Salazar Makes Threat to Kill All Gringos in Juarez

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 17.—While at Sabinal, ninety-eight miles south of Juarez, on the Mexico Northwestern railroad, February 8, Jose Ynez Salazar made a threat to attack Juarez and kill all of the Americans attending the Juarez races, according to a Mexican who escaped from Salazar's command at Sabinal and walked to the border, arriving here last night.

The Mexican said he had been taken prisoner by Salazar's command the day preceding the attack on the Guzman garrison and escaped when Salazar started west toward Palomas and Ojitos. He said he overheard Salazar and his minor chiefs talking about the plans for the Villa campaign in the north and said Salazar declared he would attack and take Juarez some Sunday soon and "kill all the gringos at the race track."
