Sheep—The smallest sheep and iamb run of the week to dair, and a very moderate supply for a Wednesday, was on hand today. As near as could be told at midformoon receipts were about thirty care, or 1,000 head, the fact that no many trainewers late making it uncertain just how many would get in. For the three days the supply totals 28,185 head. This is smaller than for may similar period in menths, being 11,800 short of last week, iese than that may see the compared with a pear ago.

As take above bulk of the offerings came in on late trains, and the result was that it was 10:25 before any great number or sheep and lambs got up to the hare. What little stuff had arrived early was beught readily at figures that were all of a dime higher, a top of $12.50 being paid on variy rounds, and decent to good stuff selling accordingty.

orice up to noon was $12.50. this figure having been paid several times, and bulk of his good lambs had sold upwards from $12.12. Clippers at $11.13 were as straight out of the once that brought $11.15 yestenday. There were still a few loads back to lunch time.

Only a few old sheep were offered and these included nothing real good, there sheing little on which to really base a marset. Some fair even that were not exmeeted to be very high dressers sold at $15.50 and the best price reported during the forenoon was $15.50. The late servivals were expected, so include a load or as of

WHEAT PRICES DECLINE

Omaha December 20, 1916.
The local rash market was rather quiet again today on account of extremely light eccipts and prices generally were on a de-line.

Wheat, with a drop of ic to 4c, showed the biggest loss, although there was a pretty settly demand for this cereal at the prethe biggrest loss, although there was a pretty active demand for this cereal at the prevailing prices.

No. 2 hard wheat sold at $1.65, No. 2 hard was quoted at $1.52 and $1.53, and a car of No. 3 durum brought $1.35.

Corn receipts totaled thirty-three cars, but the trade in this market was very active, considering the fact that prices ruled from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\fr

Considerable nervousness wasevinced in the wheat trade throughout the seemon, but the volume of business did not exceed normal limits and there were no price fluctuations much beyond the ordinary. The nearess appreach to extreme came in the final half hour when the bears succeeded in making a decided impression with the aid of goostip that additional diplomatic movements in the direction of a peace parley would be forthcoming if not aiready in progress under cover. Lowest quotations of the day resulted and there was virtually no railying power evident in the pit as the market came to an end.

Some purchasing of future deliveries by day's principal buyers were on the seiling side.

Only a light trade developed in provisions and the market heid within marrow bounds. Triffling sains formed the rule, owing chiefly to strength in quotations on bags.

Jardine Wants to Have a Million for Sewers Next Year

City Commissioner Jardine favors the expenditure of $1,000,000 in a sewer-building program for next year. The present charter limitation is $200,000 in bonds in one year. Mr. Jardine will urge that in the presentation of proposed charter amendments to the legislature this winter the sewer bond fund be increased as indicated.

City Engineer Bruce has submitted to the commissioner an outline of estimated cost of an adequate sewer system, the total being placed at $2,-365,000.

365,000.

Mr. Jardine believes the Saddle creek sewer should be completed to Fifty-fourth and Center streets at a cost of $160,000 and a continuation cost of $160,000 and a continuation of one mile to the southwest would cost $210,000 more.

Other urgent sewer needs are: Completion of Jones street sewer to the river, $12,000: main sewer from Thirty-sixth and Sprague streets to Deaf institute, $98,000; main sewer from Sixteenth street and Grand avenue to Eighth and Seward streets, $350,000; extension of Grace street sewer from Union Pacific shops to the river, $87,000; completion of Minne Lusa sewer, $393,000.

YORK STOCKS French Tax Increase Fort Dodge Guards Is Far Reaching Do Not Want to Come

Washington, Dec. 20.-New taxes proposed in France to care for increased war expenditures next year extend in many directions, reports to the United States government show. One tax would assess mobilizable men not actually performing military duty 12 francs each and also an addi-tional amount graded according to the income tax paid by the person as-sessed. Another would be a national levy on dogs.

Heavier taxes are planned on mines, clubs, horses and vehicles, incomes, personal estate, traffic in alcoholic drinks and many other things. Prices are to be raised on t obacco, a government monopoly, and taxes will be laid on the domestic consumption of coffee, tea, cocoa and condiments.

are to be raised on t obacco, a government monopoly, and taxes will be laid on the domestic consumption of coffee, tea, cocoa and condiments.

Under the plan the income tax will be raised from 2 to 5 per cent and the exemption lowered from 5,000 to 3,000 francs. The tax on personal estates will be increased from 4 to 5 per cent.

triotic donors also will be sent.

Captain Fred Frost of Company G. home on leave, declares that most of his men do not want to come home at this time f the year. They feel they have finished their heaviest training and fear the northern cold. Many of them also realize they will be out of jobs, as the season for outdoor work is over. He declares the health of the men could not be better.
