HOW SWEET MILK WILL DISSOLVE WRINKLES

Here is a Simple Way to Make a Delightful Rolling Massage Cream Banishing Laugh-Wrinkles and Furrows.

(By DORIS KANE)

The prophecy that wrinkles soon will be as unfashionable as last spring's hats, is fast materializing, for every day more and more women are learning that a wrinkled, rough, faded, blotchy skin is the enemy of beauty and need not be tolerated only long enough to ride off—and that means just a few days.

The use of sweet milk for correcting beauty faults will prove a positive revelation to any woman, and to obtain the best results in the shortest time, it is advisable to employ it in the form of a rolling massage cream. This is done by adding about two ounces of plain sweetened cream to one-half pint of sweet unskimmed milk, then bringing it to a boil as you stir it. Do this and you will be rewarded with the softest and best rolling massage cream your skin ever felt the touch of.

Using this cream every day for a short period will cause laugh-wrinkles and deep, ugly furrows to fade away, and your "muddy," blotchy or sallow skin will become smooth, clear and as young as a rose-tint of virgin purity and delicacy. Be careful to use only sweet whole milk and not the powdered kind from your drugstore in an unbroken package.—Advertisement.

PIONEERS STAGE INAUGURAL BALL

Event Given in Omaha Sixty-Two Years Ago Reproduced at Celebration.

AGED PEOPLE ARE PRESENT

The reproduction of the first inaugural ball, held in Omaha sixty-two years ago, was presented Monday evening on the stage of the Auditorium, in connection with a program in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of Nebraska's statehood.

The Douglas County Association of Nebraska Pioneers gave the program, which was witnessed by a goodly gathering of pioneers and their children. Mrs. Mary McCormack, secretary of the association, arranged the program and offered the introductory remarks.

First Ball Described.

The program gave the following commentary on the inaugural ball of 1855: "The first and only executive ball ever given in Omaha, January, 1855, was in honor of Governor Izard. It took place in the City hotel, a one-story frame building, on Harney and Eleventh streets. The floor was rough and unplanned. Cottonwood boards served as seats, the walls were covered with one rough coat of dirty plaster, and the stove was so inadequate for heating purposes that the water which had been used for cleaning froze to the floor. The refreshments consisted of bacon sandwiches, dried apple pie and black coffee with brown sugar. The orchestra consisted of a solitary fiddler. This was Omaha's first step on the ladder of social aspirations."

Those Who Gave It Again.

In the inaugural ball reproduction D. H. Mercer and Mrs. Charles H. Fissette represented Governor Izard and lady, respectively. The personnel of the governor's party were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bay, Henry W. Dunn, Charles G. Hunt and Edward O. Pomeroy. The dancers were: Rome Metzler, George W. Winship, Alvin Metzler, James Cruickshank, Moses P. O'Brien, Augustus Lockner, James P. Dugdale, Karl Barothly, Madames Ida G. Knight, George W. Winship, R. M. Taylor, Anna K. Bowman, Mary J. Griffin, Kittie Lafferty, Jennie L. Maginn and Agnes R. Stevenson. The costumes worn by these dancers were of the period of sixty and seventy years ago. Mrs. Griffin had a necklace seventy-five years old and a gown she wore at the first Ak-Sar-Ben ball. Mrs. Stevenson appeared in a dress sixty years old and Mrs. Knight's dress was seventy-nine years old.

Aged People Attend.

The only living attendant of the ball which was reproduced on the Auditorium stage is Samuel E. Rogers, still a resident of Omaha, but unable to attend the exercises yesterday evening. On the stage was Mrs. S. G. Brewster of Irvington, who came to this county in 1855. Her father, the Rev. Mr. Gaylord, was the first minister of the First Congregational church of this city. At her side was Mrs. S. H. Seymour, more than eighty years of age, and said to be the first school teacher of Omaha. She taught in the basement of the old First Congregational church when it was located at Sixteenth and Farnam streets. John K. Hazard, who came here in 1853, also was on the stage and it is said he is the oldest Nebraska pioneer now residing in Omaha.

Frank Howell Talks.

Speaking on "Territorial Days," Frank S. Howell recounted the historical glories of the state and declared that Nebraska, in the future as in the past, will be found in her place with the sisterhood of states, fighting in the interests of humanity and not for conquest. He said that from the hands of the many peoples gathered together in this nation is suspended the destiny of the world. Moses P. O'Brien, president of the pioneers' association, gave an address of welcome, and Matthew Gering spoke on "The Past and Present of Nebraska."

On the musical program were the Omaha Letter Carriers' band, Harry Disbrow, Armour Glee club and Mrs. Roy Flanagan and Mrs. Adeline Wyckoff Kellstrom.

James Gilliland of 3019 Manderson street won applause when he sang "Mother Macrae." He is 12 years of age and a son of J. W. Gilliland.

The band played several patriotic numbers, the audience responding enthusiastically at the close when "America" and "The Star-Spangled Banner" were given.

Miss Rankin and Moses P. Kinkaid Office Neighbors

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Washington, March 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Would you believe it! Miss Jeannette Rankin of Montana, the first woman elected to congress, is going to occupy a room immediately across the hall from "Uncle Mose" Kinkaid, representatives from the Big Sixth of Nebraska.

Miss Rankin's secretaries, and she is going to have two, began to arrange Room 332 in the house office building today. There were no evidences of femininity about. Some book cases, bare of books, walls free of pictures, just an office room, excepting an interesting occupant.

The young looking secretary said that details of the room and the decorations would be left to Miss Rankin, who is expected on Wednesday. But Miss Rankin, a maiden, occupying an office across the hall from a confirmed old bachelor like Judge Kinkaid. It will make both Nebraska and Montana famous, if they never were before.

ALLIES CAPTURE THREE NEW TOWNS

French and British Troops Make Additional Progress Between Arras and Soissons.

NO CHANGE AT ST. QUENTIN

(By Associated Press.)

Three additional villages have fallen into the hands of the British and French troops operating against the Germans between Arras and Soissons in France. One village was taken by the British and two were captured by the French.

Lagnicourt, six miles northwest of Bapaume, fell into the hands of the British, and Folembray and La Feuillie, in the Basse-Forêt-De Coucy region, at the base of the salient that has been driven into the German line at La Fere, now are in the hands of General Neville's forces.

Gain Near Soissons.

The French also have gained some additional terrain northeast of Soissons, but no important changes in position have occurred in the St. Quentin sector, where the Germans apparently are stiffening their line. Paris reports the dispersal of German assemblages in this district by the artillery fire of the French, however.

Trench raiding and bombing operations continue on the remainder of the front, although there also have been violent artillery duels on various sectors, especially east of Dixmude and Steenstraete in Belgium.

Much Aerial Activity.

Considerable aerial activity is still in progress between the British and Germans. London reports the forcing down by British airmen of five German airplanes east of Neuville St. Vaast and Armentieres, but says that seven British machines have failed to return to their bases.

The Germans, who are reported in force on the north Russian front, are again becoming active. South of Divinsk, in the region of Postavay, after having loosed gas waves against the Russians, the Germans essayed an advance, but, according to Petrograd, they were repulsed.

East of Baranovitch another Teuton attack was put down by the Russian artillery fire. The Russian war minister has arrived in Riga, probably to consider the situation created by the arrival of German reinforcements.

Still another crossing of the Persian frontier into Turkey has been effected by the Russians, who have entered the vilayet of Mosul, through which flows the Tigris river, along which the British are still in pursuit of the Turks retreating from Bagdad. To the southeast, on the Turco-Persian frontier, near Khanikan, the Russians have captured the Turkish fortifications at Kalaichahin, thereby placing a further menace in the way of the Turks making their way up the Diale river before the British.

Mackensen in Turkey. The German field marshal, Von Mackensen, who has been in command of the Teutonic allied forces in Roumania, is reported to have arrived in Constantinople with the purpose of reorganizing the Ottoman forces.

In the Austro-Italian and Macedonian theaters the situation is unchanged.

Children's Coughs and Colds.

For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been the favorite with mothers for their children. That it has well merited the esteem in which it is held is shown by the following extract from a letter to the manufacturers by Mrs. T. H. Still, Charleston, Ill.: "Last winter our little boy, two years of age, had a severe cold that settled on his lungs, and we were greatly worried over his condition. He had a very persistent cough that hung onto him despite all the treatment we gave him until I got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This preparation relieved him almost immediately and two bottles of it cured him."—Advertisement.

Can Use Americans In Trenches, Says Soldier From There

Shot twice, once almost fatally, squirted with liquid fire and almost suffocated a number of times by poison gas fumes, Armand Patereau, 30, an American and a corporal in the foreign legion, dropped off in Omaha several hours Monday evening.

He was on his way to Portland, Ore., from a fortress near Verdun. The corporal was attired in the French uniform. He displayed several medals which he had won, one a bronze affair, which he had been awarded for participating in a battle of eight days' duration. During that time his detachment was cut off from the regular body.

"Soldiers of the foreign legion are treated a little better than those of France," the corporal said. "For one thing, they give us bacon in the morning and the pay is a little better."

Patereau gave the Germans credit for having a remarkably well drilled army. "Their soldiers are bigger, but they aren't a bit better than the French."

"At Verdun we took back in three days all they had captured in three months," he said.

"How does it feel to be squirted with liquid fire?" he was asked. "It's just awful. Your clothes catch on fire before you can pull them off. We had orders not to help our own men when they were squirted with the liquid because sometimes the men that tried to help were burned as bad as those in the first case."

An Effective Laxative For Growing Children

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Highly Recommended as a Family Remedy

In children the slightest irregularity of the bowels has a tendency to disturb the entire digestive system, and unless promptly remedied invites serious illness. The experienced mother knows that by training her children to regularity in this respect, and when occasion arises administering a mild laxative, she will have little need for a doctor's services.

Mrs. Leo Weigand, 3251 Central Ave., N. S., Pittsburg, Pa., whose two boys, Frank and Joseph, are shown in the illustration, writes that she has found Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin a most effective laxative, not only for the children but also for herself, and that she will always keep it in the house to use when needed. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that acts easily and naturally, without griping or other pain or discomfort. It is pleasant to the taste so that children like it, and is equally effective on the strongest constitution.

Joseph Leo Weigand

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents, and should have a place in every home. It will save many times its cost in lessened doctor bills and maintain the health of the entire family. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure to get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 435 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.
