

AUTO SHOW COMES TO CLOSE TONIGHT

Auto Men Plan for Final Spurt of Speed in Home Stretch Today.

SCIONS LOOK OVER CARS

With every previous record already shattered beyond recognition, the twelfth annual automobile exposition speeds into the home stretch today for the final dash to the wire.

When the great display closes tonight not a record will stand, for that matter they have all been broken already. Attendance the first five days of the show was more than twice as great as the total attendance for the entire six days of the show last year.

Despite the fact that it seems as though every man, woman and child in Omaha has already attended the show some time or other, the auto men are looking forward to one of the biggest days of the week. Many persons, who gave the exhibition the visual forward and back earlier in the week, will return today or tonight with their minds made up on the car they will buy, the dealers and salesmen reason, and that is why, even though they admit their energy is fast falling away owing to the high pressure all week, every agent and salesman plans to be on the job bright and early this morning and stick until the bell rings down the curtain.

Gardner to Sing.

An added attraction is scheduled for tonight. Charles Velle Gardner has consented to sing. Charles Velle Gardner is the Caruso of the De Rezska—the automobile men. Charlie is one of the official warblers at the Ak-Sar-Ben Den. He is also some warbler when it comes to singing the praises of the Velle. So Charlie was prevailed upon to perform tonight, it being the last night of the show and therefore little danger of an uprising.

When it became known that Gardner was going to aid George Green in providing melody for the evening, Everett Buckingham and Manager Powell of the show got together and proclaimed tonight Ak-Sar-Ben night.

Buckingham has issued a call for all true knights of King Ak to be on hand to give the display the once over and to hear Charlie warble. The board of governors will all be there and they expect to see every loyal subject on hand, too.

This afternoon Dale Marshall, who is in Omaha with "The Witching Hour" picture at the Muse, will sing a solo. Mr. Marshall was formerly a soloist with Sousa's band. Heated by Governor Neville, members of the Nebraska legislature were guests at the auto show last night. The soloists called off their labor for the week yesterday morning and caught a fast train to Omaha. They visited the stock yards, then had dinner at the Commercial club and wound up the day by attending the motor display as guests of the Omaha Automobile trade association.

News Print Jobbers

Asked to Sign Contracts

Washington, March 2.—News print paper jobbers of the country were asked by the Federal Trade Commission today if they would reduce prices of news print to newspapers providing they benefited in the price fixing plan of the Federal Trade Commission.

The commission wants assurance that jobbers, buying at a low price from manufacturers, will not hold publishers to contracts made at a high price. Already manufacturers and publishers have agreed to a price arbitration by the commission and if jobbers consent, the committee, it is believed, will go ahead immediately with its plan. The jobbers were asked to sign agreements prepared by the commission. Some, it was indicated, were willing to approve the plan. Others have not made up their minds.

Expect Pathfinder To Be Sensation of The Coming Season

One of the models attracting a great deal of attention at the automobile show is the new Pathfinder in the Toozer-Gerperch booth.

This Pathfinder is one of the most distinctive cars at the exposition and contains one feature that is exclusively Pathfinder. It is the concealed top and extra wheel feature.

The tail of this Pathfinder has been so constructed that the top when lowered folds right into the tail. In addition the extra wheels are placed into this box-like tail. So when the top is down it is completely hidden from view and the extra wheels are always hidden, with the result that this model is one of the snappiest at the show.

The long tail also adds to the racy effect of the machine. The long hood with its pointed radiator nose adds much to the appearance of the machine, too.

This Pathfinder model is the latest product of the factory and it was necessary to ship the one on display to Omaha by express in order to get it here in time for the show. Even the New York and Chicago shows did not see this model. It is not merely a show car, but is a new design that the Pathfinder people are making this year. It contains a twelve-cylinder engine of the latest type and can be throttled down to almost nothing and accelerated up to over sixty miles an hour without any trouble.

From the enthusiasm it has created during the few days of the show, this Pathfinder promises to be one of the sensations of the approaching season.

WILMO MANIFOLD IN EFFICIENCY TEST

Complete Vaporization of Gasoline, Boon to Motorist, Is Now a Reality.

MANY ORDERS PLACED

Complete vaporization of gasoline, which enables the motor car owner to get the greatest number of miles to the gallon, is now a reality. The Wilmo Manifold, a one-piece casting forming a combination exhaust and intake manifold with a thin dividing wall between, showed increased efficiency of 71 per cent in a test run at the Boulevard entrance to Miller Park late yesterday afternoon.

The test was made with a Ford roadster. A. R. Kroch, vice president of the Whittier company, manufacturer of the Wilmo Manifold; R. B. Morris of the Omaha Rubber company; R. H. Findlay, construction engineer for the street railway; Herman Beall, assistant city engineer; Joe Woodlock, engineer; representatives of three Omaha newspapers and a score of others witnessed the test and pronounced the results absolutely authentic. Mr. Findlay and Mr. Beall rode in the car in both test runs.

Many Miles on Gallon. The first run was made with a Ford roadster on a half gallon of gasoline and no changes in standard construction. The result was 6.6 miles. The Manifold attachment yielded 11.3 miles to the half gallon, an increase of 71 per cent in efficiency.

The success of the Manifold in Omaha is evident from the City Gas company's order for twenty-five, one for every car in the department. The Omaha Rubber company is the first jobber to handle the attachment in this city.

Thoroughly Cleanse the Liver and Keep Well

WHAT TO EAT!

(By Dr. I. H. WATSON.)

the much slandered cabbage, and sauerkraut. Stimulate the liver into a thorough housecleaning at least once a week, by taking a purely vegetable laxative made up and extracted from May-apple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, into a Pleasant Pellet, first made by Dr. Pierce nearly fifty years ago and sold by nearly every druggist in the country. To keep the kidneys clean, drink plenty water between meals; also, if you wish to "escape half the ills" which cause early deaths from kidney disease, affections of the heart, rheumatism and gout, drink a pint of hot water a half hour before meals. This with regular outdoor exercise, sensible food, and occasionally Anurio (double or triple strength) after meals for a few weeks at a time, and there is no reason why a man or woman should not live to be a hundred. This Anurio stimulates the kidneys, causing them to throw out the poisonous uric acid which causes us to have pains in the back, lumbago, rheumatism or gout.

Anurio always benefits and often cures the cause of kidney disease, as well as rheumatism and gout. Sold by druggists, or send 50c. to Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., or 10c for trial package.

The poisons in man are taken care of, if man will do his part. The liver and kidneys act as the sewage disposal plants which separate and throw off the poisonous accumulations, if given half a chance. But many of us should not eat meat more than once a day. Eat vegetables, and what may be called "roughage" to stimulate bowel action, such as baked potato with the hard skin, Graham, rye or whole wheat bread, onions, turnips, carrots, even

Why eat Potatoes? "At eight cents a pound the potato is a needless luxury," says the New York Board of Health. The potato is seventy-five per cent water and the rest is mostly starch. It is a good food when eaten in combination with proteid foods—but not worth eight cents a pound. Cut out meat, eggs and high-priced vegetables and stick to cereals and fruits. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits (cost two cents) with milk make a complete meal, supplying all the nutriment needed for a half day's work. For breakfast with hot milk; for dinner with sliced bananas or stewed prunes. Made at Niagara Falls, N. Y.
