

SOUTH SIDE NEWS AND NOTES OF LIFE

Work for All, But Wages Do Not Go Far Enough, Says Charity Worker.

PROBLEMS OF SOUTH SIDE

"Absence of work is not the trouble," Mrs. Anna Bourne, boss of the Associated Charities branch station said yesterday, in discussing the increasing number of appeal cases as spring approaches. "For that matter there is plenty of work. It is a fact that most men can't make things go on what they get that makes them destitute. It is the problem of supplying food, clothing, fuel and rent that causes the chief worry."

In a little card index on Mrs. Bourne's desk there is a list of at least fifty cases of immediate want, some of them very urgent. One by one she read the chief facts and she discussed this phase of the H.C.I. problem that is coming of so much importance. Of eight specific cases, four were caused by sickness and broken limbs, one by desertion on the part of the spouse, and three of lack of paying work.

"We need clothing more than we ever have," the good woman who has helped hundreds in the hard winter just passed and winters previous, said. "I have had more calls for clothing than at any other time since I can remember." Then in explanation she continued: "You see most poor people depend on old clothing for their every-day and Sunday attire and as these kind of clothes wear out quickly there is a constant demand for more."

Most of the needy families are of from three to eight children and have able-bodied parents who are willing to work if they can see into a way to make the pay cover all the expenses. One family in particular, where both mother and father are mutes, has aroused the sympathy of the charities mother. The father had been a coal heaver in a coal yard, but had lost his job because his employer had decided to drop the coal item from his business. There are five children in the family and four are attending school.

At Thirty-seventh and G streets there is a family of nine children besides the parents who are in desperate need. The better part of the winter saw the children suffering in twos and threes and separately from scarlet fever. The quarantine was lifted only recently and the father has only been able to obtain odd jobs. Another case is that of a young couple at Twenty-ninth and F streets. The husband has been sick with tuberculosis for years and has been unable to work since July. There is one child in the family and no visible means of support.

Plan for Excursion.

A. F. Stryker and W. F. Shellberg, traffic managers of the stock yards exchange and association, will have the itinerary of the big northwest stockmen excursion ready in another week, according to announcement made Saturday at the Exchange.

The prospective route, beginning at Belle Fourche, has been handed over to railroad officials for examination. The company reserves the right to maintain the train on schedule time and in arranging the time table for the trip may make some changes.

The special train will be made up of at least a dozen cars and will include in round numbers 150 Omaha stockmen and commission men. The excursion starts early in May.

Thieves Steal Piping.

Lead piping and gas fixtures in a vacant house owned by Mrs. Joe Carroll, 3614 South Twenty-fourth street, were absent when the place was inspected by the owner Friday. The thieves broke into the place in the last three days and evidently stole the fixtures to be sold for junk.

Henry Culkin, 5041 South Twenty-fourth street, and John Spicke, 4320 South Twenty-fourth street, both reported missing overcoats from their homes Friday.

Wholesale Theft of Pelts.

Wholesale theft of sheep pelts, the exact number not yet ascertained, was reported by the operator in the Rock Island railroad yards on the south county line. A gang of four men with an automobile was seen to break into a car of hides that was contained in a freight train side tracked for a few hours in the darkness.

Warren Heulett, chauffeur, 4706 South Twenty-fourth street, is being held for investigation in a stealing case. Detectives Sullivan and Fleming identified two tires found on Heulett's machine as the ones stolen from a flat car side tracked in the Burlington yards at the L street viaduct some time ago.

Will Stop Littering.

Any one who tells beer or liquor at any kind of dances or other entertainments will be placed under arrest at once, Captain Briggs told detectives and coppers last evening as they entered on the usual heavy Saturday night watch. "That's the order from the chief and that's the order that is going to be carried out to the letter."

A stockman coming in from a small town late Friday afternoon remarked to a friend Saturday morning that it had been impossible for him to get a bottle of liquor at any place the night before. "I went to a half dozen places where I have always been able to get what I wanted," he said, "but this time there was nothing doing at all." Police say that the South Side is bottled tight if such a thing was ever possible.

Miss Mabery's Recital.

Miss Mildred Mabery, popular local singer, will give a musical entertainment Friday evening, March 16, assisted by Miss Mable Allen. The program will start at 8:15 o'clock, the place being the music room of the Cammiller & Mueller piano house, North Side.

The program:
Introduction..... Chopin
"The Little Boat"..... Schubert
"The Little Boat"..... Schubert
"The Little Boat"..... Schubert
"The Little Boat"..... Schubert
"The Little Boat"..... Schubert
"The Little Boat"..... Schubert
"The Little Boat"..... Schubert
"The Little Boat"..... Schubert
"The Little Boat"..... Schubert

"What Can a Poor Maid Do?" (-) (-) By Nell Brinkley.

One Day says One to you—frowning askance—a doubting Thomas—"Never trust bright brown eyes—the warm, dark eyes that sparkle and smile, out of whose velvet night small fireflies signal and say, 'I will be kind to you—approach!'"

That was yesterday.

Tomorrow says Another to you—scowling—a cynical Samuel—"Put not your faith in blondes—the golden candy-haired—the eyes that plead—the hair that binds—I have never known one yet who smiled on me and meant it."

Sings One:

"Then did I live when I did see
PERILLA smile on none but me,
But (Ah!) by starres malignant crost,
The Life I got I quickly lost."

Sings the Other:

"I know how Marigolds came yellow.
Jealous Girls these sometime were,
While they lived or lasted here.
Turn'd to FLOWERS, still they be
Yellow, mark't for jealousy."

Then sing they Both, in the words of Robert Herrick:

"And, Cruell maid, because I see
You scornful of my love and me,
He trouble you no more, but goe
My way, where you shall never know
What is become of me; there I
Will find me out a path to die,
Or learn some way how to forget
You, and your name, forever; yet—"

When one says, "Trust not the dark," and another says, "Put not your faith in blondes," and there be no maids who are neither—what can a poor maid do?
NELL BRINKLEY.

Love Came in at the Door.

"The Old Refrain".....Kreidler
"An Open Secret".....Huntington Woodman
"The Old Refrain".....Kreidler
"An Open Secret".....Huntington Woodman

Crowds at Club Meetings.

Record crowds attended the meetings of improvement clubs last week. The first lap of the big drive for spring improvements is under way.

At meetings of the West Side, South-east and East Side clubs, measures for forward-looking improving features in their respective districts were laid before the club members.

City commissioners and Member Parks, South Side representative in particular, have appeared often at these meetings in the past. At the East Side meeting next Friday, one of the commissioners will be present to make a talk. At the last meeting, Friday evening, motion was made to improve sidewalks in the club vicinity centering on a walkway stretch on M street, between Twentieth and Twenty-second street. At present pedestrians are compelled to take the street here, it was remarked at the meeting.

Reception at Parsonage.

The new Grace Methodist parsonage, occupied by Rev. C. C. Wilson and wife, pastor of the church, was the center of a formal reception of members of the official board of the church last Wednesday. The church directors were present at the new home on an inspection tour and were the guests of Rev. Mr. Wilson and his wife.

The parsonage is a new addition to the Methodist properties. It was built since the opening of the last winter and cost $4,500. The house is modern and contains eight rooms. Work was begun November 1 and completed in four months' time.

Glee Club to Sing.

The Armour Glee club, led by Forrest Dennis, tenor, who was a popular soloist while attending the South High school, will sing at an entertainment of the Douglas County Association of Nebraska Pioneers, March 26, at the Auditorium, in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of Nebraska's statehood. Miss Mary McCormack, secretary of the association, made this announcement yesterday.

A. W. Jeffers, Omaha attorney, and Matthew Gering of Plattsmouth are scheduled speakers for the evening. The reproduction of the first inaugural ball will be one of the features of the evening beside old-time dancing. All pioneers, whether members of the association or not, are wanted.

Moose Officers.

Magic City Lodge, No. 308, Loyal Order of Moose, elected the following officers at their meeting Thursday: Dictator, C. H. Michael; vice dictator, Frank Weiss; prelate, C. H. Avery; treasurer, F. L. Madison; inner guard, C. P. Skow; outer guard, D. Kuchenhoff; trustee, D. A. Cook. H. C. Myers was elected delegate to the national convention with W. J. Orchard as alternate.

Mrs. Marion Buckio Dies at

Sioux City After Operation

Mrs. Marion Buckio, wife of F. L. Buckio, 219 North Thirtieth street, died Saturday morning at a Sioux City hospital, following a serious operation. For two years she had been ailing and her health had gradually grown worse.

C. E. Doty Talks to Building

Owners and Managers

Charles E. Doty, president of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, of Cleveland, O., will visit in Omaha next Tuesday and Wednesday and address the local board at the Commercial club Tuesday noon.

"Y. W." of Uni of Omaha

Elects Officers for Year

The members of the Young Women's Christian association of the University of Omaha, met in the chapel hall and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Miss Esther Knapp, president; Miss Mary Quimby, vice president; Miss Esther Jansen, secretary; Miss Lillian Anderson, treasurer. After the election a short program was given.

CEMENT SHOW IS BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Dr. G. E. Condra Delivers Discussion on "Coarse Aggregates" Before Convention.

BOOST FOR GOOD ROADS

The Midwest Cement show is a matter of history. That is, the 1917 show is history. Of course, there will be one in 1918. At 9 o'clock Saturday the voting in the contest for the cement house to be given away officially closed, and the show closed soon after.

Many hundreds of people saw the show this year. Larger crowds than in previous years attended. There were more exhibits, and, in fact, practically all the available floor space in the municipal auditorium was occupied by exhibits. The matter of who wins the cement house will probably not be definitely settled for a few days, as it will take some time for the judges to read all of the replies, or votes in the contest. Meantime the material for the house will rest in the basement of the Auditorium, to be claimed by the winner when the announcement comes.

Dr. George E. Condra of the University of Nebraska opened the program at the convention of the Midwest Cement Users' association at the Hotel Rome Saturday, with a discussion on "Coarse Aggregates," in which he dealt as a geologist with the various crushed rock materials that go to the making of substantial concrete.

Percy Wells of Omaha, president of the George Washington National highway, spoke on this and other national highways, assuring the cement men that the day is not far distant when these will be paved from end to end with smooth, hard concrete, and that the men before him in the association will be the ones who will have to furnish the substantial material for this work.

S. E. Searle of Omaha, one of Nebraska's constant road boosters, spoke on the economic value of good roads to a community or state; George Wolz of Fremont, consul of the Lincoln Highway association, talked on the progress the Lincoln Highway is making. T. H. Johnson, city engineer of Sioux City, talked on concrete roads and the experience Sioux City has had with them, and J. B. Marcellus of Kansas City spoke of concrete roads and their superiority to any other road that can be built.

Typus in Belgium.

Amsterdam (Via London), March 10.—

Les Nouvelles de Maastricht learns that diphtheria in Belgium has increased so greatly that an epidemic of typhus has broken out. In the commune of Bree, province of Limbourg, alone eighty deaths in the population of 4,000 have occurred in the last two months, the newspaper adds.

The National Woman's Republican association, organized and active since 1893, which stands for national honor and individual rights and whose membership is nationwide, offers that membership for immediate and continuous service in any capacity most helpful to our government.

Gossett Heads Land Bank.

Dallas, Tex., March 11.—M. H. Gossett

Dallas attorney, was notified today by the Farm Loan board at Washington of his appointment as head of the Texas Farm Loan bank at Houston.

Mr. Gossett is a native Texan, a democrat and was once a candidate for congress.

Omaha Firm Will Erect Ten-Story Building Here

Tentative arrangements have been made by Paxton & Gallagher, wholesalers, to use the Ames building just north of their present plant to conduct their business while they tear down the old and build a modern ten-story building.

These arrangements are only tentative, as Paxton & Gallagher are not sure they will build. For a time the matter was practically assured, but on account of the uncertainty of the international situation at present, Manager Charles Pickens said, "We cannot tell what this international situation is going to bring forth, and we probably would not build before fall anyway."

Plans are not quite completed for the building, but it is definitely known that it is to be ten stories high and 152x165 feet in dimensions.

Women Make Offer to Wilson.

New York, March 10.—The National Woman's Republican association sent the following telegram to President Wilson tonight:

"We, the women of the United States, in the name of the Republic, offer to you, Mr. Wilson, the support of our organization and the support of our country."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

CEMENT SHOW IS BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Dr. G. E. Condra Delivers Discussion on "Coarse Aggregates" Before Convention.

BOOST FOR GOOD ROADS

The Midwest Cement show is a matter of history. That is, the 1917 show is history. Of course, there will be one in 1918. At 9 o'clock Saturday the voting in the contest for the cement house to be given away officially closed, and the show closed soon after.

Many hundreds of people saw the show this year. Larger crowds than in previous years attended. There were more exhibits, and, in fact, practically all the available floor space in the municipal auditorium was occupied by exhibits. The matter of who wins the cement house will probably not be definitely settled for a few days, as it will take some time for the judges to read all of the replies, or votes in the contest. Meantime the material for the house will rest in the basement of the Auditorium, to be claimed by the winner when the announcement comes.

Dr. George E. Condra of the University of Nebraska opened the program at the convention of the Midwest Cement Users' association at the Hotel Rome Saturday, with a discussion on "Coarse Aggregates," in which he dealt as a geologist with the various crushed rock materials that go to the making of substantial concrete.

Percy Wells of Omaha, president of the George Washington National highway, spoke on this and other national highways, assuring the cement men that the day is not far distant when these will be paved from end to end with smooth, hard concrete, and that the men before him in the association will be the ones who will have to furnish the substantial material for this work.

S. E. Searle of Omaha, one of Nebraska's constant road boosters, spoke on the economic value of good roads to a community or state; George Wolz of Fremont, consul of the Lincoln Highway association, talked on the progress the Lincoln Highway is making. T. H. Johnson, city engineer of Sioux City, talked on concrete roads and the experience Sioux City has had with them, and J. B. Marcellus of Kansas City spoke of concrete roads and their superiority to any other road that can be built.

Typus in Belgium.

Amsterdam (Via London), March 10.—

Les Nouvelles de Maastricht learns that diphtheria in Belgium has increased so greatly that an epidemic of typhus has broken out. In the commune of Bree, province of Limbourg, alone eighty deaths in the population of 4,000 have occurred in the last two months, the newspaper adds.

The National Woman's Republican association, organized and active since 1893, which stands for national honor and individual rights and whose membership is nationwide, offers that membership for immediate and continuous service in any capacity most helpful to our government.

Gossett Heads Land Bank.

Dallas, Tex., March 11.—M. H. Gossett

Dallas attorney, was notified today by the Farm Loan board at Washington of his appointment as head of the Texas Farm Loan bank at Houston.

Mr. Gossett is a native Texan, a democrat and was once a candidate for congress.

Omaha Firm Will Erect Ten-Story Building Here

Tentative arrangements have been made by Paxton & Gallagher, wholesalers, to use the Ames building just north of their present plant to conduct their business while they tear down the old and build a modern ten-story building.

These arrangements are only tentative, as Paxton & Gallagher are not sure they will build. For a time the matter was practically assured, but on account of the uncertainty of the international situation at present, Manager Charles Pickens said, "We cannot tell what this international situation is going to bring forth, and we probably would not build before fall anyway."

Plans are not quite completed for the building, but it is definitely known that it is to be ten stories high and 152x165 feet in dimensions.

Women Make Offer to Wilson.

New York, March 10.—The National Woman's Republican association sent the following telegram to President Wilson tonight:

"We, the women of the United States, in the name of the Republic, offer to you, Mr. Wilson, the support of our organization and the support of our country."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have you as our President, and we are proud to have you as our countryman."

"We are proud to have