Cattas—Receipts were insertal this meaning, there being 261 cars reported in, which is larger than a week ago but with that exception sunialer than most recent weeks and smaller than a year ago by 2,996 head. There was a very fair demand for desirable killers. The best beef steem here were good enough to bring $11.55. Cows and helfers and also desirable stockers and feeders brought good, firm or even strong prices. Omaha Futures.

The future grain situation was very hearish, rather large price losses were austained in all markets.

The report that the Adamson eight-hour law would probably be declared unconstitutional caused a heavy aciling pressure by shous, which forced a 5c break in May wheat and a 3% drop in the July option.

Corn opened at about ic under Saturday's close and declined about to during the session, while July corn closed 1%c lower.

day's close such the session, while July corn closer.

The local trade was fairly active and was confined chiefly to wheat and corn. there being very little trade in cats, and that market followed wheat and corn on the decline, the May article closing %c lower and the July closing 1%s lower.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS,

ports could mount guns fore as well as aft.

Notwithstanding a substantial decrease in the domestic visible supply total, the wheat market plunged downward most rapidly in the final hours of the session. It was not until the May option had failen 70 to $1.19\forall that even a little power to raily developed in prices. Knowledge that the United States supreme court had again postponed a decision on the Adamson law to establish an eight-hour day for railroad emplayers essemed to be acting as a decided bearish influence as the day came to an end. Surmises that were current also that new peace suggestions might result from

WHEAT SUFFERS BIG DROP

Comana, March 12, 1917.

The local receipts of grain were fairly good today, but the cash grain situation was very dull on account of the sharp decline in futures and also because of the demand, which was aunually quiet.

With the exception of the miliers there were hardly any buyers in the market for wheat and up to noon there was not one carry whent reported sold.

The form market was considerably more active than wheat, but the demand in this market seemed to be mainly for corn in foreign system cars.

Oats was the best seller on the list, and while the run of this cereal was rather large, the demand was fairly active and a surprise of the samples were dependent of this cereal was rather large, the demand was fairly active and a surprise of the samples were dependent of the carry was the form of the cereal was rather large, the demand was fairly active and a price ruling from 1 to 10 to lower.
