SHEEP KILL NEARLY READY

Secretary and Traffic Manager A F. Stryker of the Live Stock exchange was re-elected at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon. Gene Melady treasurer, was also re-elected. The meeting lasted the greater part of the afternoon and adjourned before all business was completed.

President Tagg of the Exchange an nounced that committees, intended to be appointed at the meeting, would not be made known until another meeting is held. The reading of reports by secretaries of various committees oc-cupied the greater part of the time.

The finest and perhaps the best equipped sheep killing floor in the entire country is receiving finishing touches at the Armour plant. The work on the new addition to the plant which has been under the course of construction for several months is now practically finished and the floor ready for use.

now practically finished and the floor ready for use.

The room is designed and equipped to eliminate congestion. It is is estimated that about 6,500 sheep can be handled in a day of ten hours. Such a capacity passes that of the sheep killing department at the big Armour plant in Chicago, which is considered the largest in the world. The local plant has been equipped with new steel and concrete hog and cattle killing floors, which cost in the neighborhood of $200,000.

The triple killing floors are now absolutely sanitary.

The sheep kill will be placed in operation very soon. There is no pressing need for abandonment of the old.

Detectives Allen and Zaloudek were responsible for the arrest of the girl, while, through a clever bit of strategy. Captain Briggs effected the detention of Miller when the latter attempted to hide from the police.

Sympathy is with the young woman and should her story prove true regarding Canadian laws in reference to marriage and divorce there is a possibility that United States authorities will allow them to be returned to Canada, where they may marry. The law will take its course as long as they are in this country, police assert.

Florentine Art Lecture Appeals To Omaha Women

That the feminist movement had its beginning in Florence at the time of Boccaecio was a point of interest to ardent followers of the "Cause." who listened raptly to Dr. Thomas Lindsey Blaney's lecture Friday aftermoon before the Fine Arts' Society at the Fonteselle.

Lindsey Blaney's lecture Friday afternoon before th Fine Arts' Society at the Fontenelle.

"Woman first took her place beside man in the social and political life of the western world at the time of Boccaccio. At the beginning of this emancipation, women occupied responsible chairs at the great University of Bologn and the enobling influence of women was felt everywhere," he said.

Whether the Omaha women are more interested in Florentine Art than that of Japanese, the subject of Thursday's lecture, or whether their marked attention to Dr. Blaney's remarks yesterday in contrast to his first lecture was brought about by a story Dr. Blaney told in preface to his lecture, could not be learned.

"The first time I ever gave a publie lecture, I was introduced by a man who said, 'Feller tizens, this young feller has come to talk to you and what he is going to say has cost some one a lot of money, so if them young fellers in the back seats don't stop sparkin' to their gals, I want them to git out now.' It was the most respectful au lience I ever had," said Dr.
Blaney.

London, Jan. 6.—Premier Lloyd George and Viscount Milner, a mem-ber of the British war council, with their official advisers, have arrived in Rome, says an official statement issued tonight, to participate with the French, Russian and Italian govern-

French, Russian and Italian governments in an exchange of views upon the general situation.

Berlin (By Wireless to Sayville), Jan. 5.—The Overseas News Agency says today with regard to the visit of Premier Lloyd George and Viscount Milner to Rome:

"The Berliner Tageblatt points out that a great war council has been assembled in Rome, probably in order to obtain the secessary Italian cooperation in the Balkains, as otherwise the French General Sarrail's army would be irretrievably lost. This council, the newspaper adds, at least clearly demonstrates the critical situation of the entente powers in the Balkains."

Omaha Lodgeman and Undertaker Found Dead with Revolver Lying at His Feet.

BODY FOUND BY A FARMER

Edward L. Dodder, 2218 Burt treet, Omaha lodgeman and undertaker, was found dead at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon seated at the wheel of his automobile which stood to one side of the Calhoun road, seven miles west of Florence.

His brain, from temple to temple, had been penetrated by a bullet from his- own gun-a thirty-two calibre his- own gun—a thirty-two calibre revolver—which lay at his feet. Powder burns about his right temple indicated that the revolver, when discharged, was held close to his head. These bits of mute evidence have convinced those who have investigated the case that Mr. Dodder had taken his own life, although his intimate friends and business associates declare they can think of no reason why he should have done so.

Parmer Pinds Body. Mr. Dodder, according to Fred E. Fero, the manager of his business, left home Thursday night at 7 o'clock and it is believed he went straight to his garage, took out his coupe and drove to the spot where he ended his life.

Farmer Finds Body.

Hans Kruse, a farmer, on his way to Florence, found Dodder's body after it had been passed a dozen times by automobiles and other vehicles, despite the fact that it was but a few leet from the road. Wheel tracks in the snow around the car indicated this.

Kruse did not recognize, the body as that of Mr. Dodder, but notified. County Attorney George A. Magney of his discovery. Edward Bolton of Hoffman Funeral home was sent to the scene of the tragedy and when he switched on the lights in the interior of the coupe he saw the body was that although for a time it was a question whether the flames would be checked, as the only water supply was from a big well in the prison yard.

The prison is outside the city limits and the prison fire company of seventy of the other convicts until the arrival of firemen from the city. The shops were of flimsy wooden construction and efforts of the firemen were confined to prevent spread of the flames. The principal loss was about $50,000 in machiner; The greatest danger lay in fear that the supply of water in the well would become exhausted. The supply held out, however, and ultimately augmented by a long connection made with a city water main.
