, sending him to the canvas. Welling slowly regained his feet, only to go down a second time with another well placed right to the face. The bell came after Welling had gone into a clinch.

From that point onward the fight developed into a display of boxing and punching. Referee Stout repeatedly warned Welling against rough tactics.
