

BERLIN PRESS IS NOT OPTIMISTIC

German Newspapers See Little Hope for Peace in Lloyd George's Utterances.

HINT AT WAR TO A FINISH

Berlin, Dec. 20.—(Via London, Dec. 21.)—The Berlin press, which commented only fragmentarily on Premier Lloyd George's speech this morning, because only excerpts were available, now has the entire text and devotes its full attention to the subject.

Lloyd George's references to restitution and reparation are universally interpreted as an entente demand that Germany surrender all occupied territory and probably pay an indemnity. The Tageblatt says: "Lloyd George is not willing to negotiate, or willing only in case that Germany will submit to England's demands as summarized in his utterances regarding restitution, reparation and guarantee. This makes the chasm between the English and the German standpoint so broad that not even the most cheerful optimist can find a way to bridge it."

Slight Hope Expressed. The Tageblatt concluded by asking whether all possibilities of peace have now vanished and answers its own question with a faintly hopeful reference to various French socialists, English and Italian voices as showing that the peace overtures are not judged by the public exactly as by the parliament.

In the view of the Vossische Zeitung the reference to the noose is nothing more than a recognition by England of Germany's strength and the failure of the entente military enterprises. It adds that not a single word of Lloyd George's speech indicates any desire to repair the torn intercommunal threads and asks why the entente should stand so stubbornly for restriction and reparation when it is highly improbable that Alsace can ever be conquered by France, Constantinople by Russia and that it is even improbable if Germany can be driven out of the conquered territory. The Vossische Zeitung contends that it is a fortunate thing that Germany possess militarism to withstand the "entente's ambition to reach its world goal."

The most significant sentence in the Deutsche Tages Zeitung is Count von Reventlow's comment on Lloyd George's reference to Napoleon. He says: "Conditions were different a century ago and above all there were no submarines." The Kreuz Zeitung is flatly pessimistic. "We have now learned," it says, "that our enemies do not want peace, but war to the knife, so we must abandon all considerations and grasp all the means of war at our disposal."

hardly expect the railroads to expend large sums on great quantities of equipment to take care of a flood of business that is necessarily temporary.

Following are the resolutions adopted by the convention:

Against the Embargo.

Whereas, it is proposed to place an embargo on wheat, which will prevent the exportation of a necessary life and deny to humanity the most necessary of the necessities of life, and

Whereas, we believe the proposed embargo is a violation of the rights of our most important products, and is unfair to the producer and consumer alike, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the National Farmers' Equity union assembly in convention in Omaha, hereby declares itself unalterably opposed to this and other similar embargoes and most respectfully petitions the congress of the United States to emphatically discourage, by proper legislation, this and other attempts at embargo enactment.

Since the members of the Farmers' Equity union are familiar with the needs of brother farmers, we respectfully petition the Federated Farm Loan board to consider the appointment of one member of the Farmers' Equity Union on the board of directors for each Farm Loan bank located in states where the Equity-Union is doing business.

Endorse Omaha For Bank.

Since the city of Omaha is both geographically and industrially the center of a large agricultural territory, we, as a body, respectfully petition the Federal Farm Loan board to locate a Farm Loan bank in this city.

We respectfully ask our national board of directors to carry on a campaign of education regarding the auditing of the books of each exchange by an accredited accountant until each set of books shall be audited every ninety days.

We recommend that each member of the Equity-Union urge the members of the several state legislatures to enact a co-operative law similar to the one now on the statute books of Kansas, and further recommend that our national secretary send a copy of said law to the legislative bodies where the Equity-Union is organized.

Since every equity Exchange has been caused grief from the car shortage, we urge the enforcement of the new demurrage rates.

Wold Take Over Railways.

We, the Farmers' Equity, strongly recommend to President Wilson the taking over of railroads at their physical valuation, and further recommend that every Equity-Union send a postcard showing to the president regarding the same on January 3, 1917.

This committee recommends that the directors of all exchanges instruct their managers to do all their business, wherever possible, through our centralized buying and selling agencies.

At the close of this our second convention held in the city of Omaha, we wish to take this opportunity to thank all of those who have been instrumental in making our stay in the city so pleasant.

also considering what would have to be the course of the United States to conserve its interests as a neutral if the war is to continue.

Coupled with the president's recent declaration that the position of neutrals was becoming intolerable, they attach much significance to his statement in the note that his suggestion comes from a neutral whose interests have been most seriously affected by the war "and whose concern for its early conclusion arises out of a manifest necessity to determine how best to safeguard those interests if the war is to continue."

German Expect Results.

In German quarters the conviction that the president's action would surely lead to some sort of a consideration of peace terms was expressed in the following authorized statement by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador: "Now I am perfectly convinced that there will be conferences."

Despite the fact that President Wilson's notes state specifically and unreservedly that he is not proposing peace—he is not even offering mediation—they are regarded here as of such a nature as will compel all belligerents to make more of a reply than a mere acknowledgment of receipt.

Britons Are Surprised.

British embassy officials made no attempt to conceal their surprise at the president's action. They are not alone, however, for all official Washington had been led by officials to believe that the president in transmitting the German peace proposals without comment had taken all the action that was to be expected from the United States for some time to come unless there was some unforeseen development in world affairs. The secrecy with which the preparation of the notes and their dispatch were surrounded was complete and nothing was known about them until they were well on their way.

League of Nations.

The definite proposal of the United States for a "league of nations to insure peace and justice throughout the world," is interpreted as a step which, if carried through would mean the abandonment of the theory of "splendid isolation" which Washington bequeathed to the country. Significance is attached to the fact that the president uses the word "insure" rather than "enforce" as indicating that he has not committed himself to any one program to accomplish that end, but that he is open to whatever suggestions may seem best to the other world nations.

Repeated efforts have been made to enlist the American government in some sort of international agreement involving responsibility, but always the answer has been the United States would stand alone. Several months ago President Wilson spoke most earnestly before the league to enforce peace of his hope that the United States would join in some new international arrangements, but not until now is he known to have made the proposal officially to the nations of the world.

European Nations Committed.

It is thought here that along these lines President Wilson's note will find its most ready reception abroad, for all parties have indicated their belief that the war will have been in vain unless from it come guarantees against its repetition. Former Foreign Minister Sir Edward Grey for England, Premier Briand for France and Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg for Germany have all committed their nations to some sort of international reorganization to secure the ends laid down in the president's note and the official offers of the central powers, together with Lloyd George's speech in reply, have accentuated that purpose.

As yet, however the actual procedure which may be adopted appears uncertain. Germany apparently has given up its earlier opposition to disarmament which nearly split the second Hague conference. No official statement has come from either England or France on this subject in the present circumstance. It was England, however, at The Hague conference, seconded by France and the United States, that insisted on stating its views in favor of disarmament. Deepest interest centered today in his right to speak in the name of peace and salvation. Speaks on "Our Country."

Bishop Lynch of Dallas, an orator of rare ability, speaking of "Our Country," related the early history of the Catholic church in this country, and said: "If our country is to adhere to the ideals of our ancestors, and if our ship of state would sail in the method and form our forefathers hoped, we must stand for a square deal."

Archbishop Glenn of St. Louis expressed the hope that bishops and priests would push forward with zeal and in the spirit of companionship. He stated that Archbishop Harty was known in St. Louis as "Father Harty" and as a model priest.

"Our Diocese" was the toast to which Father Harrington responded. He bounded Omaha by St. Paul, Chicago, Denver and St. Louis, and expressed a hope that the soup poisoning incident which marked a similar banquet in Chicago would not be repeated in this city. He told of the growth of the Catholic church in this state from forty priests twenty years ago to 200 priests today. He said there are 100 parishes and 90,000 members of the church in the diocese of Omaha.

Bishop Dougherty of Buffalo, N. Y., was represented at the ceremonies by Rev. Dr. E. Zepf of Buffalo, formerly of Rome, Italy.

ALCOHOL WRECKS LIVES OF DOCTORS

Physician Upbraids Members of His Own Profession Before Commercial Club.

BOOZE LOWERS EFFICIENCY

"More doctors are complete wrecks because of excessive use of alcohol than any other class of men," said Dr. E. C. Henry in his talk on the effects of alcohol on men before the Noonday club in the Commercial club rooms at noon. Dr. Henry declared that even the most moderate use of alcohol lowers a man's efficiency. "Doctors tell you that a little smoking and drinking does no harm, because most of them smoke and drink a little themselves," he said, "but the fact is that any alcohol taken into the system is injurious."

The speaker cited the actual test of 200 bricklayers in Sweden. They were divided into two groups, the first 100 being given a small quantity of beer while they worked. It was found their efficiency as bricklayers was lowered 10 per cent. Later the other 100 men who had shown the greater efficiency were also given a like quantity of beer, and the result was that their work showed up 10 per cent less efficient. Another test, he said, was made upon a lot of marksmen who were given wine. When questioned about the result the marksmen themselves testified that they had shot faster and better under the influence of the
