

FARM MEMBERS RAP STATISTIC BILL

Member of Them Oppose Furnishing Crop Acreage to Assessors.

WINE OUT JUST THE SAME

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Feb. 26.—(Special)—No legislation should be enacted at this session only the kind that the farmers want, according to arguments advanced by Representatives Hoffmeister, Auten, Greenwald and Anderson of Boyd, who opposed a recommendation of Governor Neville, sent to the house for a better system of collecting information in regard to Nebraska's agricultural resources.

The matter came up on consideration of the Taylor bill, making it incumbent upon assessors to collect the information and make estimates when exact data could not be secured.

The above named members did not believe the farmers should be required to tell how much grain they had planted or how much they expected to have after it was harvested.

Hoffmeister said that the farmers did not want to give out such information and they ought not to be required to do so.

According to Greenwald, 75 per cent of the farmers did not want to give out the information and they don't like to.

Anderson of Boyd was afraid it would help the grain gamblers and Auten was of the same opinion.

Reisner asked Anderson why the farmers should be exempt from giving out information regarding their business. "Don't the bankers and other lines of business have to give out information when the examiners demand it?" asked the Thomas county member.

Speaker Jackson, Sass, Peterson, Thomas, Schwab, Ainsley, Reisner and one or two others, including Ollis, president of the State Board of Agriculture, which has been gathering the information desired, spoke for the bill.

Mr. Ollis said he had been a farmer all his life.

"The big grain speculators," said he, "send out their agents every year for the purpose of gathering this information to all parts of the grain-growing region in the United States and Canada, which gives them plenty of crop information, regardless of whether the government furnishes it or not."

Get Straight "Goods."

"Are we going to depend on the armors and the other big speculators for our information about agricultural production?" asked Ollis. "They are using their information for their own benefit, and we can't depend on them giving out to the public the actual conditions. Next fall, all you farmers who say you're against this bill will be watching the newspapers for every bit of information you can find as to the crop yield over the country, so you will know whether to hold your grain or sell it."

"Besides this, the data collected by the State Board of Agriculture will be published and sent all over the United States. It will advertise Nebraska and show that we can raise a good crop here on land worth $150 per acre as they can in older states where the land costs two or three times as much."

Mr. Thomas told the house that the Department of Agriculture sent an expert to Alliance last year to gather information on the potato crop in that section. The growers, he said, felt that this service was worth $100,000 to them, in the aggregate.

A motion by Mr. Anderson (Boyd) to postpone indefinitely was voted down, after which the bill was ordered to be engrossed.

The Axtell bill authorizing county boards to make special tax levies for paying off old indebtedness of road districts was sent to third reading.

The Douglas county assessor will get a boost in salary if the bill raising him from $2,400 to $3,000 meets with the same favor on the rest of its journey through the two houses that it did in committee of the whole of the house, the latter recommending it for engrossment and third reading.

Wymore Meets Conditions For Carnegie Library

Wymore, Neb., Feb. 26.—(Special)—A Carnegie library building will be built this spring about the center of Rawlins park, near the Burlington tracks. Mayor Rawlings announces that the efforts of the administration to have the allowance made by the Carnegie board have been successful. The structure will cost $10,000.

All the details of getting access to membership in the library association have been attended to, the necessary levy to raise $10,000 per year for the maintenance of the library has been made and the city officials have been notified by the secretary of the Carnegie board at New York that their request for building funds has been granted.

Governor Submits Bill for Poor House

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Feb. 26.—(Special)—Governor Neville's first bill to be presented to the legislature came in Monday forenoon, being a measure enabling the Douglas county board to sell the old poorhouse and to use the proceeds in the erection of a new poorhouse and hospital; also authorizing bonds to be issued and sold for that purpose, subject to a popular vote.

The governor submitted a special message saying Douglas county officials had united in a request for the passage of this measure. The old poorhouse is declared to be unsanitary and overcrowded.

Mr. R. C. Sweet and Miss Brinckman Wed at Madison

Madison, Neb., Feb. 26.—(Special)—The nuptials of Richard C. Sweet and Marie Adele Brinckman were solemnized at 9 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Mr. Cooper of the Presbyterian church officiated and Mrs. Ethel Sweet Jackson, Omaha, played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brinckman, one of the pioneer families of Madison. The groom is confidential secretary to Secretary of State Lansing, having had the same relative to Mr. Bryan when secretary of state. Mr. Sweet was a resident of Madison for a number of years, in the employ of Attorney General Reed. The wedding was the culmination of numerous entertainments given in honor of the bride—and these pre-wedding festivities were distinctly the social events of the winter. A reception immediately followed the ceremony. The bride was dressed in champagne and silk white embroidered in silver and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Her going-away costume was of blue tulle.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweet left on the morning passenger for Omaha, en route to Washington, D. C., where they will be at home to their friends after March 1. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. A. B. Sweet and Mrs. Ethel Sweet Jackson, Omaha; Frank Nichols and wife, Plainview; Ross Nichols and family, Creston, and Attorney General Reed and wife, Lincoln.

Second Rural School Bill Advanced by the House

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Feb. 26.—(Special)—Following the action taken by the house last Friday, sending to third reading the Taylor bill for a state tax levy of 1 mill to aid rural schools employing two or more teachers, the Ollis bill for the redistricting of counties in order to create such schools, was approved in committee of the whole this afternoon. These are the two big bills embodied in the rural school program of the present legislative session.

Legislative Notes

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Feb. 26.—(Special)—For the sake of protecting alfalfa fields from destruction by robbers, the house Monday afternoon put its O. K. on a bill authorizing county boards to pay a bounty of 10 cents a head on those animals.

The house received a telegram from Representative Jacobson, of his home in Lincoln, stating that his mother had died there. A resolution of condolence will be prepared and adopted.

A petition from Deahler, opposing the bill to establish a state broom making plant at the penitentiary, was received and read. Deahler has a broom factory and the petition declared it would be impossible for it to compete with convict labor.

The special committee of the house and senate appointed to arrange a program for the semi-centennial observance in joint session March 1 were called to meet Monday afternoon.

Objections have been made in the legislature several times during the session to undue activity of lobbyists, some of whom are registered, as the law requires, and some are not. Now, it is discovered that the anti-lobby law contains no penalty clause, some stringent rule adopted by the house, some time ago, excluding lobbyists from the chamber during sessions, is violated twenty times a day and nobody seems to know how to enforce it.

COUNTY JUDGE MUST NOT PUSH FAVORITES

Bill by Richmond Advanced Prohibiting Court to Recommend Lawyer.

ALSO PROHIBITS KNOCKING

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Feb. 26.—(Special)—For a county judge to suggest the name of any attorney for employment by any one having business in his court, or to say anything which might prejudice such person against a particular attorney, is made an impeachable offense, subjecting the magistrate to removal from office, under the terms of a bill which the Nebraska house Monday afternoon advanced to third reading. Mr. Richmond is the sponsor.

The purpose of the bill, as explained to the house, is to stop favoritism by county judges who use their influence in throwing probate business to their friends among the lawyers and advising people not to go to attorneys whom the judge may happen to dislike.

A bill by Mr. Dalbey, providing that assessed values shall be taken as the basis for appraising real estate subject to inheritance tax, was sent to third reading.

A bill authorizing the state conservation commission to keep geological record of strata found in deep well borings was also advanced.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 26.—John Ward, awaiting trial for the alleged killing of Louis Hooker of Fisherville last September, was shot and killed at the court house today by Thomas Hooker, brother of Louis Hooker. Hooker walked to the attorney general's office and surrendered. He declined to make a statement.

Mother of Thaw Sues to Have Him Proclaimed Insane

Philadelphia, Feb. 26.—Lunacy proceedings were begun in common pleas court here today to determine the sanity of Harry K. Thaw.

The petition was filed in behalf of Thaw's mother, Ellis Ames Ballard, an attorney of this city, who was appointed commissioner and he will sit with a sheriff's jury of six men to be chosen later to pass on Thaw's mental state.

Mrs. Thaw said: "I am unable to resist the facts that demonstrate my son's insanity. Therefore, to the courts of my state, of his state, I have applied to help a mother protect her son from his infirmities."

James Gay Gordon, counsel for Mrs. Thaw, issued a statement saying the lunacy action was not begun as a ruse to block Thaw's extradition to New York to face trial.

Lengthy litigation is indicated by District Attorney Swann of New York, who over the telephone said he would combat the move to have Thaw declared a lunatic.

Thaw has been in a hospital here since January 11, when he attempted suicide by cutting his throat. At the time police were searching for him on a warrant issued in New York charging him with beating a boy.

Officials Learn in Texas To Like Nebraska More

Admitting that the Lone Star state boasts of a pretty nice climate, but declaring unanimously that "good old Nebraska is good enough for them," four members of the county board returned to Omaha Monday morning after a week's sojourn in Texas, where they inspected the rebuilt macadamized and stone roads in the vicinity of Dallas and San Antonio with the idea of making similar improvements in Douglas county.

The "Finley method" is in general use in Texas about the larger cities for rebuilding macadamized and stone highways, according to the commissioners. Commissioner Lynch was much impressed with the way the roads are kept up in certain parts of Texas. He and Commissioners McDonald, O'Connor and Compton made the trip. Commissioner Bedford remained in Omaha.

HUSBAND SHOTS LONG-TIME FRIEND

Lodger Probably Fatally Injured When Woman Goes to Spouse With Story.

ALLEGES SELF DEFENSE

Lifetime friendship between Marvin Marks, 34, and Albert Comer, 35, was blasted early this morning when the former was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, shot through the lungs, perhaps fatally, and the latter to the city jail, charged with attempted murder. The tragedy occurred at the Comer home, 2826 Chicago street.

Mrs. Comer and her brother, Adolph Van Loo, a carpenter, are being held as witnesses.

According to the story Mrs. Comer told police, she secretly borrowed $100 from Marks, her husband's employe and lifelong friend. Marks has been a lodger in the Comer home for over five years.

Instead of accepting the money she offered in payment of her debt, Marks attempted unwelcome attention upon her, and finally became obnoxious to the point where she confessed the secret loan to her husband and told him of Marks' action, she asserts.

Early this morning Comer went to Marks' room, she says, and the latter, apparently anticipating trouble, sprang upon her husband, who fired.

Though dangerously wounded, but conscious, Marks would not talk. Comer also refused to vouchsafe any information concerning the affair, save that he shot in justifiable self-defense.

Mr. Comer is assistant manager of the Concrete Construction company in the Omaha National Bank building and Marks has been employed under him in the same firm for a number of years. All of the principals in the case came here recently from St. Joseph, Mo.

The condition of Marvin Marks was reported somewhat improved at St. Joseph's hospital this morning and doctors say that he will likely recover.

Neither Mr. or Mrs. Comer would comment on the shooting when questioned at the police station today.

Women Stick by Men Identified as Daring Robbers

The love of Julia Smith and Elsie Webber for Joe Turner and Frank Lake is not cold yet, despite the fact that their sweethearts are lodged in the city jail and have been identified as holdup men. Bright and early Monday morning the two girls called at the police station and asked for pictures of their incarcerated lovers.

"We want something to remember them by," pleaded the young women. Chief Maloney promised that he would have made for them duplications of the photographs which are now in the rogues' gallery.

"And," said Miss Webber, who is from Chicago, "we would like to find a job somewhere in Omaha so that we can stay here until the cases are settled."

The men whom the girls love are the two who locked F. W. Hawkins and F. E. Latham in the icebox of their own grocery store last Thursday and then tapped the cash register. Later, when George Miller, employe of the store, chased them in an auto, Turner and Lake commandeered the machine and forced Miller, by the persuasive powers of a pistol pressed against his ribs, to drive at high speed through the streets. Police, in a high-powered car, finally overtook the pair after a thrilling auto race.

Messrs. Miller, Hawkins and Latham have identified Turner and Lake as the men who staged the hold-up. Turner says he is from Kansas City and Lake says his home is in St. Louis. Miss Smith is an Omaha girl.
