Future Market Declines and Cash Wheat Situation is Un'commonly Slow.

TRADERS HOLDING BACK

Omaha, January 5, 1917

Omaha, January 5, 1917

The cush wheat situation was rather slow today on account of the decline in the future market and only a few sales of this cereal were reported during the early trading hours.

There was very little disposition on the part of the sellers to let go, as the market was quoted from 1 to 3½c lower, and ment of the traders preferred to take their chances on tomorrows market.

The demand, however, would have easily taken care of the light receipts, and the few sales of No. 2 hard were made at 11 sT/s and 11 sT/s
