

HUNT LOCKS DOORS TO ARIZONA CAPITOL

Governor Campbell Inaugurated On State House Lawn Before an Expectant Crowd.

NO VIOLENCE IS NOTED

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 1.—Thomas E. Campbell, republican, was inaugurated governor of Arizona today. There were no inaugural ceremonies for Governor G. W. P. Hunt, incumbent, who claims the office, but when Governor Campbell went to the executive offices he found them locked. Governor Campbell delivered his inaugural address to a great crowd that filled the capitol grounds. There was no serious disturbance. Scores of armed deputies were scattered throughout the assemblage.

Deputy Guards Office.
Immediately after his address Governor Campbell proceeded to the executive offices. He found a deputy on guard there, who said because it was a legal holiday he was under instructions to admit no one. A formal demand for admittance was made and the governor withdrew.

Governor Hunt left the capitol shortly before Governor Campbell arrived, declaring he would be at his desk tomorrow. Governor Hunt announced he considered the oath of office he took Saturday before a notary public sufficient to entitle him to the governorship. Therefore he had not insisted on a formal ceremony at the capitol today.

Crowds Out Expect Clash.

Great crowds assembled in the capitol grounds early in preparation for a possible clash between the Hunt and Campbell adherents. Governor Campbell, accompanied by counsel and a group of friends, reached the state house about 10:30 o'clock. The main entrance was locked, but hammering on the doors by one of the governor's party brought a caretaker, who admitted the new executive.

In his address Governor Campbell was cheered when he said: "The man who has come to regard the ballot box as a juggler's hat has renounced his allegiance."

Mandamus proceedings already have commenced in the supreme court to compel Governor Hunt to relinquish the office of chief executive. Meantime Governor Campbell says: "My office is the saddle, I am the governor of Arizona. My desk will be at the capitol in the morning and I will be on the job."

Campbell Quits Crowd.

After Governor Campbell completed his address the crowd refused to leave. Someone shouted, "Let's put him in snycoway." There was an ominous stir and the police became more alert. Deputy Sheriff Barrett asked for a hearing and the crowd looked and feared. Governor Campbell asked the officer he heard Barrett explained that he was acting under orders from the sheriff, who told him to take instructions from Leroy Ladd, secretary to former Governor Hunt.

"We don't care about Ladd, we want Campbell," someone shouted. Governor Campbell again appeared and urged the crowd to restrain itself and leave the solution of the embroglio to the courts. Later he held an impromptu reception on the lawn in front of the capitol, the doors of which were kept locked. The crowd then dispersed quietly.

Certificate of Election.

Campbell managers declared Campbell, having been duly elected and being in receipt of a certificate to that effect, will take over the office or "know the reason why." Campbell has been officially declared elected by the state canvassing board, and given a plurality of thirty votes over Hunt. Certificate was issued December 21 by Secretary of State Osborn. Hunt is contesting the election on grounds of alleged fraudulent voting in several precincts. The courts are now engaged in inspecting the ballots as a preliminary to a formal contest. Hunt claims that the inspection so far bears out this contention although it is not a recount. On this basis he refuses to give up the office.

Gold Shipments to South America Soon to Start

New York, Jan. 1.—The steamship Saga, a new ship completed shortly before the war for the London-Gothenburg tourist service and now owned by the Commercial South American company, will carry a portion of the $25,000,000 in gold, due South American republics from American bankers. The Saga will leave here January 8 and will proceed with its cargo, said today by at least $3,000,000 to Rio Janeiro, arriving before February 15, the stipulated date of its delivery. This gold was originally to have been shipped on the Voltaire, of the Lamport and Holt Line, but owing to the non-arrival of that vessel, another ship had to be found by American bankers.

Girl Soldiers to Camp at Chevy Chase Again in April

Washington, a. n. 1.—The second annual encampment of the national service school, similar to that held here last summer, to give women military training, will open at Chevy Chase, a suburb, on April 16, and continue about six weeks, under the direction of the woman's section of the Navy league, it was announced today. Two courses of twenty days each, and possibly a third especially for school girls and deachers, will be arranged, with military drill, Red Cross, wireless and signal practice in each. Fifteen hundred applications for enrollment are said to have been received already.

Germans Challenge British Statement of Somme Losses

Berlin, Jan. 1.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—In a statement in reply to the recently published review of the battle of the Somme by Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, the Overseas News Agency asserts that the British commander's statement in regard to the relative losses of the British and Germans are disproved by the German and British casualty lists. It states the losses of the entente amount to 800,000.

PEACE MOVES TO REST WITH NOTE SENT BY WILSON

a more critical matter. The reply of the central powers was collective, but we see no reason why the reply of the allies should be. At least, we hope it will be drafted in this country and addressed as we alone know how to the mind and heart of the people of the United States. If it is to avail in enlightening American opinion and winning American sympathy it must be conceived in a different spirit and expressed in different terms than the document just made public. The drafting should be by Foreign Secretary Balfour. There is none better able than he to put forward our noble cause and purpose in worthy language.

Debate Not Ended.

The Westminster Gazette says: "The reply of the allies to the central powers by no means winds up this debate. We have now to reply to President Wilson's note and we hope we shall do so in the reasoned and courteous manner which is due a friendly neutral. In this we have not merely to inform President Wilson on questions in all probability he well understands, but to make our case clear to the American public, which is not and cannot be expected to be familiar with European politics unless it is so instructed. "There is nothing in history quite analogous to this exchange of manifestoes between belligerents while the armies are still at grips, but let us be sure it is going to play a highly important and possibly useful part in the last stage of this war."

What Bulgaria Wants.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Jan. 1.—(Via Amsterdam and London.)—Premier Radoslavoff, speaking in the Bulgarian Parliament, in reply to opposition speakers, who had criticized the government's conduct of the war, said: "I assure you the essential part of Bulgaria's task in the war is done. To those who are complaining that we are seeking too much, I reply that we are not fanatics, but that we know the aspirations of the Bulgarian people and from the royal manifesto on the occasion of the declaration of war you know what those aspirations are." Replying to speakers who had criticized the passage of the Danube river by Bulgarian troops, Premier Radoslavoff said the crossing was expressly ordered by the Bulgarian high command on the ground that the Roumanian army ought to be followed and annihilated by the Bulgarians. In reply to criticisms of the part the Germans and Austrians were playing in the Bulgarian army the prime minister said: "All German and Austrian officers in Bulgaria are subservient to the Bulgarian command. I make this declaration with the full authority of the government."

Respecting the peace offers of Bulgaria in conjunction with the proposals of the central powers, M. Radoslavoff said: "The offer is no sign of weakness. We are ready to conclude peace only because we wish to see the end of the war and are willing to make concessions in the name of humanity and for the safety of all nations."

M' HENRY RESIGNS

District Judge of Des Moines Out of Service After Fifteen Years.

FACTORY TO THE CAPITAL

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 1.—(Special.)—After fifteen years of service on the Polk county district court bench Judge W. H. McHenry retired Saturday. He will become counsel for the Des Moines City Railway company. He became judge on St. Patrick's day, March 17, 1902. At that time the court house was temporarily located on Third street, while the present structure at Fifth and Mulberry was being built. While on the criminal bench for a period of three years he sentenced almost 1,000 men to the penitentiary. He instituted a system of assigning and dividing up the work among the judges which has been the custom now for several years.

Vote Down Wage Increase.

At meetings of miners' local unions held in their home towns throughout the state Friday night, members of the various unions voted not to hold a conference in Des Moines for the discussion of a wage increase. The majority of the members took the position that the union agreed to a scale of wages determined at a meeting with the operators last April, which is binding for two years. If they should attempt to break this agreement, the leaders claimed, they would not be able to make a future satisfactory agreement with the owners and the public would not sustain them in a strike.

Gas Pipes Break.

Discovery of broken gas pipes in the nick of time prevented serious trouble in the Arlington apartments at Thirteenth and Locust streets, last night. The main pipes, suspended from the ceiling in the basement fall, of an employee of the Syry & Diller Electric company next door, and he rushed in and turned off the main supply of gas. Otherwise serious trouble would have resulted. The apartments are large and many families make their homes in them.

Another Costing Victim.

for a roundup as the result of the untiring efforts of Attorney General Cosson. Evidence has been secured by the state agents which will convict many bucket shop operators, the retiring attorney general says. Complaints that the shops were operating on a big scale were not received until a few days ago, so that the outgoing administration has not had much time to collect evidence and work up cases. The evidence will be turned over to the new attorney general.
