REAL ESTATE

A most attractive home—built to live in,
not to rent;
built to last a lifetime;
beautifully finished and decorated;
in the very best residence district.

This is one of the best built homes in Omaha. Stone foundation and basement under the whole house, and solid brick above; full brick cross wall. No veneer. The porch steps, front, back and to the sun parlor, are all stone. The roof is slate. The coal bins and fruit cellar of tile. There is practically no cost for painting or repairs.

The library with built-in book cases is solid cherry; the halls and stair case of oak. The dining room is paneled in Venitian oak. All floors upstairs as well as down are hardwood, quarter-sawed beach, except the kitchen, which is maple, and tile under the stove. A large double storm windowed and screened sun porch is connected with both the library and dining room by French doors. The walls of the first floor and upper hall are covered with hand decorated burlap, except the music room. There are three bath rooms. The ample closets all have outside windows and wardrobes and chest of drawers, which will delight any woman. There is a laundry, fruit cellar, furnace room and space which can be finished for a billiard room in the basement, which is cemented throughout. Soft water is furnished from a large cistern. The house has a gas hot-water heater for summer use, thermostat, electric outlets, etc.

It is so well built that 15 tons of coal will heat it throughout, and with solid brick walls it is wonderfully cool in summer.

As it is at the very crest of the hill in the summer there is always a breeze there if anywhere. It is convenient to the car line and in the choicest residence section of Omaha. The price is very reasonable, and terms will be made to suit the buyer's convenience.

Kitchen in Jail Disgusts Men of The Grand Jury

Following its inspection of the city jail, it is felt certain that the grand jury will recommend that a new jail be built. The jurors were shown over the structure from top to bottom, and many of them expressed surprise at the unsanitary and dilapitated condition of the building. What particularly attracted the attention of the jurors was the kitchen in the cellar that had to be reached by a subterranean passage, the floor and passage of which was dirt-lined. After viewing the kitchen one of the grand jury members said: "I never could eat anything after going down there."

Comments from other members were along the same order. The cells in which the prisoners are kept also came in for its share of unfavorable comment.

The grand jury spent the greater part of the morning in listening to cases being tried by Police Judge Fitzgerald.

To Plant Trees to Keep Snow from Railroad Tracks

Union Pacific officials are figuring on evolving a plan by which, if it is adopted, in the future they hope to eliminate snow blockades along that portion of the line through western Nebraska, Wyoming and other prairie districts. The plan is to plant trees.

Estimates are being obtained on the comparative growth of the trees best adapted to the altitude at different points along the line of road and their ability to withstand dry weather. In the event the information justifies making the experiment, it is probable that rows of trees will be planted along the right-of-way, on the north side of the tracks. The idea of the officials is that if trees that will adapt themselves to climatic conditions can be secured, wind breaks may be grown up. And it is argued that in a few years these trees will have reached a growth sufficient to hold the snow back from off the tracks, even during the most severe storms.

ROBIN RED BREAST SPRING HARBINGER

Groh Interviews the Cheerful Fellow, Who is Perched in a Cherry Tree.

WIFE TO COME BACK LATER

By A. R. GROH.

Whom do you think I saw yesterday?

Robin Red Breast, harbinger of spring. Yes, sir.

He was busy, harbingering spring with all his might in our back yard. He was in a cherry tree. I walked slowly in his direction. He cocked a curious eye at me.

"Welcome home, dear Red Breast," I said.

"Thank you kindly, sir," he replied, "but I fear I came a little early. That warm day or two fooled me."

"You can't come too early to suit us," I said.

"Thank you,' he said, 'but you must remember that our nests aren't steam heated and the frozen ground makes our feet numb. That's why I'm sitting in this tree.

Gathers Up Crumbs.

"What in the world do you live on at this time of year?" I asked.

"Well," said Robin, "we would be in a tight place if it weren't for the Audubon society people and other friends, who throw crumbs out for us. For myself, I'd rather have a nice fat angle worm any day than the best bread on earth. But I'll manage to get along on this till the worms begin to appear.

"I was looking over the old nest and I'm afraid wife and I will have to build a new one. Wind and rain and snow have about done for the old one."

He looked up in a maple tree at the fluttering remnants of last year's nest.

"Do you mean to tell me you find your way back to the very same nest every year?" I cried in astonishment.

Robin smiled.

Finds Old Nest.

"Why, certainly," he said.

"But how can you?" I said. "Even a person couldn't do that?"

"Ah, we can do many things that persons can't do," he said. "My winter home is in a larch tree in the yard of a home near Birmingham, Ala. Wife is still down there. She'll be up in a few days. Her health isn't any too good. I just came ahead to have a look at the nest and get things ready."

"Just a minute and I'll get you some crumbs," I said.

Prefers Bugs.

"These crumbs are very good," said Robin. "Still, as I remarked before, I look forward to the good old worms and bugs."

"Well, just so you let our cherries alone, you can have all the worms and bugs you want," I declared.

Robin looked hurt.

"I didn't think that of you, sir," he said. "I took a few last year, just a very few. But after I had eaten about a thousand bugs and worms I felt you wouldn't mind if I took a cherry or two just as a sort of dessert. However, if you—"

"Dear Robin," I cried, "you just take all the cherries you want and welcome. Having your cheerful presence here is worth all the cherries on the tree."

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
