Eyler Back at His Desk—John Eyerler, live stock agent for the Burlington, who has been ill for a number of weeks, has recovered to the extent that he is again able to be at headquarters, directing the work of his department. To Build New Cars—The Omaha street railway company, at the local shops, has started work on the construction of twenty-five coaches, similar to the new ones in operation on the Farnam and North Twenty-fourth street lines. The new coaches will be ready for service in time to handle the Ak-Sar-Ben festival traffic next fall.

Janitor Burned—Paul Rodgers, janitor at the Workman's hotel, Thirtieth and Capitol avenue, was badly burned about the hands Wednesday afternoon when he opened a can of benzine too close to a gas jet. The benzine flared up and Rodgers' sleeves were set on fire. He beat out the flames before they spread to the rest of his clothing.

Five Fireplace Goods—Sunderland, Dunksards Go West—A party of eighteen Dunksards from central Illinois went west this morning, going to eastern California, where nearly all of them bought land last fall. They are all farmers and are located in the Dunksard colony in the vicinity of Julesburg. Between trains during their stop in Omaha they attracted considerable attention at the Union station on account of their long beards and clerical garb.

Many Court House Denizens Now Fear They'll Lose Jobs

About thirty employes in the Douglas county court house holding minor jobs were yesterday in the same frame mind as were the participants in the French revolution on the eve of some out-of-the-ordinary gullotine spree of the authorities. Not that any of them have done anything wrong, but because their friends—the ones who got them their jobs—do not have the same political party affiliations as the present majority of the county commissioners.

These thirty some employes, the bulk of them janitors and scrubwomen, are scheduled to have their official heads removed today when the democrats start to wield the axe. Gossip says that not a head will be spared. The wise ones aver that if any are spared it will not be more than one or two.

There are seven janitors, fourteen scrubwomen, three elevator men, two telephone girls, three firemen and two engineers whose jobs are in jeopardy. The scrubwomen—one of them has a wooden leg and several children and most all have families to support—admit they don't know much about politics. "But," quoth one, "I ain't done nothin' to get fired for and I always work just as hard in scrubbing out democrats' offices as republicans."

One of the janitors, hearing the rumor that the board was contemplating leading the minor employes to the beheading chamber, mingled a little philosophy with his hard-luck wail. "If they call these kind of jobs political pie, then I should think people would demand a change in pastry diet."

Association Players Will Not Strike, Says Hickey

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 25.—American association base ball clubs will be fully manned at the opening date, according to President Thomas F. Hickey. Mr. Hickey was inclined to make light of recent assertions of David L. Fultz, president of the Ball Players' fraternity, that eight five out of the 125 players who finished last season with the associate have guaranteed their allegiance to the strike edict and would not sign contracts until authorized to do so by the fraternity. George Tebeau, owner of the Kansas City association franchise, also scoffed at the possibility of a players' strike.

Stomach Trouble and Constipation. Those who are afflicted with stomach trouble and constipation should read the following: "I have never found anything so good for stomach trouble and constipation as Chamberlain's Tablets. I have used them off and on now for the past two years. They not only regulate the action of the bowels, but stimulate the liver and keep one's body in a healthy condition," writes Mrs. Benjamin Hooper, Auburn, N. Y.—Advertisement.

Sciatica's Piercing Pain. You can depend upon Sloan's Liniment to kill the nerve pain of sciatica; it penetrates without rubbing. Only 25c. All drug-gists.—Advertisement.

BELIEVES HE GETS THINGS BY PRAYER

Rev. C. W. Savidge Uses It to Secure Some of the Ordinary Things of Life.

CITES SEVERAL EXAMPLES

By A. R. GROH. Prayer, to many people, is a sort of formality. Many others use it only to plead for the other or more aesthetic things of life.

Rev. Charles W. Savidge prays for the every-day things of life. By prayer he found a cow of his which had strayed away. By prayer he secured a buggy that he needed in his work. By prayer he received tens of thousands of dollars for his House of Hope.

His prayers have had astonishing results. "Have Faith in God" is his motto. He has blazoned in a big sign on his residence.

"Once I needed a buggy," said Mr. Savidge. "I had the horse and harness, but a buggy was absolutely necessary for my work. I resolved to pray for it. I opened my Bible. Mark xi:24 was in front of me. 'What things soever ye desire when ye shall believe ye receive them and ye shall have them.' I prayed till noon. Then from 11 to 1 o'clock. Sometimes I would rise and go to the window to see if my buggy was coming.

Gets His Buggy. "At 3 o'clock a young fellow called and made an engagement for me to marry him at 8 o'clock. I continued to pray until almost that time. At the close of the ceremony he handed me an envelope containing $50, the largest marriage fee I ever received. There was my buggy."

Another time Mr. Savidge was in dire need of $10 to pay the ground rent where the church stands. He prayed all day. Early in the evening a woman dressed in brown called at his house. "I have never seen you before, but I am impelled by some feeling that I can't explain to bring you some money for your work," she said. She handed him three $5 bills. She was going away when she opened her purse and drew out a silver dollar. She turned this over once or twice and then put it back in her purse.

"I couldn't understand why she had gone away with my silver dollar," said Mr. Savidge. "I went out in the kitchen and asked my wife whether any money had come in. She told me she had just sold a dollar's worth of milk tickets. There was my $10!"

Another time a valuable cow of Mr. Savidge's strayed away. The family depended largely on her milk for a living. For ten days and nights a fruitless search was prosecuted. Then Mr. Savidge began to pray. He prayed all day.

"Suddenly I knew that I had her," he said. "I put on my overshoes and overcoat and started on a bee line toward the northwest. When I had run a mile I saw very clearly that I was in God's hands. I stopped, raised my hands to heaven and praised God from my heart that I had come into such intimate touch with Him. After running another mile I stopped at a whitewashed cottage. A woman came to the door. She said she had not seen a stray cow. I said, 'Madam, why do you speak to me so? You know you did.' She said, 'Was she a white and brown Jersey?' I said, 'Yes.' 'The cow was in the barn and I led her home.

"I believe God gave me that answer, knowing I needed to understand that He would reach out His hand in supernatural work the same as when Jesus was here. When He sees fit He can transform us into a spiritual state and we can see and hear things such as Paul did."

Mr. Savidge tells with enthusiasm of the life of George Muller of Bristol, England, who received and spent $7,500,000 in charitable works and never asked any man for a penny.

Dispute Over Street Car Transfer Leads to Suit

A dispute between a passenger on a street car and a conductor as to whether a certain transfer was purchased at 7 o'clock in the morning or at 6 o'clock in the evening, was the cause of a $2,500 damage suit which has just been filed in district court.

Oscar F. Linder, a painter, says that he boarded a Cumming street car on the morning of November 9, 1916. He alleges that the conductor refused a transfer tendered by him and finally, after words were exchanged, assaulted him. Linder wants the court to award him damages from the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company.

"Kie-Yie-Yie! Get Me 'Gets-It' Quick"

2 Drops Make Corn "Fall" Off!

"I've joined the Never-Again Club. Never again will I use anything for corns but 'Gets-It.' Put 2 drops of 'gets-It' on, and from that second the corn begins to shrivel.

Instead of swelling up like a little white sponge. Then it loosens from your toe—and, glory hallelujah! the corn comes off as though you'd take a glove off your hand!"

Yes, "Gets-It" is the corn destroyer of the age. More "Gets-It" is sold by many times than any other corn remedy in existence. Try it and you'll know the reason why. It takes two seconds to apply it, and it dries at once. That's all. Don't experiment—follow the experience of millions and use "Gets-It."

"Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Omaha and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co. Stores.

ENDS CATARRH, ASTHMA, Bronchitis, Croup, Coughs and Cold, or money back. Sold and guaranteed by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

J. J. Neal Says Wife Hit Him With Fist Broom and Dishes

Life in the first-line trenches at Verdun was mild compared to his forty-three years of married life, according to John J. Neal, who is suing his wife, Mrs. Charlotte A. Neal, for divorce in district court.

Married at Lyons, N. Y., in 1874, the freedom-yearning husband alleges that the big row started shortly afterwards. Mrs. Neal is no mean exponent of what is known as the manly art, the husband complains, averring that she has repeatedly struck him with her fists during their married life.

Applying the broom to him, using him as a target for china dishes hurled in a far from playful spirit and making unexpected attacks with a dish cloth while he was reclining on a couch were favorite diversions of his mate, Neal asserts in his petition.

While his wife did not attack him with chairs and legs wrenched from the piano, Neal does allege that she threatened to throw the furniture at him. Threats to kill him, refusal to cook his meals and harsh words applied to him are other allegations.

Neal asserts that the climax was reached when, he alleges, she drove him from the house on September 28, 1911.

Banker Says Woman Had No Money in the "Dutch Mill" Alleging a "conspiracy" to get possession of the Dutch Mill cafe, 1618 Harney street, while she was ill, Edna Barnhill is suing Ralph M. Waddell and Lee M. Swindler, cashier of the American State bank, for $5,000 damages.

According to Miss Barnhill, she bought the restaurant from L. Z. Phillips last October. She alleges that she was taken ill on December 1, 1916, and while she was confined at her home Waddell "conspired" with the banker and took possession of the property.

She further asserts that when she recovered on December 12, Waddell forcibly ejected her from the restaurant and continued to hold possession until January 15 of this year, when, she alleges, Waddell and Swindler converted the business to their own use.

Mr. Swindler declares that Miss Barnhill never had a dollar invested in the business and that Waddell is the owner of the business, which he purchased, according to the banker, with money loaned by him.

Ak-Sar-Ben's Minions Will Wear Knightly Insignia The Ak-Sar-Ben button for 1917 has been chosen. The contract for furnishing the buttons has been awarded to T. L. Combs of Omaha. The design is the head of an armored knight, with the visor the most conspicuous feature. It is gold plated and will carry the Ak-Sar-Ben colors. Frank W. Judson was chairman of the button committee which awarded the contract.

HOW I KILLED MY SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

Hindoo Secret Banished It so it Never Returned After Electricity and Many Depilatories Had Failed. LET ME HELP YOU ABSOLUTELY FREE.

Till nearly middle age I was tormented by hideous superfluous hair. My face was a sight with a heavy moustache on my lip and a long beard on my chin. My arms were completely covered. I tried one thing after another without success. The electric needle only made the growth worse. Finally my husband, an officer in the British Army, secured from a Native Hindoo soldier (whose life he saved) the Hindoo secret for the removal of the superfluous hair. He used it and it did the work. Today not a hair of it can be found.

I will send FREE and without obligation to anyone full information and complete instructions so that you can follow my example and completely get rid of your superfluous hair. Write to Mrs. Hudson, 611 E. 11th St., Omaha, Neb., for full particulars.

MRS. HUDSON, that you send me a 25c. money order for the Hindoo secret. My husband's name is now a Hindoo name. Mrs. Hudson, 611 E. 11th St., Omaha, Neb. Secret. Street, Astoria, Ore.
