Beaton-Lair Company Has

New Drapery Department

One of the most extensively furnished drapery departments in the middle west has been installed by the Beaton & Lair Co.

This new department occupies the entire north side of the main floor of the store and practically every known article of drapery, both staple and novelty, is included in the stock.

The department is neatly decorated in French gray and mahogany. The show cases are carefully arranged, so that a complete inspection of the stock may be made without difficulty and in a short time.

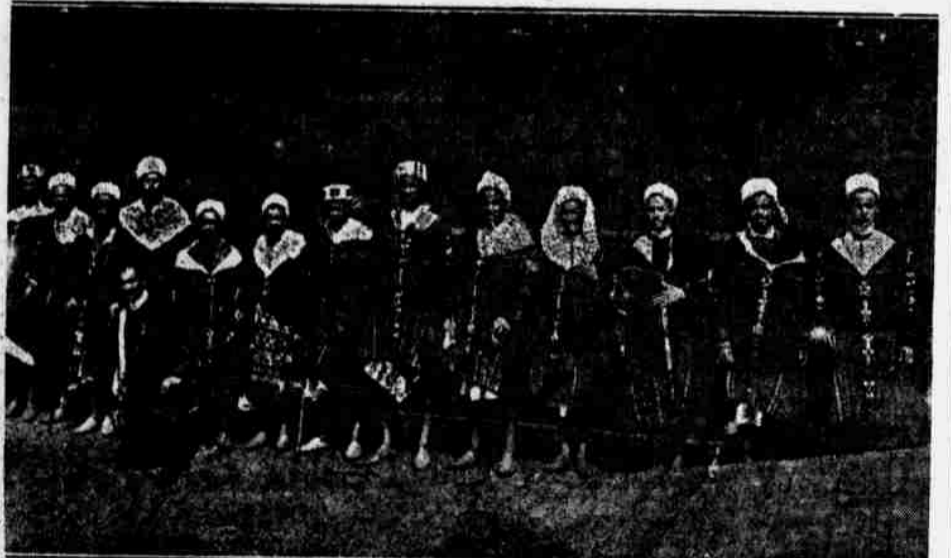

H. A. De Bough, who has had many years of experience in both Europe and the United States, is manager of this new department. For five years he was associated with William Baumgarten of New York City, one of the largest and best-known drapery experts in the country.

The workshop, a very important essential in the drapery business, is in charge of Jack Astertag, for many years with Marshall Field of Chicago.

"We invite everybody in Omaha to inspect our new department," said Mr. De Bough. "It is one of the best equipped and most completely furnished in the middle west. We are in a position to supply any demands that may be made upon us and our service is strictly superior in every way."

Visitors may chat with them (through interpreters) and not only get an idea of their own land, but of how our own country looks to them. Be sure to come between 2:30 and 4:30 Monday, February 5th.

Of interest to lovers of Oriental Rugs

Our Oriental Rug stock consists of many rugs it would be impossible to secure on the market now, due to European nations at war. The large rugs which we have were purchased and imported prior to the present conditions in the Orient.

We offer some very choice Kirmanshah, Khiva, Mosul, Kozaks and other well known Oriental rugs, in many different colors and designs.

Lovers of good rugs should see this collection. The values cannot be duplicated in many instances for 1/4 or 1/2 more than these are now marked.
