Folwell as head coach of the football team, has been issued by a committee of students. Folwell was indignant when he learned of the faculty committee's attitude.

MAYOR DAHLMAN IS ENJOINED FOREVER

City's Czar May Cavort in the Munny Car Only On Strictly Official Business.

JUDGE LESLIE SO ORDERS

The Dahlman automobile case is new history. If he ever lolls back upon the cushions of a city-owned car again it will be the performance of what the district court defines as "strictly official business." For Judge Leslie has issued a permanent injunction restraining Mayor Jim from using cars owned by the city for anything save this same "strictly official business," as previously decreed in the temporary order. The Dahlman suit harks back to the time last fall when James D. Murphy, a South Side boiler-maker, brought suit in district court against Mayor Dahlman, the city commissioners and the city comptroller, asking that Omaha's chief executive be enjoined from using the car purchased for him by the municipality for alleged joy rides.

HOME RULE CHARTER MOVE NOW STARTED

Commissioner Jardine Introduces Ordinance for Calling of an Election.

MAY WAIT TILL NEXT FALL

Commissioner Jardine has started the ball rolling for another home rule charter convention. He introduced at the city council meeting an ordinance which, if finally passed, would provide the legal authority for the commissioners to call an election. Under the law providing for a home charter commission it would be necessary to have a primary election and an election proper, to be chosen to serve on the commission. Mr. Jardine explained he offered his ordinance by request and intimated that a group of prominent citizens will push the proposition when the time shall come. Improvement club will discuss the matter considerably during the next few months. Present Charter as a Basis. The plan is to submit the present city charter, or the charter as amended by the present legislature, and make it the basis for a home rule charter. The chief purpose of those who are behind the movement, it is stated, is to secure the adoption of the existing charter, rather than have a commission to tinker for several months or a new charter and then run the risk of defeat in the end, as was the case on the occasion of the last charter convention.

Twelve Quarts of Beer Allowed Each Month

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, Jan. 30.—Special Telegram.—Twelve quarts of beer or one quart of whisky, or its equivalent in wine or something like it, will be allowed each person in Nebraska each month, according to the new bill, which is being prepared by the legislative special prohibition joint committee, so it is understood. The committee expects to have the bill ready for introduction some time tomorrow and then if the members do not amend it the state may be counted upon to be not bone dry. There is a provision in the bill which requires every man wanting the stuff to do some last hustling to find out where he can get it, for no advertising of liquors can be made in the state, nor can any drug store handle it.

Drugless Healers Want Their Interests Protected

Leaders in the drugless healing professions in Omaha have asked the Nebraska legislature to create a new standing committee. They want their interests to receive consideration by members who are laymen and not medical doctors. A communication to this effect has been addressed to the legislature, declaring, among other things: "The physicians of the so-called regular school should be relieved from the odium of passing by committee vote upon measures in which they are presumed to have a selfish interest. "The rank and file of the common people are in favor of medical freedom, and while they have no desire to overturn existing conditions by drastic legislation, they do desire that no further encroachments be made upon the liberty of the citizen to select the healing method of his choice. "While the subjects as they arise, that should be referred to this committee may be diverse, it will be found that they have a common interest in that a designed phraseology to the individuals composing the schools favored or discriminated against, but what is of vastly more importance, the citizen will find it impossible to enjoy the benefits of the law without sacrificing his cherished beliefs."

Reagan is Friend To City; He Admits It, Then Collects

After listening to an impassioned address by former State Senator Reagan, the city council allowed Harold Overbeck $35 with which to buy a new overcoat to replace a garment damaged when an automobile in which he was riding struck a heap of city material. Assistant City Attorney TePoel advised the council that the damage to the overcoat was only a few grease spots and he recommended rejection of the claim, but when the former state senator told the commissioners that he was so friendly to them that he persuaded Mr. Overbeck to file claim for only $35 for the overcoat instead of a damage suit for $35,000 for personal injuries, the claim was allowed.

Iowa Man Picked Up On the Streets Dies Later at City Jail

A middle-aged man, obviously under the influence of liquor, sprawled heavily to the pavement at Fifteenth and Douglas streets Monday night. He went to sleep there. A policeman came by, tried to rouse him and then sent him to the city jail. He was booked there "to sober up." Searchers at headquarters found $48.25 in his clothes. Tuesday morning when officers made the round of the cells to release the "sober ups," they tried vainly to rouse him. Thinking that perhaps he was in a drunken stupor, they shook him. It was then they found out that he was dead. Heart disease was the cause of death. Letters in the man's pocket were addressed to A. J. Jacobs, 211 Maple street, Atlantic, Ia. The county attorney was notified and ordered the body removed to the A. J. Jackson funeral parlors. The dead man was apparently a laborer. Although police physicians pronounced Jacobs' death due to heart trouble, County Attorney Magney ordered that an autopsy be held.

About Constipation.

Certain articles of diet tend to check movements of the bowels. The most common of these are cheese, tea and boiled milk. On the other hand new fruits, especially apples and bananas, also promote a movement of the bowels. When the bowels are badly constipated, however, the sure way is to take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.—Advertisement.

She alleges that in performing the operation an incision of ten inches was made, whereas, she adds, a three-inch cut would have been sufficient.
