

Council Bluffs
Social Notes

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. B. B. King entertained a number of friends at dinner at their home on Harrison street. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. King and daughter, Darline, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. King and Mrs. Irvin G. Brown.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. George F. Spooner entertained the members of the Glen Avenue Card club at dinner. The evening was spent in playing "500," the prizes for high scores being won by Mrs. F. P. Everett and Mr. George F. Camp. The consolation prize was awarded to Mrs. W. S. Rigdon.

The Federated Mothers' club held a very interesting meeting at the public library on Monday evening. The boys and girls who won the trip to Ames as a prize were all present and gave some very delightful accounts of their visit. The club decided to add the principals of the schools and the presidents of the fourteen Mothers' clubs to the garden committee for this year. Plans are already made for a very interesting season's work, with Mrs. E. P. Schoentgen again acting as chairman.

On Monday Mrs. W. L. Walker entertained at a luncheon at the Blackstone in honor of Mrs. Vera Prophet of New York, who is visiting friends here and in Omaha.

The art department of the Council Bluffs Woman's club met at the library on Monday. A review of the general movement in English art was given by Mrs. A. B. Sipherd. Mrs. Kate Cook discussed the life of Sir David Wilkie, noting especially his connection with the royal academy, his travels in foreign lands, his death and his burial at sea. The four general types of paintings by Wilkie were described by Mrs. Dollie Burgess. The perfection of detail was noted as characteristic of these. The life and works of William Mulready were described by Mrs. C. A. Hardell. On February 19 Mrs. J. J. Sullivan will act as leader.

On Tuesday afternoon the Atlas club held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. F. W. Houghton. Mrs. Wood Allen led the discussion of current events, but the rest of the program was omitted. The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially and refreshments were served. The club will hold a social meeting at the Blackstone next week.

Tuesday evening eighteen of the Oriole girls of the Zenith circle met at the home of Miss Eunice Palmer to take their first lesson in domestic science. The instructor, Miss Nellie Hansen, gave the girls a talk on making biscuit and showed them several ways of making them. Later peach sherbet was served. The rest of the evening was spent in discussing matters of business.

Miss Minnie Harrington entertained on Sunday at a luncheon. Covers were laid for Miss Artie Harman, Mr. Will Harrington and Fred and Minnie Harrington.

Mrs. George Damon entertained the members of the Ideal club at a social meeting. Miss Edith Hess gave a very delightful reading. Mrs. W. A. Southard, Mrs. C. E. Swanson, Mrs. J. M. Oursler, Mrs. Fred Johnson and Mrs. George Williamson assisted the hostess.

The Booklovers held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. A. P. Hanchett on Wednesday afternoon and took up the study of George Meredith, the novelist. The selected topic had been assigned to Mrs. Squire and she read an article published in the Review of Reviews which discussed the Grant Memorial that is being erected in Washington. Mrs. Lefferts gave a very entertaining paper on Meredith, mentioning especially his style and his satire. The study will be continued next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. H. Nichols.

Members of the local Women's Christian Temperance union spent Wednesday afternoon discussing matters of legislation which are under consideration at Des Moines. The bill for the resubmission of the women's suffrage amendment to the constitution and telegrams have been sent to the Pottawattamie county representatives asking them to use their influence. The secretary was instructed to send letters to the representatives requesting them to take definite action in regard to the anti-gambling bill. On Frances Willard Memorial day a special program will be given, but the place has not yet been announced.

On Wednesday the J. K. club met at the home of Mrs. J. B. McMahon. "500." The first prize was won by Mrs. Hayes, the "cut-for-all" by Mrs. Follette and the consolation by Mrs. Anders. Mrs. Paul Anderson, Mrs. Ira Hayes, Mrs. Paul Jamieson and Mrs. G. Peterson were club guests. In three weeks the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Arlington Wright.

News has been received here of the marriage at Rochester, Minn., last Monday evening of Mr. Stanley Smith Fryer, a former resident here, and Miss Clara Maybelle Alexander, a sister of Mrs. W. N. Alexander of this city. Mr. Fryer is connected with the Woolworth store in Rochester and the young couple will make their home there.

On Thursday afternoon the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met at the home of Mrs. Drayton W. Bushnell. Mrs. W. A. Mauer, Mrs. R. C. Francis, Mrs. Lettie Montgomery, Mrs. Donald Macrae, Mrs. Vesta Prophet and Mrs. Bushnell were chosen as delegates to the Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Washington. Mrs. H. R. Howell of Des Moines had expected to be present, but was unable to do so and Mrs. Gault of Omaha, former vice president general for Nebraska, gave an address on the National "Daughters of the American Revolution." Mrs. Dixie Gebhardt of Knoxville, state regent of Iowa, reviewed the history of the organization in Iowa and offered some excellent suggestions for work in Iowa. Mrs. Mann of Onawa, the state treasurer, spoke briefly on the work of her department. An informal reception followed the program. In the receiving line were Mrs. Bushnell, Mrs. Gebhardt, Mrs. Charles Ault, the state regent of Nebraska, Mrs. Mann, Mrs. Gault and Mrs. Edward P. Schoentgen, the regent of the local chapter. Mrs. W. A. Mauer and Mrs. Wilson Squire served tea from 4 to 6 o'clock. They were assisted by Miss Keeline, Miss Adele Keeline, Miss Tiney, Miss Saunders, Miss Wheeler, Miss Shirley Harrison, Miss Lemen and Miss Stillman. The dining room was decorated with Daughters of the American Revolution ribbons of blue and white. Ropes of smilax were draped from the chandelier to the corners of the table and twined about the cut glass candlesticks. Blue and white flowers made a beautiful centerpiece and the rooms were decorated with quantities of the flowers. The hostesses were Mrs. Bushnell, Mrs. Francis, Mrs. Squire, Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Schoentgen, Mrs. Stillman, Mrs. Frank Pinney, Mrs. Brinsmaid and Mrs. Mel-hop.

Florence

This Woman Did Not Seem To Appreciate Cop's Work

Officer O. V. Thestrup, special traffic cop at Sixteenth and Farnam streets, saw a woman drop her purse near his beat. "Here's where I make a hit," the blue-coated copper mused. "Lad," he said, almost out of breath from running half a block up Sixteenth street, "lad, haven't you dropped your pocketbook?" "Mind your own business," was the lady's retort. "No, I haven't, and anyway, what business is it of yours?"

Crestfallen, the copper returned to his post, but he did not long to wait before the lady rushed up to him. "Yes, it's mine. I lost it. Here give it back."

Grabbing the purse, the lady walked away without even saying thanks. "Ain't that just like a woman, though," the officer gasped after he had time to collect his wits. "She might have said 'much obliged,' or something."

There was $57 in the purse.

Gangstads Will Try to Patch Up Differences

The Gangstads are going to deal themselves new hands in the matrimonial game.

Mrs. Nina Mae Gangstad has dismissed her divorce suit in district court against Edward G. Gangstad, a well-to-do real estate man.

The Gangstads figured in a sensational police court case a couple of weeks ago in which their troubles were publicly aired. The wife started divorce action on the same day. A reconciliation was effected later.

The couple remarried after having been previously divorced.

Both of These Wives
Are Alleging Nonsupport

Non-support is alleged by two wives who have filed divorce suits in district court.

Lillie Jackson would be freed from Albert Jackson, and Josephine Bertoni wants legal separation from Giovanni Bertoni.
