What They Find.

From these Americans, some of whom have had exceptional opportunities to study internal conditions in Germany, the following information regarding their expressed views has been obtained:

"The attitude of the German people became more of a problem when the least with American occurred nor here."

has been obtained:

"The attitude of the German people became more of a problem when the break with America occurred, not because of any overwhelming majority opposed to the break, but because it followed so closely on the heels of the widespread peace talk, coming at a time when the yearning for cessation of hostilities had lately received such enormous impetus.

The German Pacifists.

"There exists in Germany a cynical, though not disloyal, minority, which frankly believes the peace offer was not made in the expectation that peace could be brought about, but for the could be brought about, but for the May May Lucid Sevelyn Orehard Sevelyn Orehard Sevelyn Vore Rhem McGillann Tenker Silvelyn Vore Irene Wall Tenke potentially dangerous stratum of the population, which is tired of war. This section has been antagonized by the unsilencable and uncontrollable Pan-German element, which has clamored German element, which has clamored for the annexation of everything thus far conquered, or at least for very material increases in territory. Although naturally unorganized, this stratum is very extensive. It has taken the attitude that the war and the causes thereof are none of its affair and that annexation would be of doubtful value. A majority of this element is indifferent whether Belgium is retained or returned. It longs with increasing anxiety for peace.

Brings Unification.

Brings Unification.

"The growing opinion that Germany caunot hope to obtain all that is desired by the extremists and the passionate desire to have it all over with on any reasonable basis and to get the members of the families back home, has brought into being in the last few months a more or less powerful peace party. The cynics argue that the government recognizing the existence of this faction, decided on a moderate peace offer, which, if accepted, would please the peace advocates, even though not entirely placating the Pan-Germans; while, if rejected, the result would be unification of the people and obliteration of the chasm between the peace faction and the Pan-Germans.

chasm between the peace faction and the Pan-Germans.

"Whether the cynics were right or wrong in regard to the motives of the government, the peace move brought about unification to a degree probably beyond the utmost hoped for. The German people today are as united as at no other time since August, 1914.

ELEMENTARY COURSE IN NAVAL TRAINING

Association Plans Instruction for Civilians Who Would Fit Selves for Service.

ATTRACTIVE PLAN READY

The Naval Training Association of the United States, which is to the civilian naval training movement what the United States Military Training Camps association is to the Plattsburg movement, announce that the Navy department is arranging an elementary course in naval training for civilians who desire to fit themselves for service with the navy in the event of war. The training will be followed by training cruises on reserve battleships next summer. The Navy department proposes to establish training stations for civilians at Newport, Norfolk, Chicago, San Francisco and probably at Pensacola. At these camps civilians will be

At these camps civilians will be trained for a period of a month, the instruction being the same as is given recruits for the active service. Civilians who underwent a course of training last summer will have the op-portunity for a further and more adranced course of training on battle-hips of the United States Atlantic reserve fleet. Ten or twelve battle-reserve fleet. Ten or twelve battleships of the United States Atlantic reserve fleet. Ten or twelve battleships of the reserve divisions, under command of a flag officer, will be detailed for this purpose.

The time of holding the camps of instruction and cruises are tentatively arranged to take place between July 2 and August 4. Should more civilians apply to take the course of training afforded by the department than can be accommodated by the training camps and battleships in one period the department proposes to have additional periods of instruction, so that all who volunteer may be instructed. In order to make the civilian naval reserve attractive to those civilians secutions?
