

FULLER TELLS TALE OF HIS MURDER PLAN

Blackens Name of Dead Woman and Says He Has Nothing Left to Live For.

TWO YEARS OF WANDERING

With no display of emotion except once when he wept as he told of his children, Floyd W. Fuller, aged 49, who murdered Effie Dorothy Rader Carberry, 29, Wednesday night when she alighted from a street car at Twenty-fifth avenue and Farnam street, because she would not return to him, sat calmly at police headquarters and related in detail the story of his relations with the slain woman.

His story, told as he puffed placidly at a cigar he had requested, was to blacken the name of the woman he had slain after she had refused to resume unlawful relations with him. In conclusion he declared that he did not regret his deed and pleaded that he be hanged at once.

"Now that she is gone, there is nothing for me to live for," he cried. "I will offer no defense and I wish they would take me out and hang me now. He is under heavy guard so that he may not harm himself."

Story of Their Relations.

According to Fuller's tale, he first met the murdered woman at Kimball two years ago. She had left her husband in Nevada and had gone to Kimball to live with her mother. Shortly afterward, he said, she induced him to sell his shop and they motored to Ogden, Utah, where they kept house for about a month. As the result of a quarrel he left her there and returned to Nebraska. Soon after they went to Denver and they were married there in September, 1915. They lived in Lexington, where Fuller bought a butcher shop.

"It was in Lexington," said Fuller, "that she first began to deceive me. As I learned afterwards, when I was at work she entertained men at her home and frequently took fellows joyriding in my car. I heard reports of this kind at that time, but I would not believe them. When I asked her about her trip to Omaha she said she had come to Omaha to see her husband and admitted that she had never been divorced."

She Left Him for Good.

"I tried to induce her to go to her mother at Sidney and there get a divorce so we could be legally married. I agreed to pay all her expenses and when she left she held up her right hand and swore that she would do nothing wrong. But she did not go to Sidney; she came to Omaha. That was last April. I came here to see her several times. When she was injured in an automobile accident last August I visited her at the hospital and there, on my knees, I begged her to return to me, but she refused."

"I got work as manager of the meat department at Basket Store No. 24, at Twenty-second and Farnam. Some times I got to talk to her, but she would not listen to me when I asked her to come back to me. For some time I carried a gun and intended to kill her, but soon I became interested in my work and felt better, so I left the gun at home."

"Last week I bought the county rights for the sale of a newly-invented gas burner, which makes gas out of coal oil, and I went to York to start work. Three burners were supposed to have been shipped to me there, but they did not come. After I waited three or four days I returned to Omaha Saturday night in a pretty bad frame of mind."

Searched for His Victim.

"I engaged a room at the Merchants hotel and searched the streets for Dorothy. Last night I saw her waiting for a car at Sixteenth and Farnam. I wanted to kill her there, but I did not on account of the crowd. At Twenty-fifth she got off and so did I. I stopped her and asked her if she would not return to me. She sneered and then I opened fire."

"I planned to kill myself and I tried, but the gun would not go off. I guess something was wrong with the safety. I'm sorry that the job was only half done, for I have nothing to live for, now that she is gone. I will not try to get freedom, for I cannot return to my family after all the disgrace I have brought them. I wish they would take me out and hang me now."

Fuller will be charged with murder in the first degree and will be given a preliminary examination Friday.

Two Negroes Charged With Highway Robbery

Highway robbery was the charge against John W. Garlin and Ernest Wright, both colored, when arraigned in South Side police court Thursday morning. Each was held under $500 bonds. They held up and strong-armed Jack Hobey, 5103 South Twenty-sixth street, Wednesday night, the police say, and took from him a watch and $1.

Steve Amch was held under $1,000 bonds on the charge of assaulting Joe Miller. The victim of the assault is still in a precarious condition, although the alleged attack occurred on the night of November 30. Amch was arrested Wednesday.

Fifteen Couples Hasten To Wed Before Christmas

The annual pre-Christmas rush at the Douglas county marriage license clerk's office was in evidence Wednesday when fifteen couples, most of them from out-of-town, took the first steps in the "till death do us part" game. Many of the prospective brides from nearby towns declared that they could save the railroad fare to Omaha by doing their Christmas shopping here.

Commission of Archbishop Harty To Cathedral Church of Omaha

Two bulls came from Rome to Omaha, one being the notice of the appointment of Archbishop Harty and the other an address to the people of the diocese.

The bull is written on parchment in Latin. It is signed by two cardinals and bears the papal seal on a large lead medallion. This seal shows the heads of St. Peter and St. Paul, with a cross on one side, and on the other the words, "Benedictus Papa XV." "Pope Benedict XV."

The translation of the first bull is as follows: "Benedict, bishop, servant of the servants of God, to our venerable brother, Jeremiah J. Harty, hitherto Archbishop of Manila, Archbishop Bishop-elect of Omaha, health and the apostolic benediction."

"The office committed to our lowliness by the eternal Prince of pastors of ruling, governing and fostering the universal church, lays upon us the burden of diligently seeing that there be consecrated for all churches prelates who with knowledge and power may nourish unto salvation the flock of the Lord."

"Whereas, the Cathedral Church of Omaha, which is suffragan to the Metropolitan church of Dubuque, and of which the last bishop was Richard Scannell of blessed memory, is, by his death, deprived for the time being of its pastor. We desire to provide unto salvation as well for the same church of Omaha as for its flock in the Lord, by the plenitude of apostolic power, release you, hitherto the Archbishop of Manila, from the bond by which you are held to the Metropolitan Church of Manila and, after consulting Our Venerable Brothers, the Cardinals of the Holy Roman Catholic church, transfer you by apostolic authority to the same Cathedral Church of Omaha. And, as we have appointed you Bishop and Pastor, so also do we fully commit to you the care, government and administration of the Church of Omaha in matters spiritual and temporal, with all the rights, privileges, duties and obligations inhering in this pastoral charge."

"We wish, however, that as you have hitherto borne the title of Archbishop, you shall, in taking possession of this new See, bear the title of Archbishop, Bishop of Omaha. We further wish that besides complying with the other obligations of law, before you engage yourself in any way in the government and administration of the aforesaid church of Omaha, you be bound to make confession of Catholic faith and take the customary oaths in the presence of a Catholic prelate, whomsoever you prefer, who is in favor with and in communication with the Apostolic See, according to the forms in the present letters, and to send them over the signature and seal of yours, and the said prelate within six months, to the Apostolic See."

"Given at Rome, at St. Peter's, in the year of Our Lord, 1916, on the 16th day of May, in the second year of our pontificate."

To Clergy and People.

Following is the address of Pope Benedict to the clergy and people of the diocese, read at the installation ceremony:

"Benedict, bishop, servant of the servants of God, to our beloved sons, the clergy and people of the city and diocese of Omaha, health and apostolic benediction."

"On this day we, in the plenitude of apostolic power releasing our venerable brother, Jeremiah James Harty, hitherto archbishop of Manila, from the bond whereby he was held to the Metropolitan church of Manila, have, by our apostolic authority and after consultations with our venerable brothers, the cardinals of the holy Roman church, transferred him to your cathedral church of Omaha, for the time being, deprived of its pastor, and have set him over that church as its bishop and pastor; permitting him, moreover, to retain the title of archbishop, and so to be styled henceforth archbishop bishop of Omaha."

"Wherefore, We exhort you all and strictly enjoin upon you to receive with devotedness the same Jeremiah James, archbishop bishop, as your father and the shepherd of your souls, and to pay him due honor and to show due obedience and reverence to his salutary counsels and commands, that he may rejoice to find in you devoted sons, and you in him a kindly father."

"We wish, moreover, and command, that by the care and office of the ordinary who now rules your diocese, these our letters be publicly read from the pulpit in the same cathedral church, on the first occurring holiday of obligation."

"Given at Rome at St. Peter's in the year of Our Lord 1916, on the 16th day of May, in the second year of our pontificate. P. P."

U. P. EMPLOYEES TO GET A GOOD BONUS

All Who Receive Less Than $1,800 a Year to Get an Extra Month's Pay.

OTHER FIRMS HELPING OUT

There will be a Christmas present hung up for every Union Pacific employee whose annual salary is under $1,800, and there are between 10,000 and 12,000 of them. This present is to be an additional month's pay, given as a bonus for efficient services and to aid in combatting the high cost of living.

Notice that the Union Pacific is to give its employees an extra month's pay comes from New York, where the directors of the company are now holding the annual meeting. This action caused great joy among the employees at headquarters, in the shops and out along the line.

The bonus will be to members of the brotherhoods as well as to all others, there being no discrimination, and it is asserted that with a small proportion all of the engineers and conductors will share in the distribution. There are some of these men whose salaries exceed $1,800 per year and, of course, they will not get in under the bonus distribution.

Extra Dividend.

An extra dividend of 2 per cent was also voted on the common stock of the company and a plan adopted for life insurance for employees whose salaries are under $4,000 per year.

The Union Pacific, however, is not the only concern hereabouts that remembers its employees with a distribution of cash at this Christmas time.

The Nebraska Telephone company will give each of its 1,000 employees cash equal to three weeks' salary.

The Western Union Telegraph company distributes something like $11,000 among its employees. Each messenger receives a cash gift of $25 and all other employees whose annual salaries are under $2,000, a bonus of 5 per cent of the salary for the year.

Employees of the Standard Oil company who receive less than $3,000 per year get a minimum of 25 cents per day bonus for the year up to 10 per cent of their salary.

The General Electric company gives a bonus of 10 per cent of the annual salary to such employees whose salaries are $2,500 or less per year.

The International Harvester company distributes a 10 per cent bonus to the Nebraska employees. There are some 200 of them.

REAL WINTER HAS ALREADY STARTED

Fall Has Passed and We Now Begin Three Months of Winter.

SPRING SOON TO BE HERE

By A. R. GROH.

This weather that we've been having the last few days, good people, was fall weather.

Winter, according to the irrefragable, irrefutable and irresistible almanac, began yesterday. So we may now look for some real winter temperatures. Get out your overcoat, galoshes, ear tabs, muffs, mufflers, scarfs, gloves, mittens and put on your heaviest "undies."

Old Man Winter came to Omaha for a three months' stay last night at 10 o'clock. He has a trunkful of snowstorms, two suitcases filled with cold waves and a Gladstone bag full of ice.

A special guard of coal men, dealers in overcoats, sleds, skates and the like were at the station to protect the old man from violence at the hands of indignant citizens.

Winter begins, you know, when the sun reaches its farthest point south. At 10 o'clock last night the orb of day started back again toward the north—and spring. That's a pleasant thought, anyway.

Shortest Day of Year.

It was the shortest day of the year. The sun rose at 7:48 a. m. and sets at 4:56 p. m., making a day only nine hours and ten minutes in length.

The days will remain the same length until December 30, which is one minute longer. December 31 will be two minutes longer, and so on.

The lowest temperature ever recorded in Omaha was 32 below zero. Valentine holds the record for the state with 38 below. The record cold in the United States was registered at Williston, N. D., and Miles City, Mont.—49 degrees below zero. At Key West, Fla., the lowest ever recorded was 41 degrees above zero.

Old Gabriel, Daniel Fahrenheit invented the thermometer by which we can tell how cold we are. That was in 1720.

Some animals go into a torpid condition and sleep all through the cold weather. They don't have to face the north wind or buy coal or overcoats. Their heart beats sink from 150 a minute to fifteen and their respiration from 500 an hour to fourteen.

Blood of Fish Cold.

The normal body temperature of mammals is 98 to 102 degrees Fahrenheit. That of birds is from 108 to 112. The blood of fish is cold.

After you have added these interesting facts to your fund of useful information we will proceed with what we were saying about the arrival of winter. We were commenting upon the mild fall weather with only 9 degrees below zero and upon the prospect of real winter weather now.

Well, that picture is too dark. We have seen many a winter here in Omaha when the thermometer didn't get down as low as zero. We may have October weather in January or February. That's one of the beauties of Nebraska climate, its infinite variety. Do you remember last New Year's day? It was like June.

Probably the worst of the winter is past. Better be looking over the seed catalogues because it'll be time to start the garden before you know it.

Christmas Rush Makes Trains Late

Passenger trains in and out of Omaha are running from one to three hours late and there is no hope for any improvement in the service until after the rush of business incident to sending Christmas presents is over.

Railroad men assert that passenger trains are late simply by reason of the vast quantity of parcels post mail that is being handled. At the Omaha depots the platforms are piled high with the Christmas going packages and the storage rooms are filled to the ceilings. This stuff all has to move on the trains and with a few minutes' delay at each station, loading and unloading the packages, in a few hundred miles the delay has run into hours.
