

OMAHA MILK WELL UP TO STANDARD

Dairy Inspector Secures Numerous Convictions of Owners Below Requirements.

MANY COWS CONDEMNED

Dairy and Milk Inspector Bossie reports that 94.9 per cent of 1,385 samples of milk tested during the year were within the law which prohibits more than 100,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter.

Eighty-four complaints were filed against milkmen and convictions were obtained in all except seven cases. Fines paid amounted to $1,445 and suspended fines were $770.

During the year 2,832 cows were tested for tuberculosis, 170 being condemned for dairy purposes.

The budget for this department was: Salary, $1,920; maintenance and insurance of automobile, $230.

PROMINENT IMPLEMENT MAN PASSES AWAY.

T. G. NORTHWALL

T. G. Northwall, president of the T. G. Northwall company, died of pneumonia Saturday morning at his home, 3713 Lincoln boulevard. He was born in Illinois, February 23, 1863, and came to Omaha in 1885, when he started a small jobbing implement business, which has grown to the present big establishment.

Mr. Northwall was president of the Swedish relief tornado committee three years ago. He was always an active church member. He was trustee and treasurer of the Zion Lutheran church for the last six years. He is survived by a widow and three sons, Maurice, Virgil and Merrill.

Wild Horse Case Expensive Trial For U. S. to Pay

Justice came high in the celebrated Arizona "wild horse" case, which came to a close Thursday afternoon. It cost the government approximately $20,000 to prove that the nine defendants found guilty conspired to use the mails to defraud. This would make the expenditure of a little better than $2,000 for each of the defendants found guilty.

The greatest item of expense was the mileage paid to the many witnesses the government subpoenaed from all parts of the country. Uncle Sam allows each witness 10 cents per mile one way to the trial.

The $20,000 does not include the salaries of government attorneys or of the work of any of the government officials who figured in the affair.

Nebraska Lawyers Balk at Law to Stop Race for Business

Nebraska lawyers Friday refused to give their O. K. to a bill for a law that would put in force, with heavy penalties, the code of ethics of the American Bar association.

A committee on legislation, headed by T. W. Blackburn, reported such a bill, but without recommendation, and then the author, W. M. Cam of Fremont, brought it before the state association on his own motion.

The bill was drastic, providing with penalty of heavy fine and disbarment that it shall be "unlawful for any attorney to solicit business either directly or indirectly." It also provided a heavy jail sentence for employing or acting as "ambulance chaser" for a lawyer. A warm discussion followed, but only a third of the membership voted favorably.

A bill, introduced two years ago before the legislature, will be reintroduced, providing for the supreme court to appoint a commission of three members to investigate the conduct of practicing lawyers and providing that on their recommendation the attorney general must start disbarment proceedings.

The association favored a new constitution and asked the legislature to enable one to be submitted to the voters.

Price of Bottles for Milk Will Be Increased Soon

Milk dealers of the city have received quite a jolt in a notice that the price of milk bottles would be greatly increased after the first of the year and with no assurance of delivery. The dealers are somewhat alarmed over the announcement as the cost of bottles has a direct bearing on the price of milk. It will, for this reason, be to the interest of everyone to keep down the high cost of milk by co-operating with the dealers by returning all bottles as fast as they are emptied.

Soldier Stations Do Excellent Business Here

A big increase in enlistments in the United States army through the Omaha recruiting station is shown by the figures given out by Sergeant Hansen.

The increase is explained largely by which are tributary and come under the opening of thirteen new substations in Nebraska and eastern Iowa, the Omaha district. The Omaha district is in charge of Captain J. F. McKinley.

Enlistments in 1916 totalled 845, as against 577 in 1915. In 1916, 362 men enlisted from the Omaha station and 483 from the substations, while in 1915, 320 enlisted at the Omaha station and 257 from three substations then maintained.

Wertz, Who Escaped from Norfolk, is Caught in Omaha

William Wertz, who escaped from the state hospital at Norfolk and is said to have made the threat that he was "coming to Omaha to kill his wife," was captured Saturday morning as he was leaving a restaurant on upper Farnam street. Deputy Sheriff James Lindsay apprehended the escaped state hospital patient. Wertz was taken to the county jail, where he will be confined until he is taken back to Norfolk.

Greetings of the Season Bemis Omaha Bag Company Omaha, Nebraska man of the Alamito dairy states: "If we are to continue to sell milk at the present prices the loss of bottles must be stopped. The housewives can materially assist by stopping the use of milk bottles for glue, preserves, allowing the children to play with them and allowing them to accumulate around the house. Many people when they move leave scores of bottles in basements and other places so that hundreds of them find their way to ash pits and into the hands of peddlers.

"No matter where people get our bottles, whether from some other milk man or from their grocer, the bottles are always ours even if a deposit has been left with the grocer on them. State laws make it unlawful to buy or sell our branded bottles. Since the supply of chemicals for making bottles is almost exhausted and more cannot be obtained we certainly hope the public will help the dealers keep down the cost of milk by promptly returning the bottles."

Community Center Work in Schools is to Continue

City Commissioner Hummel was assured by members of the Board of Education, in session as committee of the whole, that the matter of abandoning the community centers in schools has not been suggested to the board. On the contrary the school directors are pleased with the work being done at these centers under the supervision of the Board of Public Recreation.

When making up the recreation budget for 1917 Mr. Hummel will include an amount to cover the expenses of the school centers.

Omaha Police Hunt Alleged Murderer and Clever Crook

Omaha police have been requested to assist in a nation-wide search for E. W. Blauett, believed to have murdered C. D. Armour of Sioux City, Ia., near Wagon Mound, N. M., while both were enroute to Fresno, Cal., in an automobile. Blauett also is believed to have taken Armour's name after the supposed murder, and by the use of it to have obtained large sums of money.

Armour accompanied by his mother and sister, started from Sioux City for Fresno September 19. At Clark's Neb., the sister was taken sick, so the mother and girl proceeded to the coast by rail. Armour went on alone and from Denver he wrote that he had been joined by an agreeable young fellow he had met at the Young Men's Christian association. Armour was last heard from at Santa Fe, N. M., although a man who answered Blauett's description disposed of an Oldsmobile car in Wagon Mound.

Spens Suggests Freight Embargo by Burlington

That the Burlington would not be making any mistake if it, too, should declare an embargo on competitive freight as the Union Pacific did the first of the week, is the opinion of Conrad E. Spens, assistant freight traffic manager of the Burlington in Chicago, who is in Omaha to spend New Year's.

"The Burlington is moving its freight," says Mr. Spens, "but the volume is so great and the car shortage so acute that it is indeed a difficult matter. An embargo probably would relieve the congestion and help a great deal."

FAIR LIST FAIR TREATMENT

GOODRICH PRICE ADJUSTMENT AUTOMOBILE TIRES

THE B. F. GOODRICH COMPANY announces that owing to the advanced cost of all materials entering into the construction of its tires, especially fabric, it has readjusted its prices both to the Consumer and the Trade as of January 1, 1917.

In making this price revision it has considered carefully the respective difference between its products having fabric construction and where it is absent. Instead of advancing BOTH cases and inner tubes, it has given the Consumer and the Trade the advantage wherever it existed, based on individual cost of each size, instead of a line advance irrespective of the factor of individual cost.

Statement of Nebraska Savings and Loan Association

At The Opening of Business, January 1, 1917:

Table with 2 columns: Resource and Amount. Includes Real Estate Loans, Loans on Association Stock, Municipal Bonds, etc.

COMPARATIVE GROWTH

Table with 4 columns: Date, Amount, Date, Amount. Shows growth from Jan. 1, 1906 to Jan. 1, 1917.

The foregoing comparative figures show satisfactory progress during the year 1916. For the past six months the Association's earnings have been ample for the regular dividend rate of 6 per cent per annum, which has been credited to the shareholders' accounts. Should like favorable conditions continue during 1917, the regular dividend rate will be maintained. There is a great abundance of money seeking safe investment and competition for good loans is becoming keener and tending toward lower rates of interest.

The Directors hope to keep the Association's money employed at the current rate, but should competitive conditions force a reduction of the interest rate to borrowing members a reduction in the dividend rate will become a future necessity.
