Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it, entirely. To do this just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will he gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and dig-ging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glussy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

Why Most Dentifrices Injure Teeth and Gums

Every dentist knows the danger that lurks in dentifriess that contain cutile fish bone, pumice stone and other insoluble material. Such substances wear away the enamel, cause erosion, decay—invite boctorial invasion, peridonitis, etc. They irritate and inflame the delicate gum tlauses, readering them Habie to bleed, loosen, soften and recode. Yet every dentist knows that some stritty substance is really needed to keep the teeth free from discoloration, tartar and ether accumulations.

The problem has been to obtain a paste, cream or powder that would be gritty enough to thoroughly cleanes and polish the itselft, yet without heaving any residue of gritty material to keep up a constant irritation. Fortunately, it has been found that ordinary avacto it solibble form, answers the purpose perfectly. Soluble avacto, while keeping the teeth spotiessly clean, removing even the most obstinate stains, dissolves as completely a minute after coming in contact with the saliva that not a particle of grit remains. It is also an effective pyorrhea preventive. Soluble avartal may be procured at any drug store in 35-cent tubes, and is used like ordinary tooth pastes.—Dential Advice.—Adv.

GERMANY READY FOR ALL COMERS

Fully Determined to Carry Out Ruthless Subsea Campaign, Says Mr. Gerard.

Washington, March 15 .- Former Ambassador Gerard, fresh from Berlin, reported to the State department today that when he left there was every evidence that Germany fully intended carrying out its ruthless submarine campaign, regardless of the prospects of war with the United petent authority. The review says: States, and that talk of peace had been abandoned.

The former ambassador did not see President Wilson because the president still is confined to his room, but he conferred at length with both Secretary Lansing and Counsellor Polk, and went over with them in detail events leading to the break in diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States.

Food Condition Serious. Mr. Gerard reported that German officials apparently considered the consequences of submarine ruthlessconsequences of submarine ruthless-ness before proclaiming it and as far as he could learn were confident of success. When he left Berlin, how-ever, the campaign was only in its second week and the Germans were still predicting the destruction of a million tons of shipping a month, the amount admitted by Teutonic experts to be essential for an effective starva-tion blockade of England, Since then, however, the average destruction has however, the average destruction has been below half that.

Food conditions in Germany when Mr. Gerard's party left, were reported as serious, but not necessarily critical. This question is looked upon by the American government as very important because of its bearing upon the possibility of further peace moves by Germany in the near future.

The former ambassador arrived here from Key West, Fla., shortly after noon and was met at the station by a group of officials. A formal statement was given out by Mr. Gerard, saying he would make his report to the government and would not talk for publication. He will go to New York tomorrow for a formal reception to be tendered him there Friday.

the department and others will be given new posts.

While officers are extremely anxious to learn the personal opinions of men fresh from Germany, there is not the slightest disposition to feel that the international situation can be affected in any way at this time. Germany is believed to have shown itself in the series of sinking such as the Laconia, the California and many others, including the American steamship Algonquin, reported today sunk without warning, to be utterly unmindful of the country's rights or its possible participation in the war.

Twenty Million Suffering.

Regarding food conditions, one of Regarding food conditions, one of the best observers who has reported to the State department in months, said that 20,000,000 people directly connected with the army or govern-ment, another 20,000,000 people in the rural population and about 8,000,000 wealthy people are well fed, but that the remainder, about 20,000,000, are in a serious plight.

The arrival of Mr. Gerard revived reports that he would be a candidate for mayor of New York next fall or that he would be sent to Tokio to succeed the late Ambassador Guthrie. He would discuss none of these reports today, further than to say that he was paying no attention to politics. Of Headache he was paying no attention to politics at this time.

Regardless of whether he remains in the service of the government he undoubtedly will come back here within a few days to amplify his reports. He may see the president tomorrow, but more likely will wait until another trip here because it probably will be several days before the president's physician will consent to his receiving callers.

British Admiralty Gives Review Of Six Weeks' Ruthless Campaign

Must Be Singularly Disappointing to Germans. pointing to Germans.

ABANDON TALK OF PEACE STATISTICS FOR PERIOD

London, March 15.-The Associated Press has been placed in possession of a review of the first six weeks of the German unrestricted submarine campaign. The figures given are from the Board of Trade reports, and the conclusions are those of a highly com-

"The German submarine campaign reported to have assumed enhanced vigor on February I, must be singularly disappointing to the Germans themselves. At the beginning of January, 1917. Great Britain possessed approximately 3,731 vessels of 1,600 tons and over. Many others of lesser tonnage are not taken into consideration, owing to the importance of restricting the question of overseas traffic and cargo, judging the results carefully and looking to possible future developments.

"From February I until March 14 the losses of British ships of over 1,600 tons were approximately seventy-eight, which number deducted from the total, leaves the British mercantile marine with 3,653 ships of over 1,600 tons after six weeks' German submarine warfare.

"It should be remembered that a very large proportion of tonnage is on the stocks building for the British mercantile marine, and a fair percentage of the total is being turned out monthly. In the total above mentioned no account is taken of ships completed or bought in neutral countries.

"During the period from February "The German submarine campaign

"During the period from February 1 to March 10 no British ships have been in any way blockaded in harbor Every opportunity of carrying out their plans has been at the disposi-tion of the Germans after their declaration of unrestricted submarine warfare. It is extremely improbable that the German authorities will ever have the same opportunity, for the have the same opportunity, for the following reasons:

"First—A large number of old tramp steamers, slow of speed, have been sunk, as they afforded easy prey.

"Second—Their efforts would be directed for the first six weeks or two months toward producing the most considerable results by careful organization and administration with a view to affecting the morale of neutral nations. A careful study of the German methods has been made by the British naval authorities and antisubmarine measures have been adoptsubmarine measures have been adopted which, as the outcome of experience, have attained a large measure

"Third—The arming of merchant vessels is rapidly taking place and it is capable of proof that a submarine takes particular care in attacking armed vessels, a large percentage of which always escape."

The report continues:

Freeport, Ill., March 15.—After hearing testimony in the case of George Reitzell, indicted five years ago for violation of the Mann act, Judge K. M. Landis today sentenced him to "sit for five minutes in a chair in this court room." At the end of thirty seconds the judge commuted the sentence and told Reitzell he was free. The court said the primary object of the Mann act was to stop commercialized vice, rather than to punish for personal indiscretions.

The report continues:

The report continues:
Fourth—Anti-aubmarine devices are being perfected, but little time must necessarily elapse in order that they should receive a proper trial.
Fifth—The German naval authorities are bound to find some difficulty in replacing the trained personell of which they have lost a considerable portion. It should be remembered that there is considerable ofference between efficiency of individual c.mmanders, and the greatest losses have ben incurred through the action of a few German submarine commanders, who by their skill and training stand far above the average U-boat officers who isave Germany on missions of destruction.

French Minister of War Quits Cabinet;

Result of Attacks

Paris, March 15.—General Louis Hubert Gonzalve Lyzutey, minister of war in the French cabinet, has resigned as the result of incidents in the Chamber of Deputics.

For several days past attacks by the opposition in Parliament against the French ministry on its economic policy have been in progress. No specific attack, so far as has been reported, was made on General Lyzutey.

General Lyzutey was appointed minister of war and member of the war council in the French cabinet last December, and virtually became the war director of France.
