HAPPENINGS IN THE MAGIC CITY

Irish Womanhood Lauded by Archbishop in St. Patrick Day Speech.

Irish womanhood in all its beauty was lauded in the highest at the St. Patrick's Day banquet at the Exchange on the South Side Sunday evening. Of all the high compliments paid by Archbishop J. J. Hart, who spoke at the conclusion of the program, his tribute to the woman and girl of Ireland was most beautiful.

"While you may all speak with praise of the beauty of South Omaha Irish women with the exterior in mind, I see still farther. As thoughts of my Irish mother fit for a moment, I see that deeper, grander, nobler woman who has made character for her people and for the world. In praise of them, God has blessed them."

Praise to the Order. The archbishop extended his praise to the Ancient Order of Hibernians, under whose auspices the banquet and entertainment was given. He urged that in the highest, noblest and truest sense of the word, Irish Hibernians spelled loyalty that has written itself on the pages of United States history. "The archbishop wishes to express his appreciation of you tonight and of the order, the ability of which I know so well."

Hanley on Nationalism. The nationalism of the Irish people in America was enlarged upon by James H. Hanley, secretary to Congressman Lobeck, who had journeyed from Washington to be the speaker of the evening.

Mayor Dahlman, one of the speakers, was applauded when he spoke for Americanism. "The constitution," he said, "the greatest document known to mankind, grants equal rights to man, woman, boy or girl. Millions read this declaration and migrated here. Out of all has sprung a new nation in which we live, stand in the wisdom of our flag. We are Americans and are behind the president to a man. Let him be right or let him be wrong—we are ever for him."

Shanahan Toastmaster. Dr. E. F. Shanahan of the South Side was toastmaster. Dr. W. J. McCrann and J. J. Curtin, president of the state order of Hibernians, were other speakers of the evening. The meeting closed with all 700 guests singing "God Save Ireland." During the banquet a toast to the pope was called for by Archbishop Hart. Miss Rose Riley played a violin solo, Matthew Severin sang several popular Irish solos, and an Irish orchestra played several Erin selections during the evening.

Norris Asks "Recall" Election; Wants Voters to Pass on Action

Lincoln, Neb., March 19.—In a letter to Governor Neville, Senator Norris of Nebraska, who was one of the twelve senators to stand out against the proposed law, permitting the president to establish armed neutrality, requests a special recall election to determine whether the people approve his attitude. If the majority so wills, he says he will resign.

Senator Norris' letter is in part as follows: "On account of my opposition in the senate to some of the legislation demanded by the president, which in substance, abdicated the constitutional prerogative of congress to declare war, and gave this power to the president, I have been severely denounced and criticized not only in Nebraska, but all over the country. These charges have been published and re-published by the newspapers of the country with a venom and a unanimity which show a gigantic combination to conceal from the people of the United States the real issue involved, and to push our country into the vortex of the terrible and senseless war now being waged in Europe. It is charged not only that I am a traitor to my country, but that I do not represent the people of Nebraska, from whom I hold my commission as a member of the United States senate.

Asks Special Election. "I have no desire to represent the people of Nebraska either in the United States senate or elsewhere if my official conduct is contrary to their wishes, and if I am misrepresenting them, the remedy is a recall. Under the constitution of the United States, the legislature of Nebraska is empowered to enact a law that would enable the people of the state to recall a United States senator. I am, however, willing to waive this technicality and whatever rights I may possess in this respect under the constitution. I suggest, therefore, that you ask the legislature of Nebraska, now in session, to pass a law providing for a special election at which the question of my recall can be submitted to the people of the state. If such an election is held, not later than May 1, 1917, under a law that will properly provide for the punishment of illegal voting, I agree to abide by the result and if the verdict is against me, I will at once place in your hands my resignation as a member of the United States senate from the state of Nebraska.

Governor Neville said tonight that he did not think such a special election would be advisable. Not only was there no demand for such an election, he said, but it would be a needless expense of money.

Washington, March 19.—Senator Norris of Nebraska made public tonight a letter he wrote yesterday to Governor Neville of Nebraska asking that the state legislature pass a law providing for a referendum on whether the senator should be recalled. He promised, if the verdict held before May 1 under a law to punish illegal voting, to hand the governor his resignation.

In a statement the senator indicated within a few days, he expected to go to Nebraska to accept some of the numerous invitations that have reached him to discuss the subject before Nebraska audiences.

Army Balloonists Encounter Snow Storm in Clouds

The three United States army balloonists who landed at Gibbs, Mo., Saturday after an air trip during which they were buffeted for five hours by a violent snowstorm 10,000 feet above ground, returned to Omaha by train. The balloon was in charge of A. L. Leon Stevens, chief instructor of the United States balloon corps at Fort Omaha and also carried Captain H. J. B. McElgin and Lieutenant L. C. Davidson. They left Omaha at 11:23 o'clock Saturday morning and landed at Gibbs at 4:30 in the afternoon. On reaching an altitude of about 10,000 feet they encountered a severe snowstorm, which cut off all view below and prevented them from landing for five hours, while they were being hurled through the air at an average speed of fifty miles an hour. Finally a small rift in the clouds disclosed a stretch of open country below and they effected a landing, reaching the ground with the wind carrying them at a dangerous speed. None of the crew was hurt and the balloon was damaged only slightly.
