Every indication is that the meeting of credit men from Omaha and other parts of the state the evening of February 16 at the Hotel Fontenelle to hear H. Victor Wright of Los Angeles will be a large one and that the capacity of the room engaged will be filled. The room has a capacity for about 125 men at the table, and Secretary Metcalfe of the Associated Retailers says at the present rate it looks as though these places would be all taken before that date. Reservations are coming in all the time from out in the state. Something over fifty credit men from town out in the state have already indicated their desire to attend.

Freight Blockade in Wyoming Has Been Raised

The Union Pacific has raised the Wyoming blockade, so far as it applied to freight service. Passenger trains went back on schedule last week, but not until now have the freight trains been running on time. During the eight days that the Union Pacific was tied up by the Wyoming strike more than 1,000 cars of through freight accumulated. The cars carrying the shipments were stored in the yards out from either end of the blockade. Now they have been moved out and it is asserted that all trains are just about on time.
