Mrs. Payton Asks
For Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars

One of Omaha's most famous divorce cases—Cordelia Payton against Lacey E. Payton, wealthy real estate man, which has been in the courts for the last six years—took on a new light with the filing of a new petition by the plaintiff.
Mrs. Payton asks alimony to the amount of $25,000. Cruelty is alleged.
It is understood that the defendant will not contest the suit.
During the history of the case the district court and the supreme court have refused to grant a decree to either the plaintiff or the defendant because of the bitter charges made against each other in the former suits.

Murdered Girl Was Good, Stepfather
Tells Reporters

"Floyd Fuller, who murdered my stepdaughter, is not only a murderer, but also the blackest of liars. When he says that 'Dody' Rader was not a good girl, he blackens the character of a good young woman as only a depicable degenerate can blacken it." That was the statement of J. W.
Walker, stepfather of Effie Dorothy Rader, the girl who was shot to death by Fuller on the night of December 20. Mrs. Walker, mother of the murdered girl, is also in Omaha. She is grief-stricken. Mr. and Mrs. Walker came from Sidney, Neb., to take charge of the body. It will be buried in Denver, Colo.

Peter Shelby Dies In Cleveland Home

Peter P. Shelby, veteran railroad man, who died yesterday in Cleveland, O., aged 71 years, although he left here in 1887, is well remembered by a large number of the older residents of the city.
As a young man, Mr. Shelby came to Omaha in 1866 and found employment with the Union Pacific as a brakeman. Before the end of the second year of his service he was promoted to conductor, baggage agent and yard master. He then became chief clerk to the station master and in 1870 was appointed agent in Omaha, holding this position until 1875, when he became division freight agent. In 1878 he became general freight agent, holding the position until 1882, when he was promoted to assistant traffic manager. In 1880 he resigned and went to one of the Montana roads, subsequently going east, where he served as a railroad official until some three years ago, when he retired and from then until the time of his death lived with a daughter in Cleveland.
Mr. Shelby was an uncle of Mrs. C.
E. Fanning.

U. P. Bridge to Be Moved This Morning

Union Pacific officials have set a definite date for moving the old bridge out and the new one in. This date is tomorrow and the hours between 10:30 in the morning and 3:30 in the afternoon. It is not believed that anywhere as much time as indicated in the announcement will be consumed, and it is probable that the new structure will be in place shortly after noon. However, officials of the railroads operating over the bridge have been notified that the new structure will not be opened for traffic until after 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

South America Wants to Dr. Frederick H. Millener has secured a patent on an apparatus for generating high frequency electrical oscillations, or, as the layman would put it, apparatus for pushing sound along over the telephone. The Argentine government has become interested in the patent and the application of the apparatus and officials are in correspondence with the doctor relative to its installation in the South American republic.

MORE EFFORT AND LESS BOOZE, PLEASE

Prohibitionists Could Certainly Have Caught the Wild Horses, Says Thompson.

BACCHUS A BAD COWBOY

If horse wranglers had used "a little less whisky and more effort" they would have encountered no difficulties in the rounding up of some of the 15,000 wild mustangs which the United States Live Stock company claimed to own on the government reserve in Coconino county, Arizona.
This was the testimony of C. M.
Thompson, indicted secretary-treasurer of the company, and now being tried in the United States district court for the alleged use of the mails to defraud.

"The cowboys liked their liquor too well to catch many horses," he told the jury.
He was positive, he testified, that the horses were on the range and if the proper men set out to catch them it would be a very easy task.

A Pastor's Plight.
He never told Pastor Flowers of Burns, Ore., and of Kearney, Neb., that the range horses were bred up from Percheron and Belgian stock, he said.

"And I never told him the horses would be easy to catch. On the other hand I told him that the animals would be rather hard to gather and that it would take a lot of money.
The preacher then told me that he didn't want to catch the horses, but was going to trade them off on the range. He had no intention of catching them."

Pastor Flowers had earlier testified that he had lost property and merchandise valued at $9,800 in trading for the Arizona cayuses.

Poor Trade, This.
As to J. A. Robertson, real estate dealer of Draper, S. D., who also had testified earlier in the proceedings that he had traded his $4,000 De Sota (1a) flats, Thompson said that there must have been some mistake as to the value of the property.

"All the United States Live Stock company ever got out of the deal was $250, which it gave to a lawyer to straighten the matter out." Thompson cited case after case in which the United States Live Stock company had lost money in their dealings with victims who had claimed that they had been "miked."

Wife Cruel, Deaver Says, Because She Won't Move

Alleging that the action of his wife in refusing to move with him and their three children to Omaha from Herman, Washington county, Nebraska, constitutes cruelty, Samuel R.
Deaver has filed suit for divorce against Minnie J. Deaver.
