

Nebraska HALL ASKS PUBLIC TO AID GUARDSMEN

Calls Attention to Men's Need of Employment on Their Return.

COMMERCIAL CLUB LETTER

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Lincoln, Dec. 21.—(Special.)—On the eve of the return of the Nebraska soldiers from the border, Adjutant General Phil Hall desires again to call the attention of the public to the fact that the boys will need jobs. Coming back in the middle of the winter it will be a hardship upon many of them to secure positions. Some of them gave up good jobs to serve their country and it is essential that they should not be forgotten, he says. The general has sent a letter to commercial clubs of the state urging them to take some action.

You undoubtedly are aware of the exigencies of the military service of the country at this time and the fact that the National Guard has in the last three years developed into a national reserve which would in time of war furnish to this nation the larger portion of its first line of defense, to say nothing of its application in case of riots and unforeseen circumstances requiring additional force to that of the civil or state's behalf.

This department is desirous of enlisting your co-operation in securing positions for National Guardsmen upon their return from the Mexican border. Many of these men will be without employment, and a helping hand at that time will be an act of kindness that will demonstrate the sincere appreciation of the people of Nebraska for the sacrifice that these men have made in their behalf.

It is appreciated that many employers would not afford financially to hold open positions for Guardsmen for a period of six months, and on the other hand many large concerns have paid Guardsmen formerly in their employ either all or portion of their salary while on the border, and upon the return of the troops their old positions will be open to them.

Mr. F. M. Coffey, head of the department of labor at the state capitol, has cheerfully agreed to co-operate with this department by using the free employment feature of the department of labor as a medium through which employers, in need of men may fill their requirements and Guardsmen may appear to fill such requests.

The return of the troops is expected in the next few days, and it is hoped that plans they will be mustered out at Fort Crook, Neb.

Your co-operation in this matter and any suggestions that you may desire to make will be deeply appreciated.

Harman on Trail Of Fake Inspector

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Dec. 21.—(Special.)—Some man is traveling about the state representing himself to be an inspector of the state pure food department, says Food Commissioner Clarence E. Harman.

He desires the public to know that all his inspectors have necessary credentials and identification cards and he desires merchants and others who have any knowledge of the false inspector to notify his office at once and he will investigate.

Fugitive Claim Filed With State Auditor

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Dec. 21.—(Special.)—One claim has already been filed with State Auditor Smith for the legislature to adjust. It is to pay a reward offered by Governor Morehead, as provided by law, for the capture of fugitives from justice. No appropriation was made by the last session to cover the matter and it will have to go before the claims committee of the two houses.

Colonel Harry Bradley Looks After the Senate

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Dec. 21.—(Special.)—Colonel Harry Bradley of Seward has again been selected to look after the upper house and the welfare of the members. No new furniture for the upper body will be bought. The last session authorized Secretary of State Pool to buy desks and chairs and other equipment and authorized a sum amounting to $5,000. No appropriation was made, so, in the face of a probable new state house, Mr. Pool figured it would be best to use the old furnishings again.

Bowmans of Boone Capture Honors at The International

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Dec. 21.—(Special.)—Nebraska people who admired the fine string of Percheron horses on exhibition at the state fair last fall, which not only carried off many fine premiums but took the cream of the ribbons at the Iowa state fair, will be interested to know that the owners of the horses, Bowman & Son of Boone county, again made a killing at the International Horse show in Chicago a week ago, according to information coming to Lincoln, and walked off with enough ribbons to indicate that Nebraska stands high in competition with other states.

Carchepet was one of the group of three colts winning first prize, which was considered the greatest honor of the show. Mr. Bowman went into the show, and just to demonstrate that he meant business, paid $7,000 in cash for Kontakt, a 6-year-old imported Percheron stallion weighing 2,500 pounds, which had cleaned up some of the best prizes at former shows, and which is considered one of the greatest horses in America. The Bowmans propose to keep Nebraska on the map when it comes to competition with other states in fine-bred stock.

Dodge, Neb., Dec. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—The plant of the Dodge Milling company was totally destroyed by fire early this morning. The total loss is about $13,000, one-fourth of which was on wheat and flour. The company had a large stock of flour on hand, most of which was stored in another building. The origin of the fire, which was discovered shortly after 1 o'clock, has not been ascertained. The company is capitalized at $15,000 and most of the stock is owned by Dodge business men and farmers. The plant had been in operation about eight months. It was insured for $10,000 and probably will be rebuilt.

"One Touch of Nature Makes the Whole World Kin."

It's a commendable trait that when something has been of benefit to us, we want to share it with others who stand in need of the same help. It's the touch of Nature that makes the whole world kin—the wanting to be helpful to one's fellowmen. That is why people who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy write letters to the manufacturers about it, and ask to have them published so that others will know what to do under the same circumstances. Behind every one of these letters is the warm hearted wish of the writer to be of use to some one else.—Advertisement.

FARMERS AGE HIGH IN THIS SESSION

Forty-Four Tillers of Soil Will Be Represented in Next House.

ONLY FIVE IN SENATE

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Dec. 21.—(Special.)—The lower branch of the Nebraska legislature this session will be decidedly "farmersque," according to the roster just from the printer, prepared by Secretary of State Pool. Forty-four tillers of the soil will be represented in the house, while the senate will have but five.

The house will have thirteen lawyers to look after the bills and see that they come out of the hopper all right, while the senate will have seven of the legal fraternity.

There will be seven real estate men in the house and five in the senate; three ditto have crowded their way into the lower body, who, with the help of two preachers therein, ought to give a decided moral tone to the lower branch. J. J. McAllister, W. J. Taylor, F. A. Reiser and other able orators will turn their eloquence loose to such an extent that it may jar the already unsate walls.

Preachers in Disguise.

The two preachers appear to be angels in disguise, for neither of them admits his calling, one being tagged as a professor and the other an insurance man. Four years ago the latter was chaplain of the house. There are two editors in the senate. Each body has a candy maker. They are both democrats. There will be three doctors in the house and two in the senate, four bankers in the house and three in the senate, while each house will have one auctioneer each.

Owing to an error of the printer, Jim Craddock of Omaha is listed as a banker instead of an architect, although there is not much difference as far as money is concerned. Just how Jens Nielsen will feel to be listed as an architect is not known, although it is believed that on account of his naturally quiet disposition he will make no kick.

Secretary Pool has prepared the roster so that the number of the seat occupied by each member is given. It is interesting to note that twenty-nine of the forty-nine farmers in both branches are democrats, while twelve of the twenty lawyers are republicans. Four of the five editors are democrats, while five of the seven bankers are republicans. Of the two preachers one is a republican and the other a democrat.

Plattsmouth, Neb., Dec. 21.—(Special.)—Mrs. John Moreford, who teaches the Amick school, near Murray, when starting for her work yesterday morning slipped on the step of her boarding house and fell, breaking both legs. Mrs. Moreford's home is at Elmwood, this county, and a telephone message called her husband and Dr. O. E. Liston from there, who took the injured woman home in a motor car.
