THE BEE: OMAHA, SATURDAY, MARCH 3, 1917.

Lincoln, March 2-(Special) .- It is expected that the state house approoriation will be the next big prob lem before the lower branch of the legislature.

The more the matter is discussed it becomes apparent that people are more favorable to creating a fund by special levy, as called for in the Rich mond bill. This bill calls for a one mill special levy until the sum of $3, 500,000 has been raised. This would 500,000 has been raised. This would probably take about seven years under the present valuation of the state, which on a one-mill levy would raise about $500,000 a year. Very few members of the legisla-ture but believe there should be a new state house. Many problems have arisen at this season calling for appropriations. The finance ways and means committee of the house have oeen trying to keep the appropria-tions down. Whether they are justi-ied in reporting out for indefinite ostponement bills simply on the idea hat the appropriations should be kept down instead of on the broader idea that the appropriation are needed, is that the appropriation are needed, is a matter which the legislature will a matter which

Stone Will Crumble.

Stone Will Crumble. When it was first proposed to re-walt, driving piling for the purpose of rebuild the walls, it was figured that the stone now composing the walls could be taken out and used in re-building the wing. According to ex-perts, the stone will not stand mov-ing, but will crumble as soon as taken out of the walls. In case this is true, stone that would match that row in the building and would have to be shipped from the Bedford quar-ries in the east. It is the opinion of these men that as soon as the south wall is taken out and the east wall pulled down as far back as is shown to be unsafe, the whole wall will crumble.

to be unsate, the whole wall will crumble. A serious problem is presented in whether the state would not be in a bad predicament if an attempt were made to repair the old wing and it was found after tearing it down that the whole wing was likely to go to money to make it safe for use and no appropriation to build new. The present deplorable condition of the state library must also be taken into consideration. The same business judgment which a man would apply to his own affairs in protecting properly appears to be lacking in the minds of many of the state. Bany Urss Law
